*Leaving old patterns behind,
we face college life with hope.
This is the exit into a new world.*

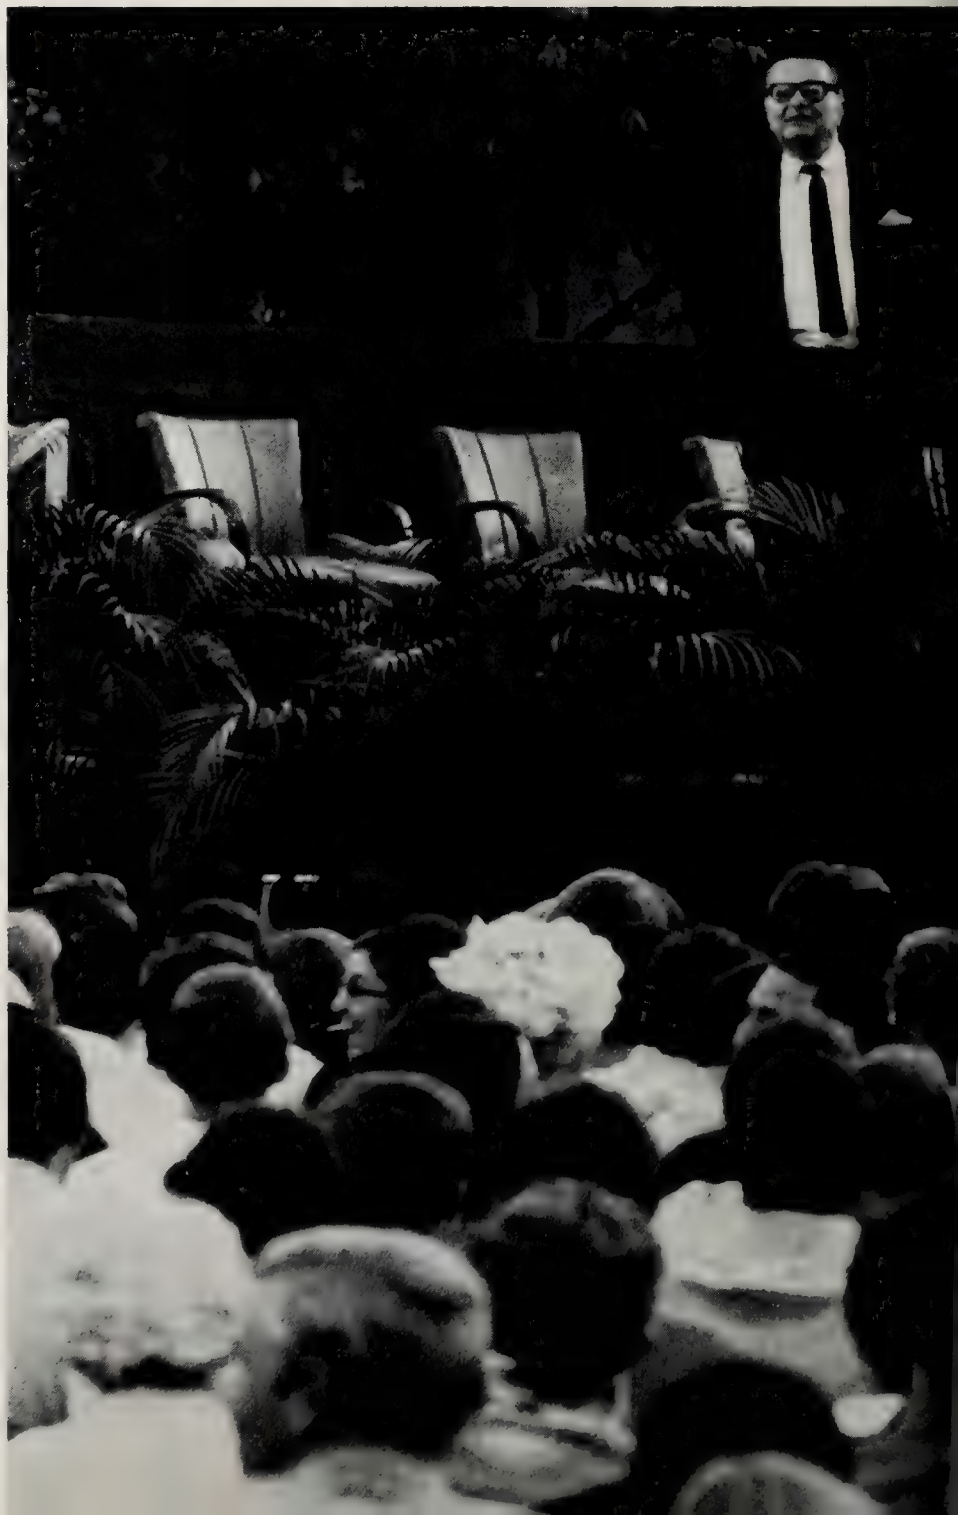

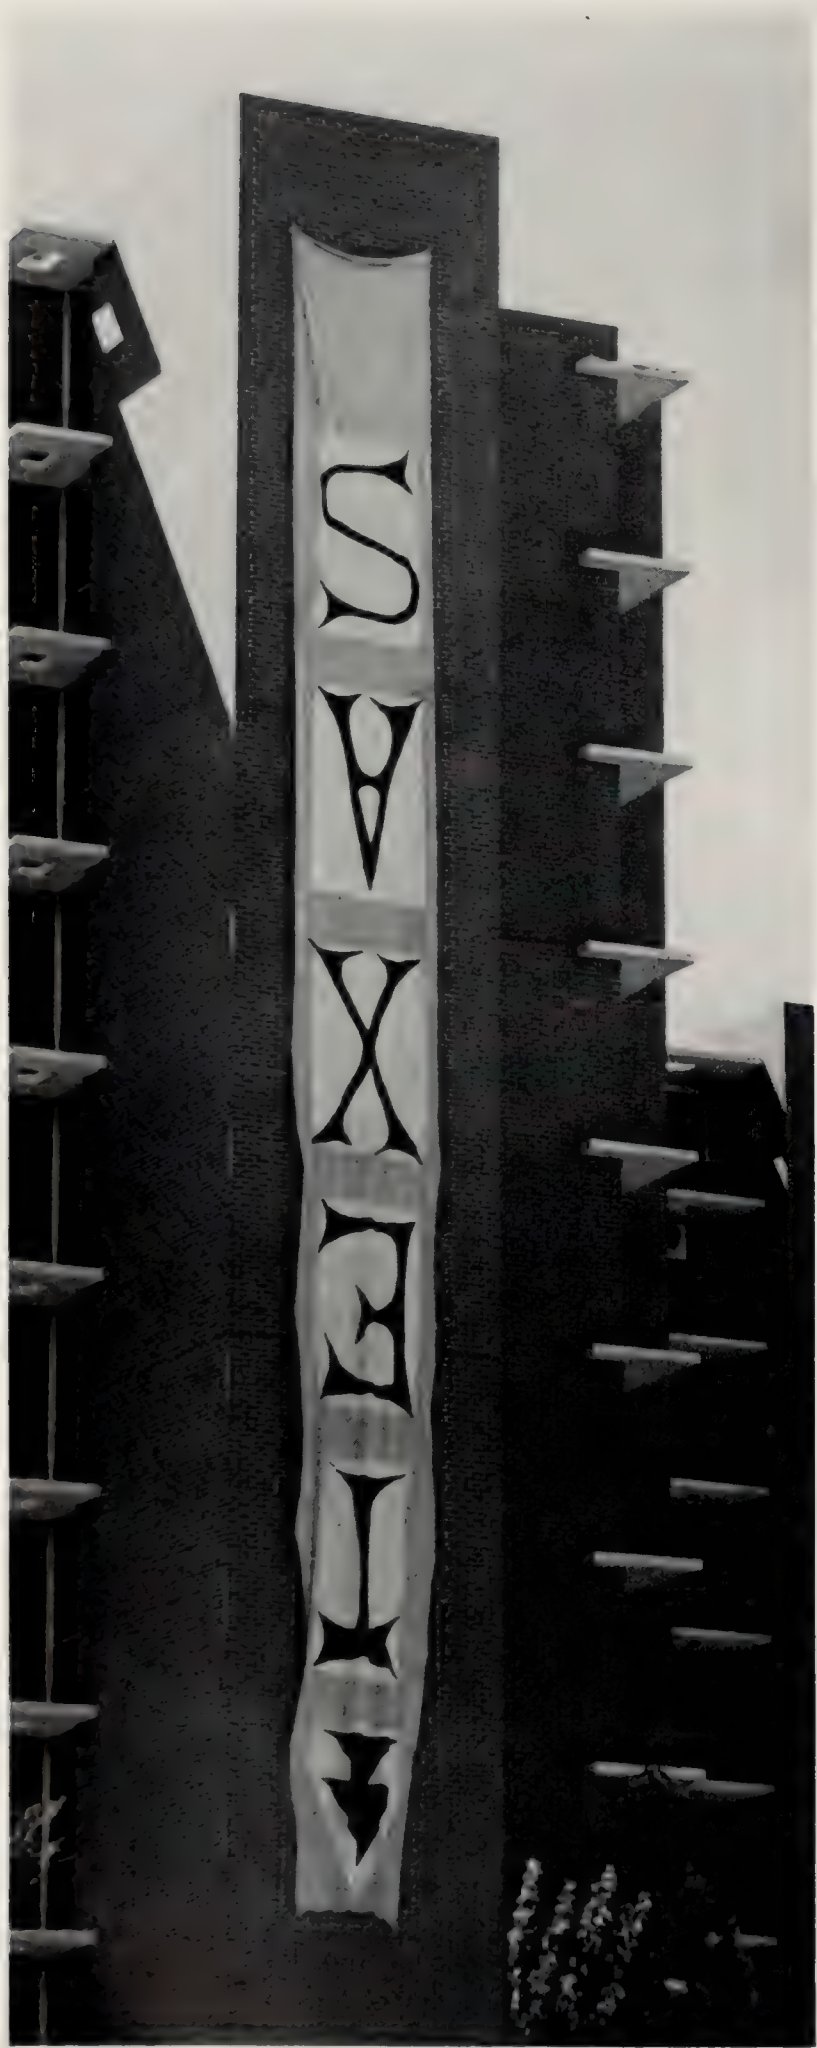

*We have come here to form a new identity, to see what is over there, out there.
In a moment of triumph, in a moment of searching,
we are moving toward involvement.*

*Why do anything?
Because man is not a finished creation
but tomorrow's possibility.*

*To find our own
among the many solutions offered to us,
we have to reach.*

*Inevitably we look beyond the surface to find new answers;
something is there to make us more than what we are.*

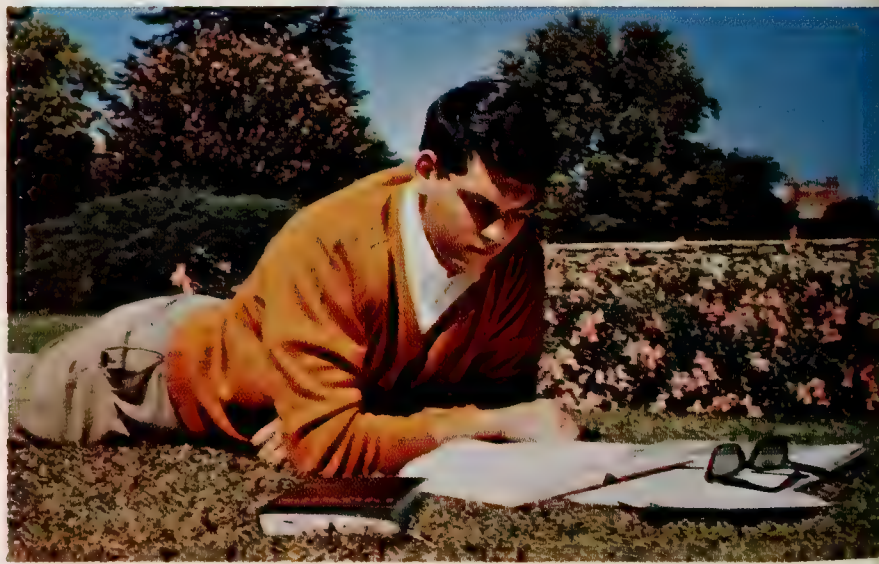

*Our individuality demands
we put our energetic discontent
into the living of each moment,
into the adventure of becoming.*

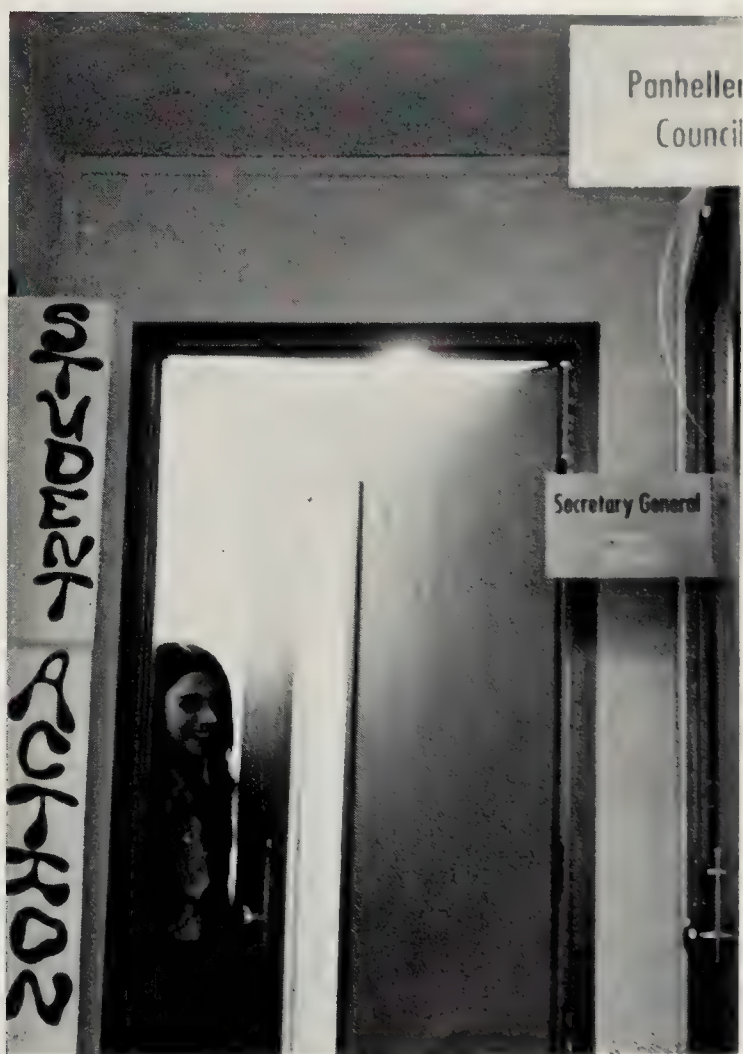

*Our individuality demands
we put our energetic discontent
into the living of each moment,
into the adventure of becoming.*

*Wherever we go looking to see what we can do,
the reward is satisfaction.*

Sometimes we find ourselves alone with private thoughts and bitten nails — sometimes we share.

But when one goal has been accomplished our pride is that we tried, our commitment was to care.

*Challenges arise,
are faced, are overcome;
we step toward better understanding of what we really are.*

*Inner peace is only for a moment —
we live by hating, loving, learning, fighting the detachment that freezes.*

All we're asked to do is give a little of ourselves to something that makes us breathe a little harder

*It only takes some effort
our dreams.*

*Conflict, peace,
youth and old age,
their meanings lie in man.*

To feel, to care, to give ourselves to one more experience that will help us grow — this is involvement

Administration & Services

*We're here to open books, to learn, to assimilate the old and new, to experience, to teach, to help,
And when we have company, it's easier to smile.*

Oklahoma's nineteenth chief executive, GOVERNOR DEWEY F. BARTLETT, is the state's second Republican governor.

Bartlett Pushes Pride In Sooner State

Governor Dewey Bartlett has initiated the program of bringing Oklahoma college graduates back to the state by providing them with jobs. His "OKIE" program, standing for "Oklahoma, Key to Intelligence and Enterprise," is designed to increase pride in the Sooner state by pointing out progress made in Oklahoma since 1907, the year of statehood.

A former state senator, Bartlett also has been active in civic work and the oil business.

Governor Dewey Bartlett, the true OKIE, looks contented as he watches the Sooners trample Colorado's Buffaloes 42-30.

State Regents Recommend Program

In 1965 the State Regents for Higher Education recommended to the legislature a ten-year program to satisfy the needs of higher education in a period from then to 1975. Money for the second phase of the program was allocated with a large portion of the $99 million going to OU and approximately $26 million going to the Medical Center for improvements.

A plan for the 1970's has been developed by the State Regents for the broadening of the junior college system, whereby junior colleges may send instructors to various Oklahoma communities to conduct classes for those who cannot be admitted to major colleges and universities. Vocational training in junior colleges is another goal included in this project. This plan's aim is stabilization of freshmen and sophomore enrollment so that greater emphasis may be placed on graduate level instruction.

Chancellor Dr. E. T. Dunlap and Dr. Dan Hobbs review a report on the role and scope of Oklahoma Higher Education for planning in the seventies.

University of Oklahoma Regents' meeting brings out John M. Houchin, Mrs. Barbara James, Horace Calvert, Reuben Sparks, Mrs. Frank L. Davies, Jr., Dr. J. Herbert Hollomon, Huston Huffman, Jack Santee, and Walter Neustadt, Jr.

OU Regents Approve of Changes

The University of Oklahoma Board of Regents is appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate for terms of seven years. The purpose is to supervise, manage, and control the University itself, and all of its integral parts.

With the approval of the State Board of Regents pending, the OU Regents have set up changes in degree and curriculum requirements, changes in fees, and a number of salary increases for the future. The OU Regents approved the new OU Student Government and Constitution which were evolved this year.

The realization of the Regents' long-range goals is apparent this year in the newly completed Physical Sciences Center, the Fine Arts Complex, and the Student Health Center. The Regents have also approved a Sports Complex, and a Student Recreational Center in the near future.

At a meeting Reuben Sparks, Horace Calvert, and Mrs. Frank L. Davies, Jr. discuss an important issue for the Board.

Hollomon Interested in Community

A facelifting for the University of Oklahoma was the basis of Dr. J. Herbert Hollomon's plans as he assumed the office of president in July, 1968.

One point that Hollomon hoped to accomplish was to set forth a plan that would insure the growth of the University Community. An example of this was the securing of the Postal Service Institute which carried a promise of bringing $50 million into the state, and the erection of $10 million worth of new buildings on the campus within the next ten years. Also he has established plans to re-organize administrative positions and policies at OU.

Hollomon has stressed the theme of involvement and has continued its stress as he stated in his remarks to OU's graduating class in June, 1969. "It is impossible to remain alive and be a part of society without becoming involved. Neither fear nor apathy should be allowed to stop an individual from involvement."

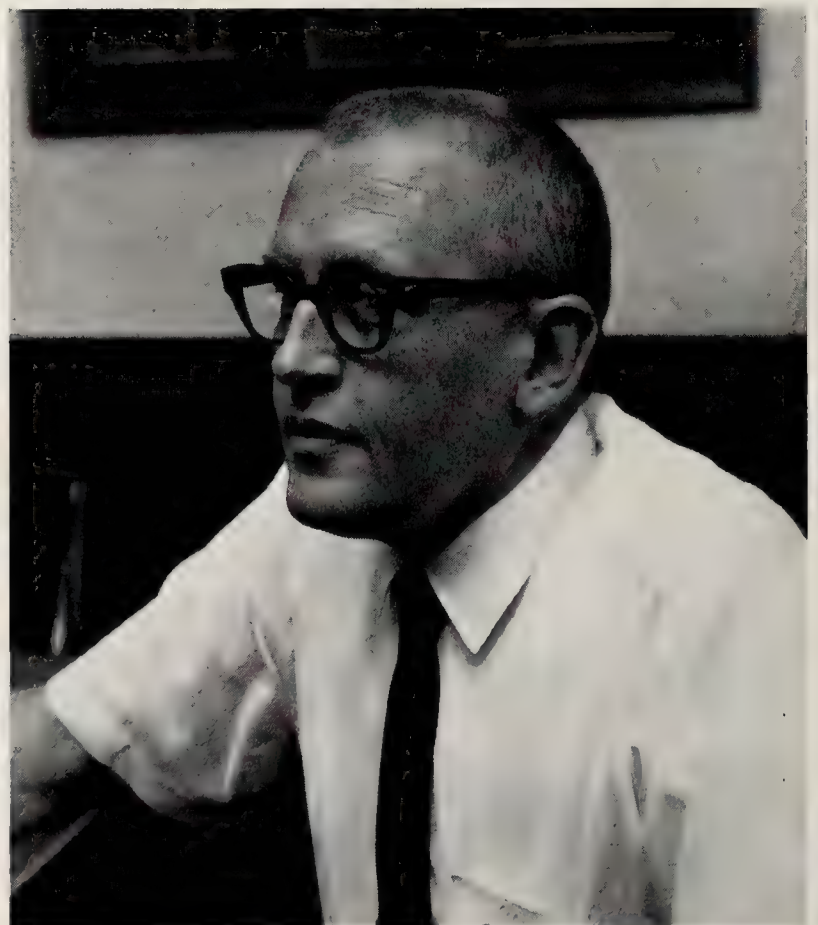

Dr. Pete Kyle McCarter, vice-president for academic affairs, is responsible for 12 colleges at OU.

As vice-president for finance and administration, Dr. Gene Nordby's chief interest lies with financial allocations and budget areas for the university.

Dr. Carl D. Riggs, vice-president for graduate studies, directs OU's graduate programs, which include study, seminars, and research by degree candidates.

Allocation of space and maintenance of physical operations for the university are among Vice-President Verne Kennedy's responsibilities.

Under the guidance of Dr. James L. Dennis, vice-president for Medical Center affairs, the center is expanding to meet modern health service demands.

Vice-Presidents Handle OU Affairs

Dr. Edward L. Katzenback, Jr., vice-president for research and public service is more than just an educator as previously he was an industrial and government executive.

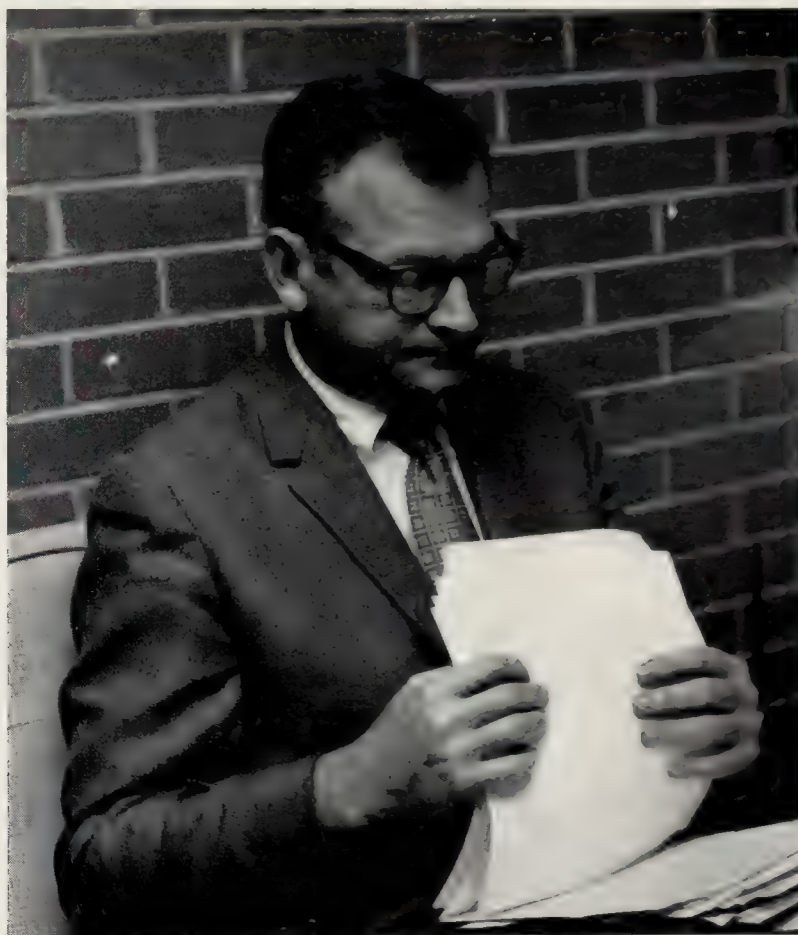

Because of his interest in students and their relationship with faculty and administrators, Vice-President David Burr directs the University Community office.

Dr. Thurman J. White, vice-president for university projects, administers new programs for OU, the university's Washington, D.C. office, and relations with major foundations.

Vice-President John O. Dean heads university relations by coordinating Oklahoma University's public information effort and the alumni relations program.

Nine vice-presidents aided President Hollomon in performing administrative functions.
The areas of involvement included university relations, graduate studies, finance and administration, academic affairs, medical affairs, and the University Community. University projects worked with major foundations and the federal government; research and public service promoted non-academic research, communication with business and industry, and university extension into world communities; and operations dealt with the university's physical maintenance.

Graduate College Expands Programs

To those who were a part of it, the Graduate College was the center of research and continued study on campus. The college functioned to give the student a better grasp of his chosen field, more skills in methods of research, and greater powers of independent thought. The atmosphere inspired by creativity and research also encouraged investigation and scholarly activity among its faculty.

This year five new doctoral programs were offered in the Graduate College, including the fields of photography, biological psychology, and computer science.

The program stressed that the graduate degree, whether it be a master's degree or a doctorate, is conferred not so much on the basis of credit hours but rather on personal attainment in a major field.

Vice-president for Graduate Studies Dr. Carl D. Riggs served as dean for the 1969-1970 semester year. The Graduate College increased in enrollment as higher education became more important in the world.

Dr. Carl D. Riggs directs Oklahoma University's graduate programs as dean, directing independent study, group seminars, and the research done by degree candidates.

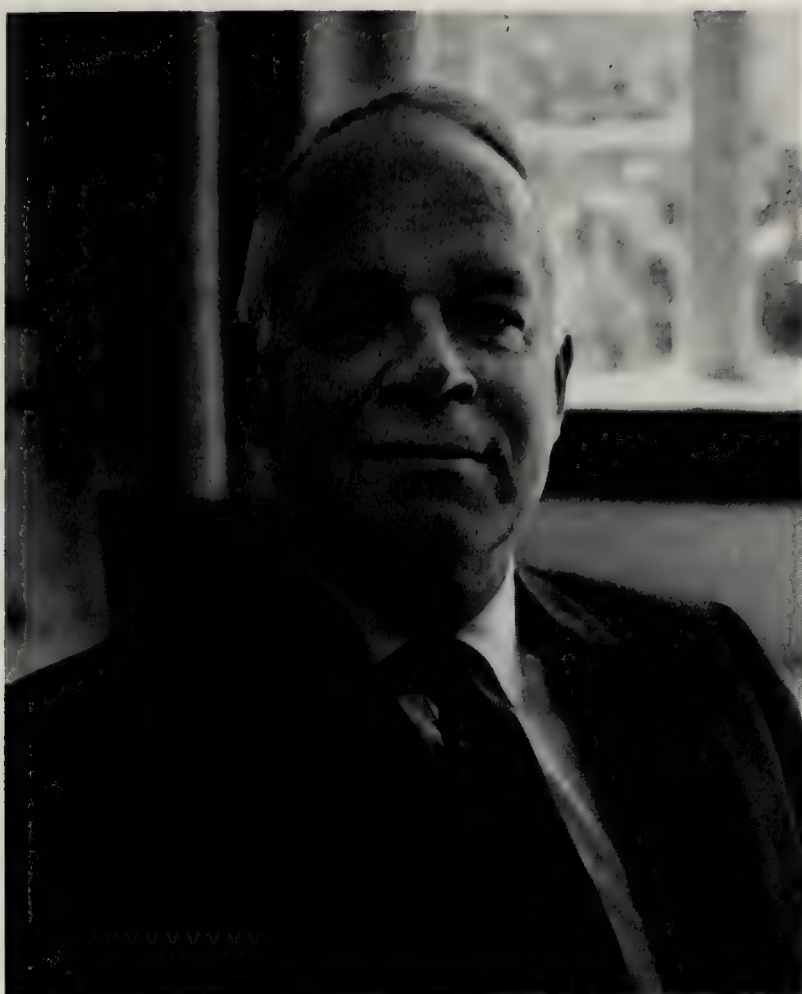

Working with the electron microscope Bill Chissol, graduate student in botany studies, monitors an experiment for a group of underclassmen.

In the computer laboratory William R. Cornette, graduate student, checks data and marvels at the modernization of the computer process.

Dr. John E. Ezell, dean of Arts and Sciences, directs the largest college enrollment on campus.

Arts, Sciences: Largest College

The College of Arts and Sciences maintained the largest college enrollment on campus again this year, with over 3400 sophomore, junior, and senior majors.

Three new programs were planned by the college and will begin activity in the fall of 1970. A program has been established in ethical and religious studies, another in European studies, and a third university-wide honors program. A fourth program was in the discussion stage this year. This study, if established, would involve American Indian culture.

This year's student and faculty advisory council for the college reviewed arts and sciences graduation requirements and discussed a proposal to extend the pass-fail option to arts and sciences language and humanity requirements.

The College of Arts and Sciences has an executive committee with three students as full voting members. This group functions as a policy recommending committee to the college and to its dean, Dr. John Ezell.

Interested in contemporary trends, Phyllis Adatto, fashion design major, pauses to make notations from the display in the hall of the Home Economics building.

After rock specimens are brought in from field trips, freshman Bob Wilson can supplement his knowledge in the geology lab by having time to examine them thoroughly.

Dr. Horace Brown, dean of the University's College of Business, contends the college has the largest faculty and student enrollment in its history.

Junior Guy Berry, majoring in business administration, learns how to operate an electronic calculating machine that has the ability to store answers and combine calculations.

Business College Approves Changes

The College of Business Administration began the fall semester of 1969-1970 with the largest faculty and the largest student enrollment in its history.

Changes were made this year in the undergraduate program. The faculty approved the elimination of college credit for all remedial mathematics courses that are presently requirements for the degree.

In addition, two three-hour courses were added to the curriculum, and the faculty approved a plan whereby students are permitted twelve hours of free elective courses taken under the pass-fail option.

The college's visiting committee was new on campus this year. It was composed of prominent business and civic leaders in the area of the university. The members were appointed by university President Hollomon and made responsible for reporting on and giving counsel and advice to the college, faculty, and the administration. Dr. Horace Brown served as executive secretary to this committee.

Mrs. Irene Donham, office manager for the budget office, is presented an award by President Hollomon acclaiming her "Outstanding Businesswoman" after thirty years of service.

Education College Develops CUTE

Dean for the College of Education, Dr. Robert E. Ohm, continues the program of providing prospective teachers with actual classroom experience.

The College of Education, continuing its program of providing prospective teachers with classroom experience, developed the Co-operative Urban Teacher Education Program. CUTE, initiated in the spring semester of 1969, provided student teachers with an opportunity to teach for one semester in Oklahoma City public schools. Combined with students from eight other participating Oklahoma colleges, this program furnished practical experience for students and credit toward a master's degree in education. It also fulfilled the need for teachers in Oklahoma City schools. Dr. Gene Shepherd was director of the program, while Dr. Morris Lamb was supervisor over the students. Dr. Lamb counseled students on any problems that arose during their tenure as teachers.

CUTE was aided by the Teacher Corps Program which established two-year apprenticeships for student teachers in five Oklahoma City junior high schools. It was sponsored by the Student Teachers Association.

Kathy Harms enjoys her part in the CUTE program as she provides individual instruction to two little girls at Lincoln Elementary School, Norman.

Engineering Alternates Work, Study

The College of Engineering offered a cooperative work study program which combined a sequence of academic study and engineering employment periods in government or industry. The student received compensation during the work periods which substantially assisted in financing his college education.

Each semester the college offered a number of late afternoon and evening courses for the benefit of graduate engineers employed in industry. This program provided an opportunity for engineers employed in Oklahoma City and surrounding areas to undertake graduate study leading to a master's degree or to take particular courses in a program of continuing education for updating or upgrading their technical skills.

In recent years the college has been a major contributor to the philosophy of modern engineering education. It was the first college to use the "care" type engineering curricula now prevalent throughout the country.

Dr. Gene Nordby, dean for the College of Engineering, manages Engineering College policy, teaches several courses and extends educational opportunities beyond campus.

Linn Hogue, Lawton sophomore, uses one of the educational aids available to engineering students to help them through a study session.

F. F. Leopold and Dr. Jerry Purswell, professors of industrial engineering, discuss activities for the annual Engineers' Open House.

Fine Arts Dean Donald Clark, Oklahoma University's cultural entrepreneur, initiates a new seminar to the curriculum this year.

Although Dean Clark is a professor of drama his interest lies in all areas of the cultural arts whether it be a rehearsal or a final performance for an audience.

Fine Arts College Initiates Seminar

The College of Fine Arts consisted of the School of Art, the School of Drama, and the School of Music. This year the college added an arts management seminar to its fall curriculum. The seminar was initiated by F. Donald Clark, dean of fine arts, in cooperation with the directors of the art, drama, and music schools, and also with the Museum of Art. This course offered instruction in the techniques and aspects of symphony management, concert management, theatre management, fund-raising, public relations, and personal selection for art committees.

Speakers addressing the seminar were Fannie Taylor, Wisconsin University; Thomas A. Fichandler, director of the Arena Stage, Washington, D.C.; Fred Moyer, manager of the Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra; and John Ardoin, music critic for the Dallas Morning News.

This year the college suffered the loss by death of Dr. Turner Edge, associate professor of drama, and C. M. Stookey, director of the School of Music.

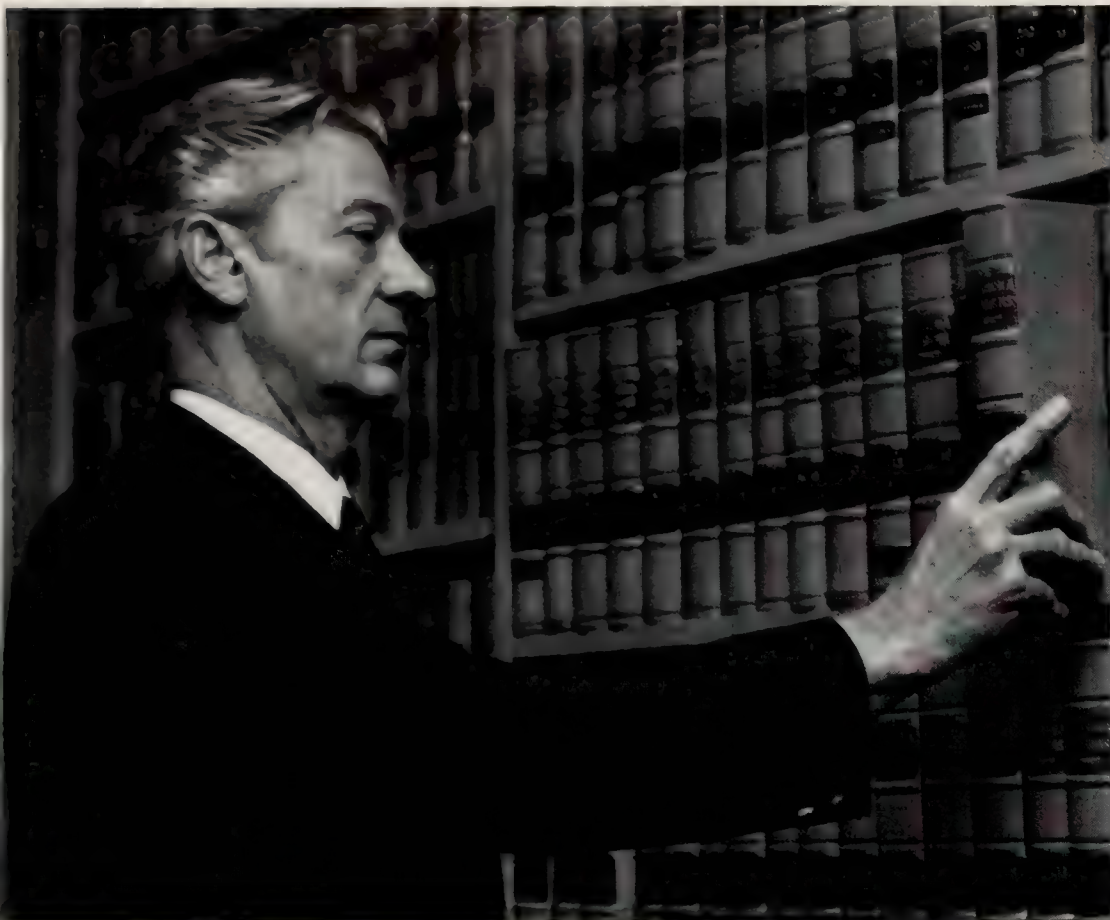

Joseph Walls, drama major, is seen as High Priest of the Incas in the theatre's production "The Royal Hunt of the Sun".

Law College Dean Eugene Kuntz, a professor specializing in oil and gas law, believes strongly in a broad legal internship program for third year law students.

Law School Offers Internship Program

The University of Oklahoma School of Law, directed by Acting Dean Eugene Kuntz, was known throughout the United States for offering the broadest legal internship program in the country. Under this internship, the student spent his third year of law school as a legal intern. He was allowed to represent a client in a civil case without a consulting attorney, and he was permitted to draw a fee up to $2500 for the case.

Also under this program the classwork involved work with a private law firm or with some legal aid program.

This internship was enthusiastically supported by the Supreme Court of Oklahoma. It was not a required program for law students, although this year's enrollment included twenty-eight students from the school.

Proposals developed for a Law Center which would offer advanced professional training in law to Oklahoma attorneys desiring to improve their qualifications.

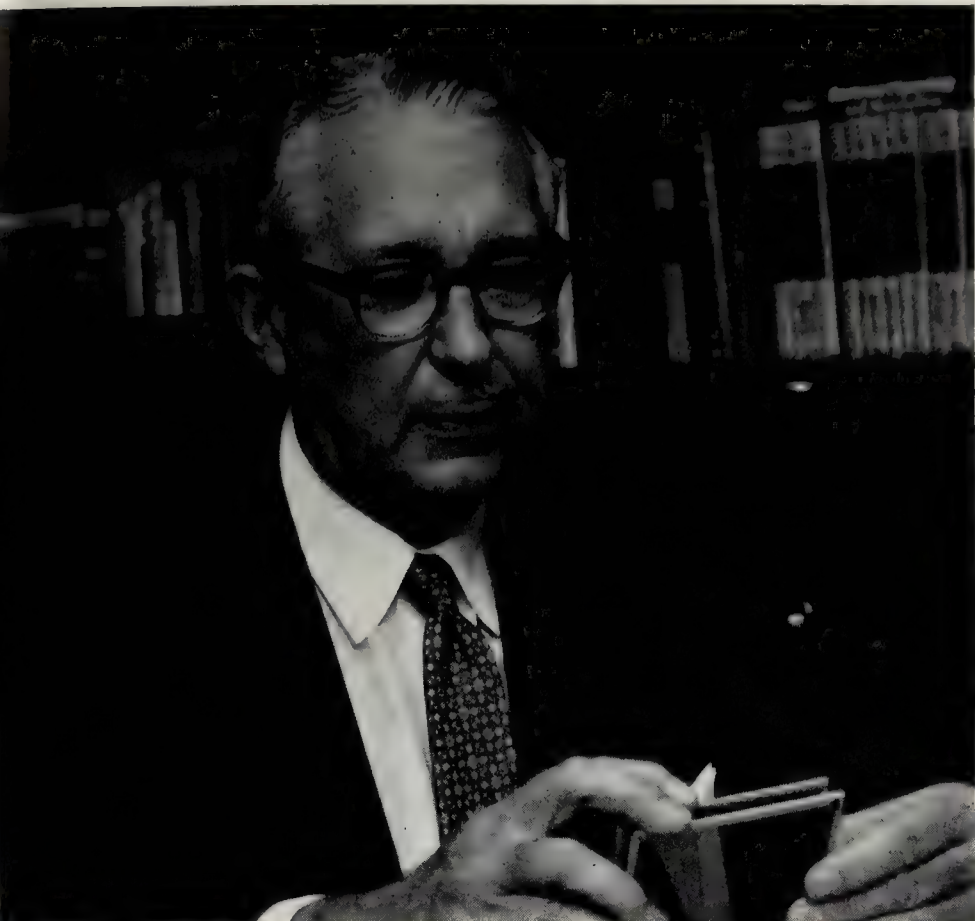

At a mock trial in the law barn, an annual event for law students, the defendant is accorded the right of trial by a jury of his peers, who now ponder upon his fate.

Medical School Expands, Improves

Dr. James L. Dennis, head of the OU College of Medicine, has five professional schools under his direction as well as other medical divisions of the Graduate College.

There was an increase in the enrollment of medical students this year and in the construction of key projects in the Oklahoma Health Center Master Plan.

The new $4 million basic science education building opened in January. Construction of the first 200-bed unit of a new University Hospital was begun in the summer and scheduled for occupancy in 1972. The project is expected to cost $11,959,000.

Expansion and improvement of physical facilities made it possible to increase the size of this year's class entering medical school from 104 to 126 students.

The health campus included five professional schools of medicine, health, nursing, dentistry, and health related professions, the latter two in the developmental process. Existing in addition to these five schools were the medical sciences division of the OU Graduate College, the University Hospital, clinics, and related institutions.

Dean Helen Patterson, head of Nursing School, coordinates the program between the Norman campus and the Medical Center in Oklahoma City.

Student nurses learn the importance of correct procedure with the intravenous bottle while studying at OU's University Hospital.

Pharmacy Begins Hospital Training

This year the School of Pharmacy instigated a new graduate program for clinical pharmacy students. Those students involved in the program traveled to Oklahoma City to receive training in a hospital setting.

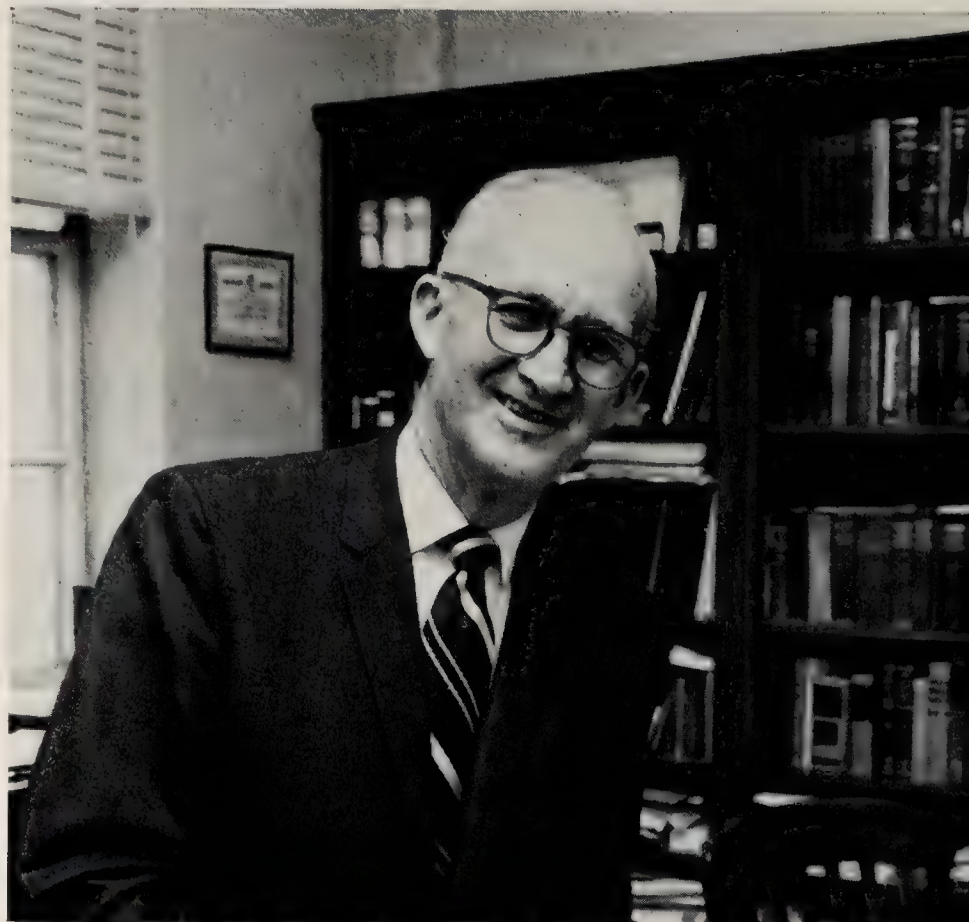

Another new program this year was health terms, where the senior pharmacy student trained at the University Hospital Health Center, UMRF, and VA Hospital.

The graduate program in pharmacy offered an MS in hospital pharmacy, pharmacy administration, and pharmacognosy.

Most graduates of pharmacy began professional work in community pharmacies, and eight percent began work in hospital pharmacies. Five percent of the graduates began work in manufacturing and four percent in education.

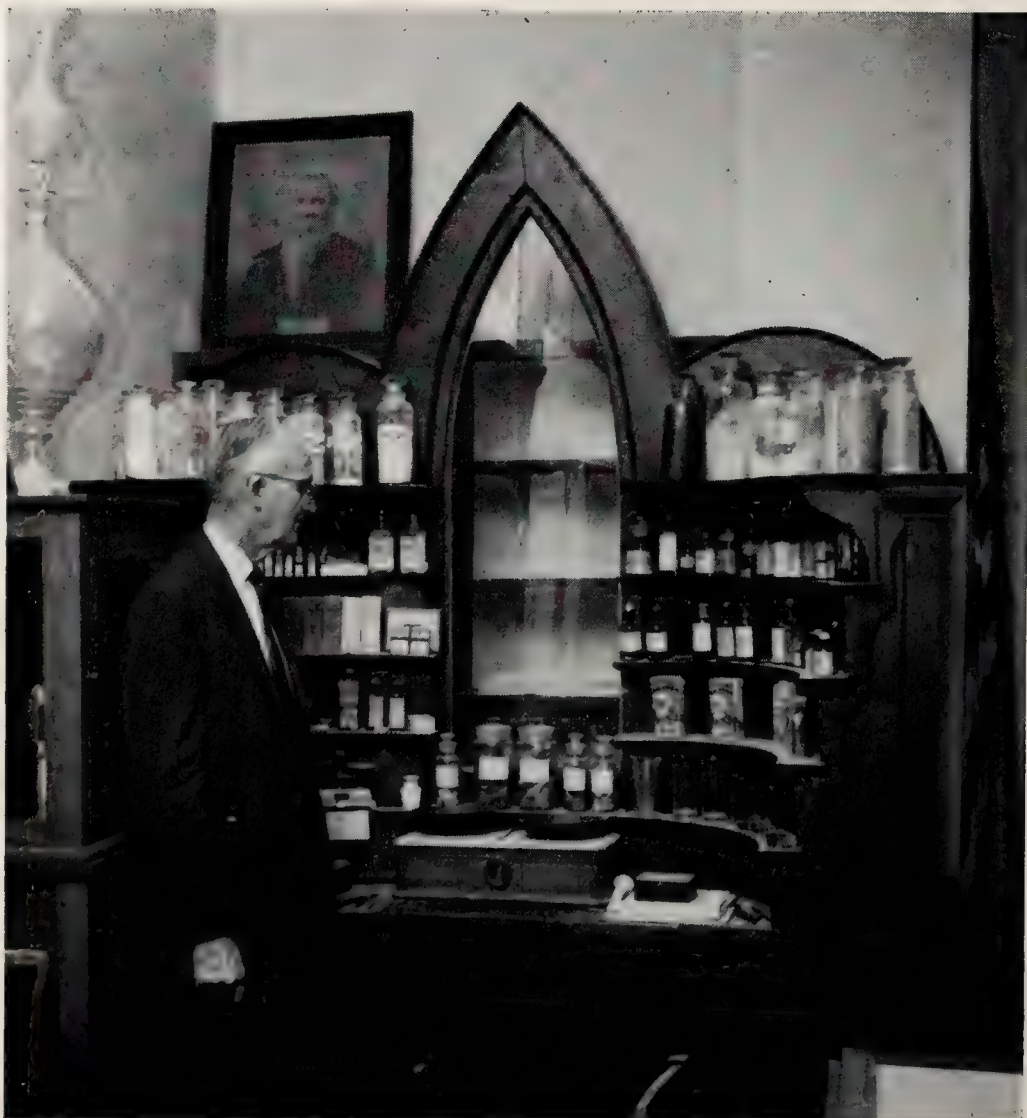

Pharmacy students found an increasing demand for their education with one billion prescriptions filled last year and an expected two billion per year by 1975.

Dr. Loyd E. Harris, dean of the College of Pharmacy, heads a new graduate program for clinical pharmacy students so that experience can be gained in an actual hospital setting.

Dr. Blanche Sommers, professor of pharmacy, explains the importance of some of the equipment used in one of the laboratories to Don Frazier, Blackwell senior.

As dean of the College of Pharmacy, Dr. Harris shows an active interest in students but still has proud memories of the school's "Museum of Yesteryears".

Rushing down the steps in Dale Hall between classes is Diane Foor, Norman freshman, a typical student enrolled in University College.

University College Advises Students

The University College, led by Dr. John R. Morris, dean, and Dr. Jerome Weber, assistant dean, started a new program working more closely with resident advisors in the dorms. This was an attempt to bring the academic program closer to the residential program by utilizing academic advisors living in university housing.

The University College, in its University Scholars Program, selected academically talented high school seniors for scholarships. To help all high school students adjust to university life, Project Threshold was created in the summer of 1968.

All freshmen and other students enrolled in the University College and who completed 26 hours with a "C" grade average were permitted to transfer to the college of their choice.

University College was one of the largest enrollments on campus. A staff of advisors in various fields of interest worked through the college. Students in the college took preparatory courses required of students in all fields.

Dr. John R. Morris heads a college with one of the largest enrollments on campus—University College, whose aim is to eventually guide a student into the school of his choice.

New Assistant dean of University College, Jerome C. Weber, acts in the capacity of counselor, helping and directing new students with their schedules.

OCCE Offers Seminars, Degrees

The College of Continuing Education, established in 1961, continued to grow as it provided adult students the opportunity to pursue Bachelor of Liberal Studies and Master of Liberal Studies degrees in innovative programs which differed from the structure of the typical college classroom.

The Bachelor of Liberal Studies degree was awarded after extensive independent study, residential seminars, and individual advisement by university faculty members. 1500 students were enrolled in the program this year, and 175 students have graduated. The BLS degree program included study in the areas of humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences.

The Master of Liberal Studies degree was one of several masters' degrees offered by the Graduate College. The MLS student concentrated his study in one of the three areas of knowledge. This program also combined independent directed reading with residential seminars. In addition, a master's thesis was required.

A ten-member executive committee, chaired by Dr. J. Clayton Feaver, David Ross Boyd professor of philosophy, was elected by the 100 member faculty of the College of Continuing Education. The committee developed policies and directed programs of the college. Dr. Roy Troutt, assistant dean of the college, was responsible for the administration of the college, which included the Department of Liberal Studies, the Department of Health Studies, the Southwest Center for Human Relations Studies, the Southwest Center for Gerontological Studies, and the Oklahoma Family Life Institute.

As part of the Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education (OCCE), the College of Continuing Education sponsored programs that were both educational and service-oriented. Among them, health studies scheduled short courses and conferences for doctors, nurses, pharmacists, nursing home administrators, and others in the professional health field. The human relations center, including the Center for School Desegregation and the Indian Education Unit, aimed to promote better human relations among all ethnic groups and races.

Dr. Joseph C. Pray, professor of political science at OU, intently watches the activity at a demonstration for higher education at the State Capitol building in Oklahoma City.

Faculty Features Honor Professors

Six outstanding members of the university faculty were chosen this year, not by nomination or by committee selection, but because of their innovative contributions to education, administration, or community service. The men selected have personified the meaning of involvement and have, each in his own way, worked toward self-fulfillment.

These influential professors represent the different academic departments of art, professional writing, political science, zoology, classics, and architecture. Their contributions, however, are not limited to the academic. The respect they have earned from those who have come in contact with them has been achieved in a spectrum broader than that of the university.

Faculty and students gathered in October on South Oval to protest the Vietnam war on the nation-wide moratorium day.

A vision, a direction to go.
A man with the courage to take us there.
The dream, to change the ghetto of the university
into the palace of our minds and the poverty of our living into the well-spring of our Selves.*

Professors Emphasize Involvement

"Providing students of today with an understanding of their visual environment, stressing appreciation, and the resulting value judgment as to their visual world, rightly belongs within the framework of our leading educational institutions. If we know our environment visually, we have a better chance of protecting it, improving it, and most of all, fully enjoying its richness. In a society such as ours today, the chaos and complexity tends to confuse even the most rational; but if visual order can be improved, this is one more step toward man's fuller participation as a complete individual."

JOE F. HOBBS
Director of the School of Art

"When you come to read this, say 33 years from now, when you look at your pictures it will probably come to you, gosh, things have changed! And not for the better, either. So here's where a bit of ageless wisdom may prove a comfort.

'The more things seem to change the more they're the same old thing.' Look again. You surely will like one side or the other."

WILLIAM FOSTER HARRIS
Professor of Professional Writing

"Each day I awaken I am involved in a world of infinite despair and hope. The campus becomes a partial surcease from the one and a trysting place for the other. Here my mistress becomes knowledge, my 'joie de vivre' great ideas, my fellow a sufferer, and seekers my earnest students. Here I renew the faith of Socrates and Jonas Salk, that by patient inquiry we may change our world from barbarism to civilization, disease to health, ignorance to wisdom, and law to justice."

JOHN PAUL DUNCAN
David Ross Boyd Professor of Political Science

"Graduates of the 70's are faced with 'a world I never made,' but so were we of earlier generations. Today, however, perhaps a larger fraction perceive intolerable flaws in the civilization into which they have been thrust: the utter insanity of war, racism, poverty, competitive mercantilism and the institutionalized chicanery of much moral pretension.

But awareness is not enough. If the perceived evils are to be effectively combatted, and the almost certain doom they presage forestalled, the new generation will have to attack on an unprecedented scale, with clear appreciation of the problems and their cultural roots, critical imagination and altruistic courage, all in a degree possessed by only a scattering of their forebears."

PAUL R. DAVID
Professor of Zoology

"Scholarly activity has traditionally been associated with academic hermits. The strongest forces at work on the academic environment today emphasize cooperation and involvement. Small wonder that academia is in turmoil. . . . Involvement has become the key to education. There are excuses for failure and reasons for success. Students are demanding explanations on both accounts. Most people have to suffer to learn . . . Your own mistakes and the example of those who have bettered you become humiliating—so you learn."

H. MICHAEL DUNN
Assistant Professor of Classics

"Teaching is building—a search away from apathy to an awareness of environmental potential. Our existing surroundings represent less than ten percent of the potential—there is a fantastic future for the young architect in the post pollution period. As we discover difficulty in seeing and breathing, we will become more aware of our surroundings and do something about them. 'String City,' my pet project, represents twelve years of study in form and space and the past two and a half years of research in the inner city. Born of 'structured need' and the new attitude of self awareness, 'String City' will only be realized when this 'self' attitude grows to 'responsive awareness,' producing a new positive education of extension, not denial!"

Advisory Councils Aid Administration

Student Advisory Councils were created by President Cross in November, 1966, and serve in a unique capacity in the administration of the university.

This year advisory council members acted as student advisors to various university officials. The councils included academic affairs, operations, the University Community, graduate studies, arts and sciences, business, engineering, fine arts, pharmacy, and the University College. Students also served on a special advisory council to the president.

Students were appointed to serve on the councils for the term of a year. The University of Oklahoma Student Association selected the various councils' members in the fall.

Assistants Create Three New Offices

Three new offices under the direction of David A. Burr, vice-president of the University Community, were created this year. Anona Adair headed the Office of Student Activities, Dr. Stephen Sutherland headed the Office of Residential Programs, and James F. Paschal headed the Office of Special Programs. Jack Stout and Harold Andrews served as special assistants to Mr. Burr.

The three new offices became part of the student activities complex. Coordinating student programs and making these operations more effective were the planned goals of the newly created divisions.

New programs initiated this year were the Junior Transfer Leader Class, for junior college transfers, and the graduate resident and assistant resident advisor positions which replaced the previous position of dorm counselor.

David Burr, vice-president for the University Community, is interested in students and their successful relationship with the faculty members and administrators.

Harold Andrews and Jack Stout assume the roles of assistants to Vice-President David Burr for the University Community.

Director of International Student Affairs, Turner Blount, liaison for foreign students, encourages them to participate in the University community.

Anona Adair, director of Student Activities is kept busy on phone and in meetings as sponsor of most university activities while working in conjunction with the Student Board and Council.

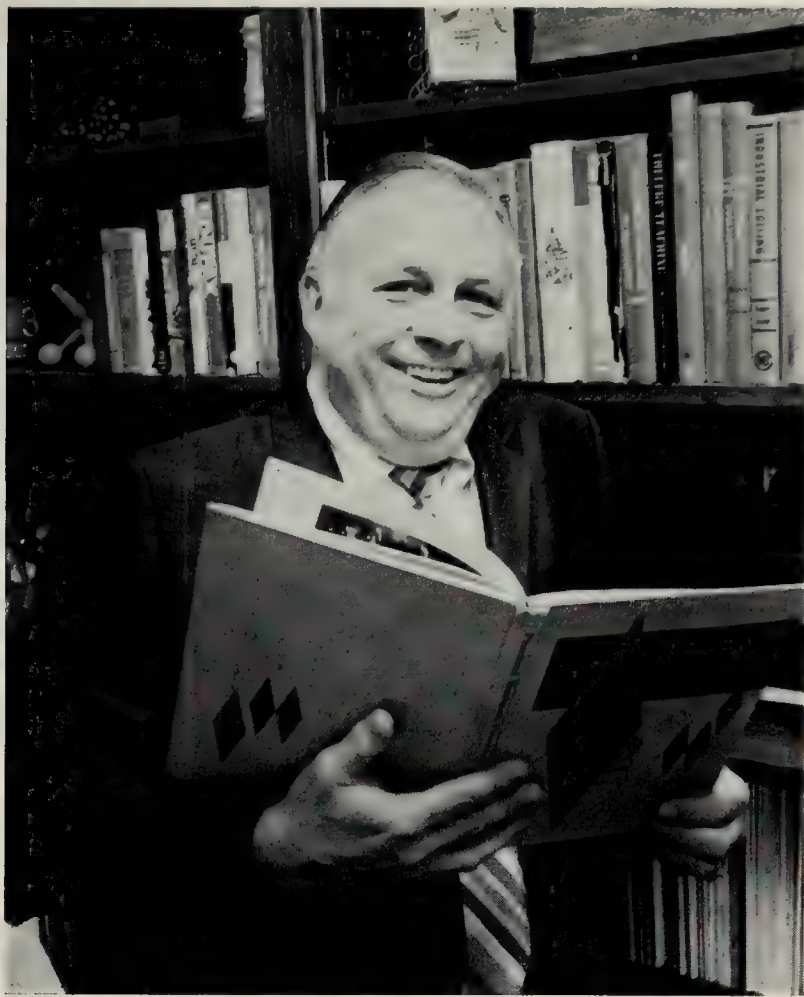

Elton G. Davis, director of financial aids, is always ready to discuss problems and cooperate with students who seek his counsel.

Community Staff Oversees Program

Vice-President David A. Burr was chief administrator of the University Community, whose departments sponsored or coordinated many of the non-academic programs of the university.

Mr. Burr's staff included Jack Stout and Harold Andrews, assistants. The directors were Anona Adair, Student Activities; Turner Blount, International Student Affairs; Elton Davis, Financial Aids; and Erma Keeley, Sooner City Nursery and Kindergarten.

Other staff members were James Paschal, Special Programs; Dr. Stephen Sutherland, Residential Programs; Dr. Donald Robinson, Student Health; Dr. Robert Ragland, University Counseling Center; Dr. Dorothy Truex, Research Director; Cecil Brite, general manager of student publications, and Gomer Jones, director of athletics.

James F. Paschal, director of special programs for the University Community, is also an instructor in the journalism school.

As director of Residential Programs Dr. Stephen Sutherland advises students and helps them with their study and tutoring programs.

Student Health Services are under the operation and coordination of Dr. Donald Robinson who administers to health needs on campus.

Dr. Robert Ragland, director of Counseling Services, is responsible for the education, vocational and personal counseling for persons associated with OU.

Dr. Stephen Sutherland, director of residential programs and associate professor of geography, aids center directors in housing units with their problems and programs.

Residential Office Manages Centers

This year the Office of Residential Programs was created in the University Community with Stephen M. Sutherland as director and Edward L. Myles assistant. The Office of Residential Programs assumed many of the activities and functions of the former Office of Deans of Students, abolished September 1, 1969.

The seven assistant directors under the new program were Jerry Burlingame, Adams Center; Myrna Carney, Cate Center; Don Blasi, Cross Center; Wilbur Walker, Walker Tower; M. L. Brownsberger, Wilson Center; Mike Mullally, Center for Fraternities; and Judy Smith, Center for Sororities. Under each assistant director were graduate resident advisors and resident advisors, whose functions were similar to those of the former dorm counselors.

The residents of each center chose either self-government or administrative discipline. Free tutoring programs were also available.

Admissions Office Promotes Efficiency

The Office of Admissions and Records, located on the first floor of the Administration Building, employed a new system for greater efficiency and dependability. The Student Information System used computers to code and to process student applications for admission as well as student records. The admissions assistants coded the tentative students' cards according to ACT scores, SAT scores, class rank, whether they were junior or senior college transfers, and other pertinent information. The new system also provided greater ease in reporting statistics for a given semester.

Dr. William Price served as dean of admissions, Ruth Arnold was director, Robert Bailey was registrar, and the receptionist was Sherry Harvard.

Students seeking information concerning admissions and records talk with Mrs. June Yates or Marilyn Davidson in Evans Hall.

Edward Shaw, director of the University Press which has earned an international publishing reputation, reports 50 new titles this year with as many reprints and editions.

OU Press Operations Print, Publish, Sell

The University of Oklahoma Press, in operation since 1928, continued its yearly publication of approximately 40-50 new titles and an equal amount of reprints or new editions. Edward Shaw directed the press and its three units of operation: printing, supervised by Charles Garver, publishing, and selling, managed by Fred Seals. Mary Stith served as editor.

The press printed all university bulletins and catalogues, Books Abroad, the Oklahoma Law Review, and the Sooner Magazine. It also printed most of the university's letterheads and department forms.

Four series of books are published by the press. Included in the Western Frontier Library series is the only fiction published by the press, the Novels of the West Books. President Hollomon's The Future of the University and two other books receiving national attention were also products of the OU Press.

Donors' Gifts, Grants Add to Bizzell Library

Gifts and grants from 239 donors added more volumes to the University of Oklahoma's Bizzell Memorial Library. Along with approximately 1,234,000 volumes, the library contains 8,900 periodicals.

Under the direction of Dr. Arthur McAnally and Associate Director Melville R. Spence, the library added 55,900 volumes last year. The library also offers 150,000 volumes of microtext for use.

Special collections continued to bring recognition to the Bizzell Library. Among these collections was the Edward Everett Dale Library, containing 1,235 volumes covering the history of the West, Southwest, Oklahoma Territory, the Great Plains, and the Indians. The largest of the special collections, the Western History Collection, has 125,000 volumes.

Bizzell Memorial Library also operated twelve branch libraries in and around Norman.

Director of libraries, Dr. Arthur McAnally administers Bizzell Library services and also is professor of library science.

Army ROTC, in its 51st year on campus, is directed by Col. Leroy C. Land, also professor of military science.

Professor of aerospace studies Col. Theodore M. Raley commands the United States Air Force ROTC program on campus.

Full Scholarships Honor ROTC Men

Military balls and scholarships were among the activities of the men enrolled in the three Reserved Officers Training Corps programs this past year.

Navy ROTC presented approximately 40 scholarships to high school seniors and sent midshipmen to the Mediterranean, to Europe, and to Hawaii on summer training cruises. Navy ROTC men also participated in the Navy Ball and Christmas formal. In March, they selected their batallion commander.

Air Force ROTC highlighted its year by receiving the outstanding ROTC unit award in November. Air Force ROTC commissioned 54 second lieutenants this year and awarded 48 full scholarships to deserving cadets.

Army ROTC commissioned a total of 150 cadets as second lieutenants in January, June, and August. Thirty-nine cadets received full tuition scholarships.

Capt. William L. McGonagle serves as Navy ROTC commanding officer at OU and is professor of naval science.

Journalism Press Installs New Units

The Journalism Press, which prints The Oklahoma Daily student newspaper, expanded its equipment with the installment of two off-set gloss units. The two units, their cost estimated at nearly $165,000, were paid for completely by advertising revenue.

The two offset gloss units supplemented a three-year-old Goss Suburban offset press, increasing the Daily's size to 48 tabloid pages with a four-color process on 16 pages.

The press, which is now capable of printing 16,000 copies per hour, arrived in May, 1969. The new units began actual printing the following September.

The Journalism Press employed a student staff of 20 on a part-time and full-time basis. W. C. Vanderwerth, in his 25th year at OU, served as mechanical superintendent and coordinator of the press.

Union Plans New Service Facilities

The Oklahoma Memorial Union, center of campus activity, provided a wide variety of services and recreational facilities for students, faculty members, alumni, and persons outside the university.

The Union's new third floor game room was the first completion in plans for the Union. Under construction are a restaurant, gift store, and vending shops—services to be opened soon in the south wing of the main floor. Lounges with stereo music, games, magazines, and color television are also being installed.

Food services included Will Rogers Cafeteria, the Terrace Room, the Ming Room, and numerous private dining rooms. Fourteen conference rooms and Meacham Auditorium, which seats 530 persons, have accommodated thousands of groups. Other facilities were newsstands, lockers, a barber shop, beauty salon, and bankette for check cashing.

New Chairman Directs Pub Board

The nine-member Publications Board, composed of five students and four faculty members, served as director and publisher for all student publications. Dr. Bob J. Carrell, this year's new director of the School of Journalism, served as chairman of the board. Non-voting members of the board were C. H. Brite, general manager of student publications, and Mrs. Louise Moore, editorial supervisor of student publications. The nine voting members represented the School of Journalism, the Oklahoma Daily, the SOONER Yearbook, the student body, the faculty, and the president's office.

The duties of the board included selection of editors for the Daily and SOONER, approval of financial matters, and overseeing the printing of a student directory for summer school students and a summer special supplement which is mailed to all incoming freshmen and transfer students. The Publications Board also sets policies for the student administration of the publications.

Steve Glasser, Enid senior on the Publications Board, gives students' opinions during talks with Dr. Bob Carrell, director of School of Journalism, chairman of Publications Board.

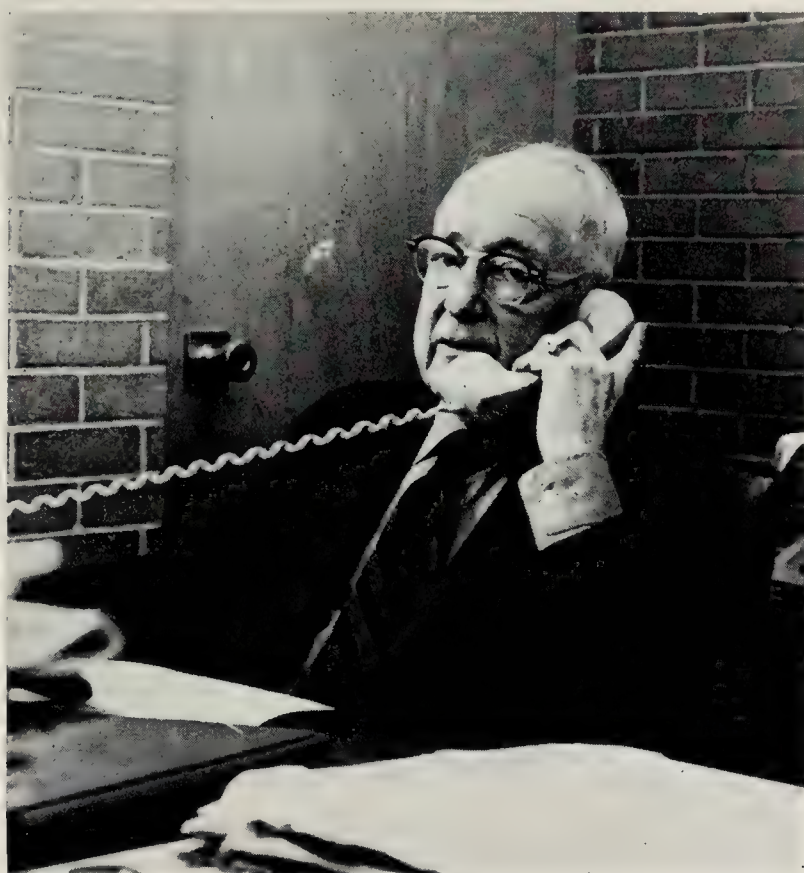

James Swain, director of public information at Oklahoma University, represents President Hollomon on Publications Board.

Now on sabbatical, Dr. Thomas M. Smith, professor of history of science, is the general faculty representative on the Board.

Cecil H. Brite, general manager of student publications for the university, is also a member of the Publications Board.

SOONER Emphasizes Involvement

When there is a scarcity of chairs in the SOONER office Chris Brown, assistant editor for organizations, finds a place to sit—in a file drawer.

The 1970 SOONER Yearbook revolved around the theme "Involvement," with each section expressing a potential area of involvement for the individual. To carry out this theme, the SOONER devoted the opening 33 pages to a features section emphasizing the meaning of involvement.

As a result of the "involvement" of people in university life, changes were made in the SOONER. Five Men of Distinction were chosen instead of one, as in years past. The residences section grouped men and women by residential centers. Honorary and departmental organizations were placed together in the yearbook and were recognized as groups striving for similar goals and ideals in campus life.

Editor Carol Blakey and Associate Editor Kathryn Guinness organized layouts and edited copy. Cecil H. Brite advised the staff and managed the publication. Assistant Editor Steve Glasser directed the residences section and promoted sales with a staff of representatives from each housing unit. Suggested by Assistant Editor Chris Brown, a copy staff was organized whose members worked with the editors of each section in preparing its copy.

Staff members Jane Glassenberg, Jeanne Grimes, Jennie Kay Buchanan, Diane Dunnett, and Janie Letson are kept busy filing studio pictures to keep the office organized, one of the many routine tasks required of all the yearbook staff while producing the SOONER.

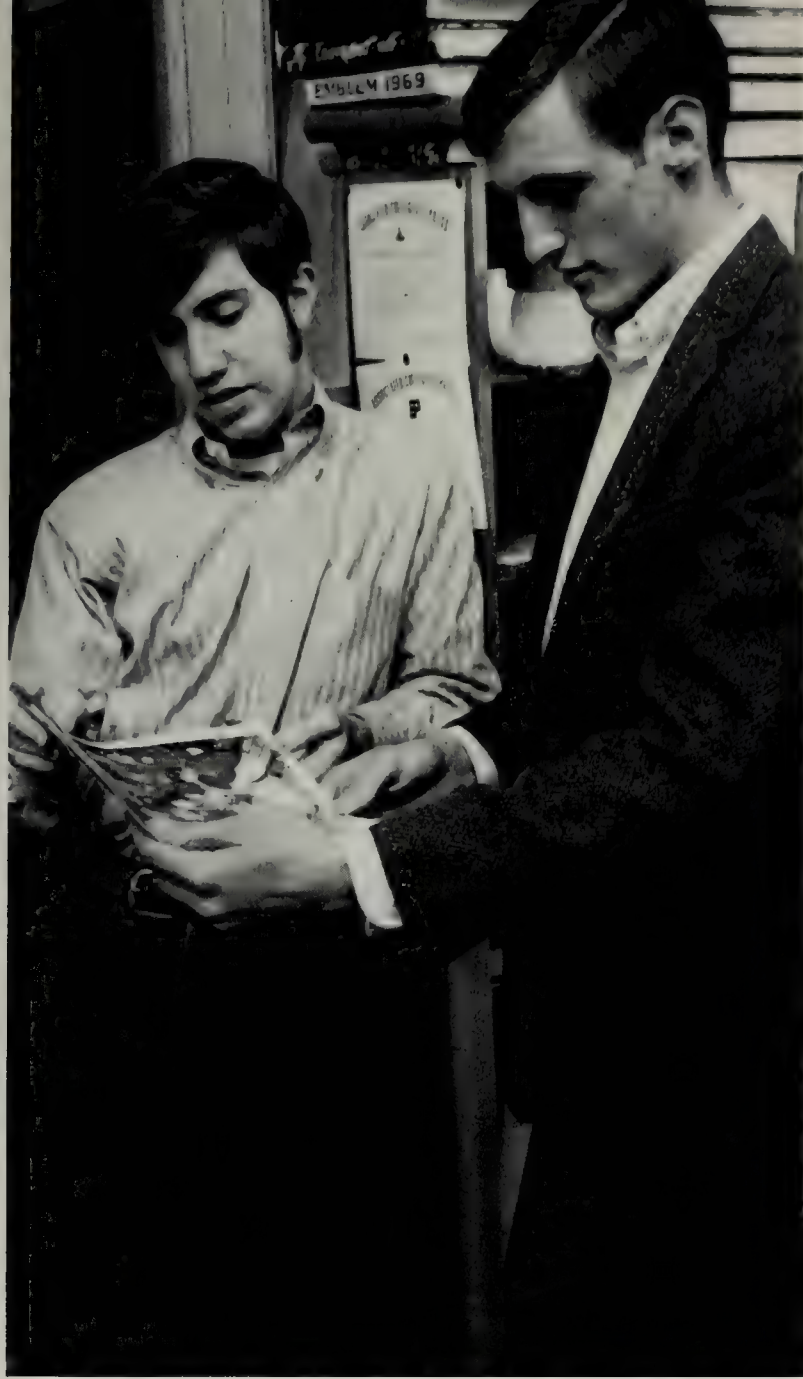

Liz McCarty, organizations editor, and Annette Gilliam, copy editor, use teamwork to check off the organizations.

Daily Editors Take Strong Stands

Acting as fall editor of the Oklahoma Daily was Teresa Black who, throughout the semester, took strong editorial stands on the question of Little Red, the Jones Family Grandchildren, and student power. In the National Hearst Foundation competition, one of Miss Black's editorials was awarded a ninth place rating.

Fall editor Teresa Black's editorials prompted many replies as she hoped to influence some policy changes which would favor the students.

Karen Vinyard, spring editor, worked in two new editorships and wrote on controversial topics such as drugs, pollution and the JFG.

Karen Vinyard, elected as a junior, served as spring editor of the Daily. Miss Vinyard used the Daily as an open forum of opinion on the controversial topics of pollution, drugs, and the JFG newspaper. Karen and Teresa were the second pair of women in 25 years to serve as Daily editors.

Fall, Spring Staffs Feature Events

Fall staff sports writer Bill Hancock added to the excitement surrounding the OU-Texas game in mid-October when he wrote a three-part series on the game just before Dallas Weekend. The JFG newspaper and the war moratorium also received much publicity in October issues of the Daily.

In November the Daily ran a series of editorials on the JFG and a three-part series concerning faculty pay by Mike Shannon. Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens was featured on the front page of the November 25th paper.

The spring Daily staff carried over from the previous semester the controversies surrounding Little Red and the Jones Family Grandchildren. The staff also ran a series of articles on the topics of drugs, the OU budget, and interracial dating.

In February the Daily ran editorials on the question of whether or not the Norman Fire Department had been polluting the duck pond.

Mrs. Louise Moore directed the Daily newsroom both first and second semesters.

Advertising Staff Handles Daily Ads

By working on the advertising staff of the Oklahoma Daily student newspaper, university students were able to exercise the knowledge gained in the classroom and to use their creative abilities in actual publication work.

Advanced students gained practical experience by working as advertising managers and by handling ads for large accounts, while the intermediate students participated in the selling class, which gave laboratory work in actual sales. Two full-time professional salesmen supervised the department.

Local advertising for the Oklahoma Daily was produced completely by the advertising and mechanical departments of the Daily.

Don Burk, noted for his color photography, directs the staff of photographers for the Daily and shoots many of the pictures for the 1970 SOONER.

Alumni Association Conducts Drive

The Alumni Association conducted a massive life member drive this year, which drew in some 1500 new life members. Funds from the program were held in trust to provide continuing income for the association.

The alumni publications program included the Sooner magazine and its newspaper companion, the Alumni News. Association members also received the Football Letter and a new publication, the Basketball Letter. Connie B. Ruggles served as alumni publications' editor, while assistant editor was Judi Freyer.

Again this year a full program of alumni tours was offered. Increased emphasis, particularly in Oklahoma, was placed on building the alumni club structure, while staff members also worked at developing new programs directed toward the growing group of alumni under 31. A program was begun to attract the interest of students to the association before graduation.

Ronald McDaniel, 1960 graduate from Tulsa, replaced R. Boyd Gunning as executive director.

In the fall the alumni council members received a guided tour through the newly acquired house for the university's president.

Oklahoma Alumni Association officers are Ron McDaniel, executive secretary; Mary Lou Blood, coordinator of special events; David Dollarhide, assistant executive secretary; Judi Freyer, assistant editor of alumni publications; Guy Brown, secretary, and Connie Burke Ruggles, alumni publications editor.

Alumni sponsored "Under the Big Red Top" lunch at homecoming along with booths and other entertainment for present and past students.

Advanced Studies Offers Degrees

Dr. L. P. Martin, executive director of the Advanced Programs, discusses new class locations with Dr. Alexander Kondonassis, chairman of the department of economics, and Dr. Walter F. Scheffer, director of the Advanced Program in Public Administration.

The Office of Advanced Studies, as part of School and Community Services, offered advanced programs of 32-hour, no-thesis study leading to the master's degree in economics or public administration. Courses were conducted through intensive seminars. Books and lesson materials were mailed out before each seminar, and the student began his work independently. One week was spent in the classroom. Classes Monday through Friday for six hours a day enabled the advanced programs student to spend as much time in the classroom as he would for a two-hour course on the main campus.

Independent study and research were emphasized in the program. In addition, the classes were offered at many locations, enabling the student to complete the majority of his graduate study close to his work and family.

The Office of Advanced Studies also conducted training sessions for agencies such as the Soil Conservation Service, the US Naval Weapons Laboratory, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Advanced Program classes are taught each term at the headquarters of the Strategic Air Command near Omaha, Nebraska.

Extension Division Supports Business

The basic purpose of Business and Industrial Services is to find effective, appropriate ways to bring the knowledge resources of the University of Oklahoma to bear on the problems of the business and industrial community and to provide appropriate education and training to the members of that community who need and desire it.

After being informally organized in 1952, Business and Industrial Services became a formal budget organization on July 1, 1953, with M. L. "Mike" Powers as director. During that year approximately 1,830 people were on campus involved in 25 different courses in continuing adult education. Sixteen years later, in 1969, there were 8,750 people who received instruction in 221 seminars and short courses.

Programs are now being offered in the following areas: management and executive development, supervisory functions and safety, petroleum engineering, other engineering, legal, industrial development, vocational rehabilitation management, and women in business.

Child Development Houses Head Start

Child Development Programs houses the Head Start Regional Training Office, one of the most mobile units of the Extension Division. Head Start first awarded a grant for the establishment of the Oklahoma RTO in 1965. The primary responsibility of its staff is to provide training, technical assistance, and supportive services to Oklahoma Head Start programs. Its goal is to strengthen the components of Head Start and improve the quality of programs for children, their families, and communities.

The Regional Training Office conducts pre-service and in-service training for Head Start staffs. Special emphasis is placed on increasing parent involvement and participation in the local centers. The RTO also recruits Head Start staff members to attend specialized training in Oklahoma and other states, frequently giving them college credit in courses related to early childhood education and other Head Start component areas.

Attorneys attend a special seminar session scheduled in the forum building of the OCCE.

Research Institute Directs Projects

Over $6,000,000 in contracts involving approximately 160 projects were administered by the Research Institute this year.

Graduate research assistants and other students frequently learned about the latest scientific advancements before the rest of the scientific community through the professors who were research project directors.

The institute was begun as a non-profit corporation to administer OU research projects under contract or grant. Under the direction of Dr. Edward L. Katzenbach, vice-president for research and public service, the institute also assisted the university staff and faculty in the preparation of proposals and contract negotiations and provided services such as accounting, purchasing, graphic arts, reproduction, and photography.

Sponsors of projects included the National Science Foundation, Housing and Urban Development of the Interior, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Atomic Energy Commission, and Department of Defense.

1970 Men of Distinction Chosen

This year's contest was changed from Man of Distinction to Men of Distinction due to the outstanding qualities of all the men interviewed.

Applications were open to all senior men with a minimum grade point average of 2.5 and to those junior men planning to graduate early, with the same grade point requirement. The final selections were based on preliminary and final interviews as well as on information given on the applications.

Each of the Men of Distinction were exceptional in their own field of endeavor and had contributed to the University of Oklahoma in a unique way. The SOONER Yearbook takes great pride in honoring these five men for the distinction they have achieved.

In a traditional bet with the Texas U Pep Club, the Silverspurs, it was again the Ruf Nek president that had to shave his head as OU lost to Texas in football for the third straight year. Guided by president Hank Helton, the all male pep squad made money by selling Big Red eyeshades at the football games. With the money acquired from these sales, the group was able to attend every away football contest except the Wisconsin game. Driven by a Ruf Nek, the Sooner Schooner was seen once more circling the goal posts after each Oklahoma touchdown or field goal drawn by ponies, Boomer and Sooner.

Lettermen Hold Dance in Spring

Emphasizing academic excellence and unity among athletes, this years Varsity "O" Club was led by president Rick Baldrige. An organization strictly for Sooner lettermen, the "O" Club encouraged all athletes to join by holding a Valentine's Dance in the spring and offering an Oklahoma University lettermen's ring to all graduating seniors of the club. The color television and the pool facilities in the

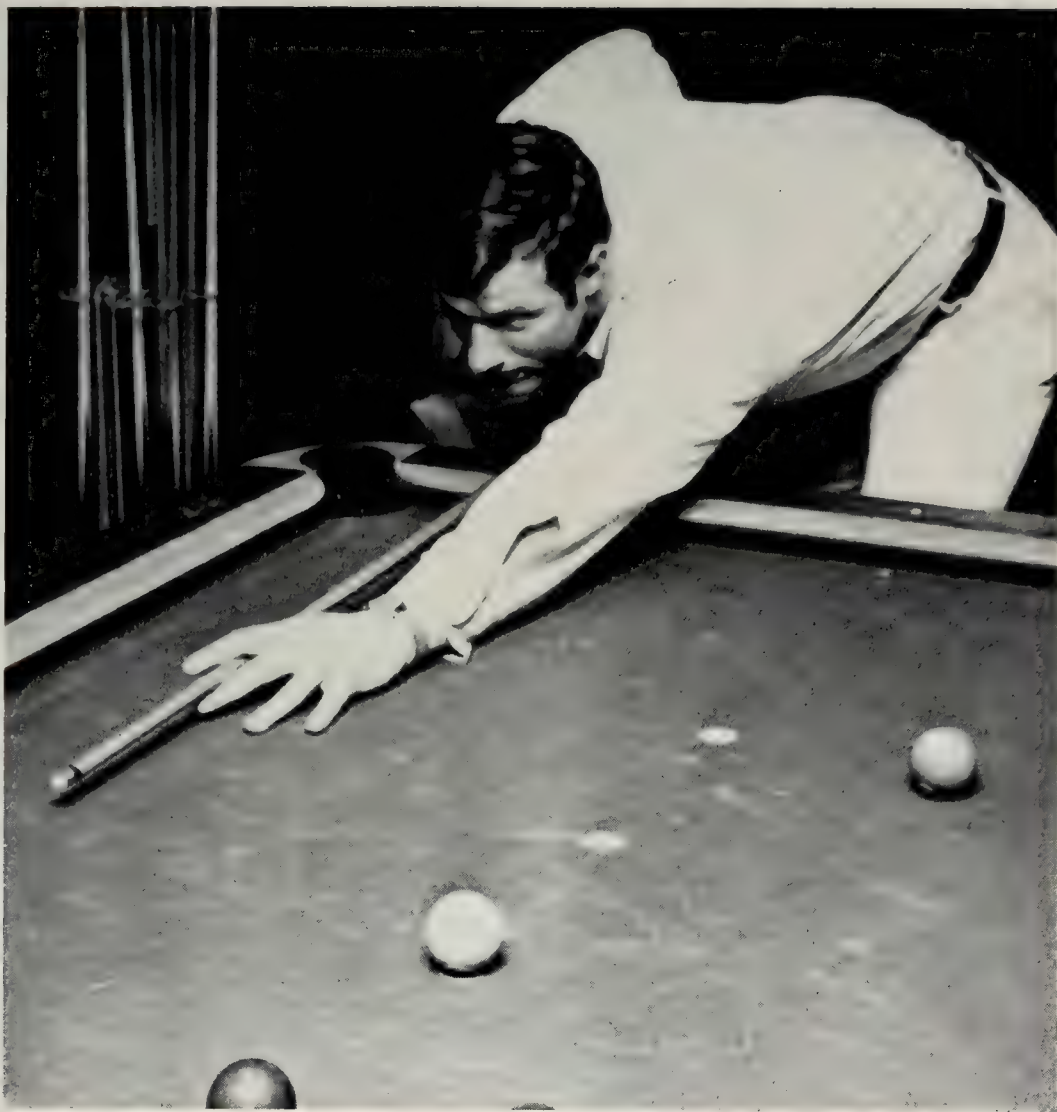

"O" Club lounge provided the members with a chance of getting together at other times than just group meetings. Assistant athletic director Port Robertson, who is also in charge of keeping the players' grades in good standing, was the sponsor. Other officers included vice-president Dennis Brand and social chairman Scott Harrington.

Council Reviews Athletic Policies

Though not well known by OU students, the Athletic Council plays an important role in the Sooner Athletic Program. Headed by Dr. William Eick, the Council must set policies regarding sports that have to be approved by President Hollomon. All coaches applying for jobs on the Sooner staff are interviewed by the

The Council also looks over the awarding of letters and approves the sports schedule for next year. Too, the athletic budget is carefully reviewed and salary increases are granted or denied.

Inexperience Shows Against Conference

Picked in most pre-season polls as the team to beat in the Big Eight, the Sooners showed signs of greatness against Texas but collapsed against conference foes to wind up with a 6-4 record. In his third year as head football coach, Chuck Fairbanks started mostly sophomores and juniors, which seemed to hamper the team's play against more experienced squads. Tailback Steve Owens grabbed the spotlight as he was selected the recipient of the 1969 Heisman Trophy, representing the outstanding collegiate football player. Led by the fine running of Owens, the Sooners finished the season by beating arch-rival Oklahoma State, 28-27 at Stillwater.

FOOTBALL RECORD: Oklahoma 48, Wisconsin 21; Oklahoma 37, Pittsburgh 8; Oklahoma 17, Texas 27; Oklahoma 42, Colorado 30; Oklahoma 21, Kansas State 59; Oklahoma 37, Iowa State 14; Oklahoma 10, Missouri 44; Oklahoma 31, Kansas 15; Oklahoma 14, Nebraska 44; Oklahoma 28, Oklahoma State 27; Won 6, Lost 4.

Mildren, Owens Shine in Openers

Opening the 1969 season with a new offensive formation called the "Diamond-T", the Sooners crushed Wisconsin, 48-21, and swept by Pittsburg, 37-8.

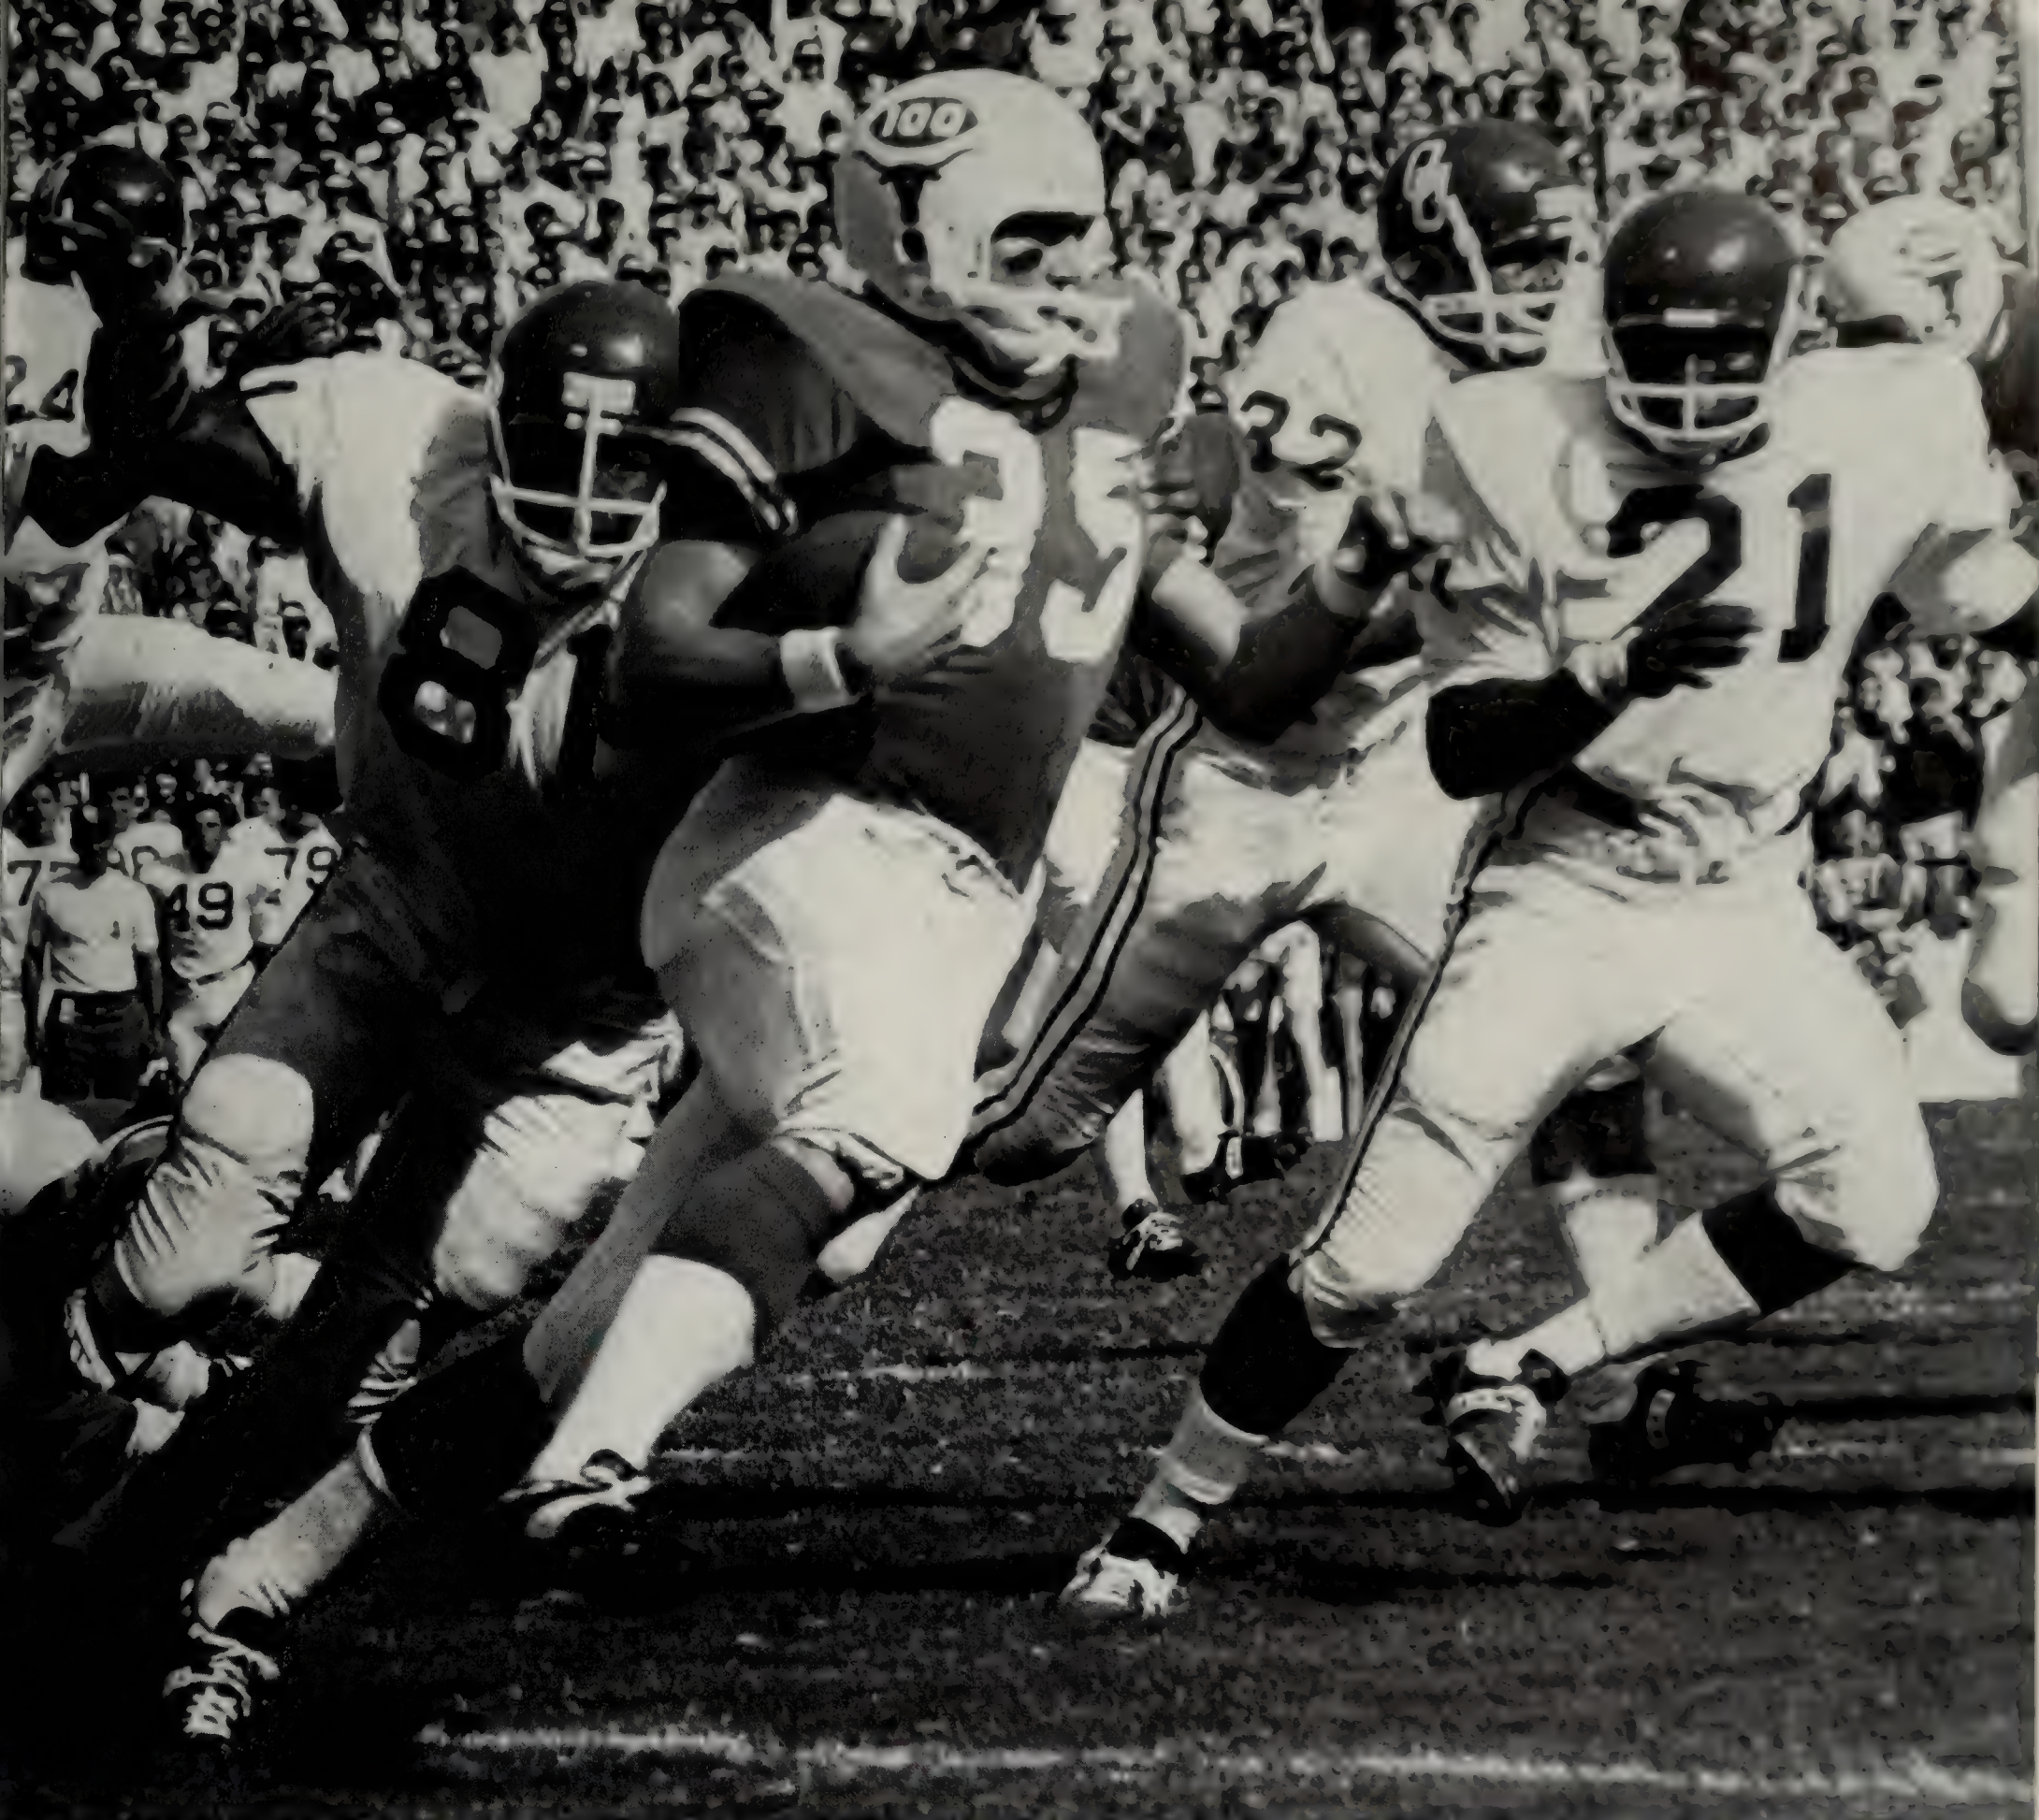

Starting six sophomores on the artificial turf at Wisconsin, Oklahoma's victory was directed by sophomore Jack Mildren, whose first collegiate pass was a 67 yard touchdown to Joe Killingsworth. While breaking the NCAA record of gaining 100 yards or more rushing in ten consecutive games, powerful tailback Steve Owens ran for 189 yards and four touchdowns.

In blistering 92 degree heat, a home opening crowd of 59,000 saw the Sooners build up a 37 point lead in three quarters. The running of Steve Owens and a powerful gang tackling defense kept Oklahoma on top throughout the game.

Under a fierce pass rush, sophomore quarterback Jack Mildren gets set to throw.

Texas' Air Attack Subdues OU

Before 72,002 fans and a national television audience, Oklahoma ran over the powerful Texas Longhorns for a 14-0 first quarter lead, but faded in the second half to drop their first game, 27-17. With Steve Owens ripping continuously through the Longhorn line and Roy Bell sweeping around the flanks, the Sooners were able to grab a quick lead. Texas powerful rushing attack was stymied most of the game by the Big Red defense but went to the air and slowly pulled away from the Sooners with three long bombs. Tied 14-14 at the half, the two teams traded field goals before costly mistakes started haunting Oklahoma. With a little over six minutes left in the game and the score in Texas' favor, 20-17, the Sooners fumbled a Longhorn punt at their own 39 and Texas drove in from there for the final score.

After a substantial gain, Roy Bell is finally wrestled to the ground.

Linebackers Stop Buffalo Drives

Bouncing back from their defeat at Dallas, Oklahoma combined an opportunistic offense with a tenacious defense to beat the Buffaloes from Colorado, 42-30. Wingback Roy Bell led all rushers with 130 yards and scored on a 53 yard gallop. Securing his hold as one of the nation's scoring leaders, senior Steve Owens tallied four touchdowns as he accumulated 112 yards. Sophomore Jack Mildren passed for 114 yards including a five yard score to tight end Steve Zable. The Sooner defense showed its full power by holding the Colorado offense at several key points in the game. Junior Steve Casteel, who intercepted a pass and returned it twelve yards, and sophomore Steve Aycock, who stopped a Buffalo drive in the first quarter with a fumble recovery at the OU 13 yard line, led the defenders.

K-State Totters Big Red Defense

A stunned Sooner football team, plagued by crippling injuries and numerous mistakes, was plundered by Kansas State, 59-21. Throwing an occasional bomb and fumbling punts was about all Oklahoma could do against the tough Wildcat defense. The 59 points rolled up by Kansas State was 38 more than the Wildcats had ever scored against an OU team and 12 more than the Sooners had ever yielded to anyone. Their basic running game smothered. Oklahoma stayed alive in the first half on two long touchdown passes by quarterback Jack Mildren. He threw to split end Joe Killingsworth for a 77 yard score and to Everett Marshall for a 66 yard score. Joe Pearce aided the Sooner defense by blocking a field goal in the first half.

Owens' 248 Yards Smothers Cyclones

Spurred on by tremendous fan support, Oklahoma used a high powered offense to pin a 37-14 defeat on the Iowa State Cyclones. Tailback Steve Owens put on an outstanding exhibition of running as he rushed for 248 yards in 53 carries, while scoring four touchdowns. Reserve wingback Geoffrey Nordgren also played a superb game as he caught six passes for 114 yards and a touchdown, and kept the Iowa State defense honest by running for an additional 39 yards. An inspired Oklahoma defense kept the Cyclones from cashing in on the many Sooner mistakes, as linebacker Steve Casteel had nine tackles and nose guard Lionell Day had eight. As a whole, the defense held the potent Cyclone offense to only 72 yards rushing and 147 yards passing. Behind the signal-calling of quarterback Jack Mildren, the Sooners picked up 569 yards in total offense.

Sooners Drop Passes, Game

Racing to an early 10-0 lead, the Big Red was unable to keep up with a ferocious Missouri offense and fell to their third defeat, 44-10. Passing was the difference in the game as Oklahoma receivers dropped numerous throws while the Tigers went to the air for 312 yards and three touchdowns. The Sooners installed a new zone pass defense which started out fairly successful but broke down early in the second quarter. Joe Pearce's interception at the Oklahoma 39 yard line set up the Sooners' only touchdown with Steve Owens scoring from the five. A 36 yard field goal by Bruce Derr early in the first half was the Sooners' only other score. Missouri ripped through Oklahoma's crippled defense for a 17-10 half-time lead before erupting for three touchdowns in a four minute span of the third quarter.

OU Comes Back in Second Half

Again blowing an early lead, this time the Sooners came back in the fourth quarter with two touchdowns to overcome upset-minded Kansas, 31-15. Two interceptions by sophomore Glenn King in the first quarter vaulted Oklahoma to an early 14-0 lead with Steve Owens scoring both touchdowns. But Kansas came right back with two scores of their own to take a 15-14 lead at the half. The Okla-home defense came alive in the second half as nose guard Lionell Day led a fierce pass rush with linebackers Steve Casteel and Steve Aycock bottling up the Jayhawk running attack. Owens' 201 yards in 44 carries broke the NCAA three year rushing record, and his three touchdowns set a new national mark of 54 career tallies on the ground. The victory boosted Oklahoma's season record to 5-3.

Nebraska Rocks Big Red 44-14

A fired-up Nebraska football team swept through Owen Stadium and left the Sooners on the tail end of a 44-14 game. After a four yard Nebraska punt, Jack Mildren raced 18 yards into the end zone on the first play from scrimmage to give Oklahoma their only lead. The Sooners' other touchdown came midway through the fourth period as Mildren passed to sophomore Geoffrey Nordgren on a 16 yard play. Employing a stiff defense which held Steve Owens to just 71 yards rushing and the whole Sooner offense to only 278 yards, the Cornhuskers intercepted three passes and recovered two Oklahoma fumbles. The loss marked the first time in 16 games that the Sooners had lost in Owen Stadium.

Oklahoma Batters OSU in Tussle

The victory chant of "poor aggies" again echoed across the Oklahoma student section as the Sooners dealt Oklahoma State a narrow 28-27 defeat. Sooner defensive end Albert Qualls foiled the Cowboys' two point conversion attempt with 1:15 left in the game, as he jarred the ball loose from the OSU quarterback. Running in his usual fashion, Steve Owens ravaged the Cowpoke defensive line for 261 yards and two touchdowns. Quarterback Jack Mildren led a balanced attack of assorted plays as he threw a 51 yard score to Joe Killingsworth and ran 34 yards for the winning touchdown. Two big fourth quarter defensive plays by Oklahoma close to their own goal line knocked the wind out of the Cowboys, as OSU ran eight plays from the 12 yard line and still could not score.

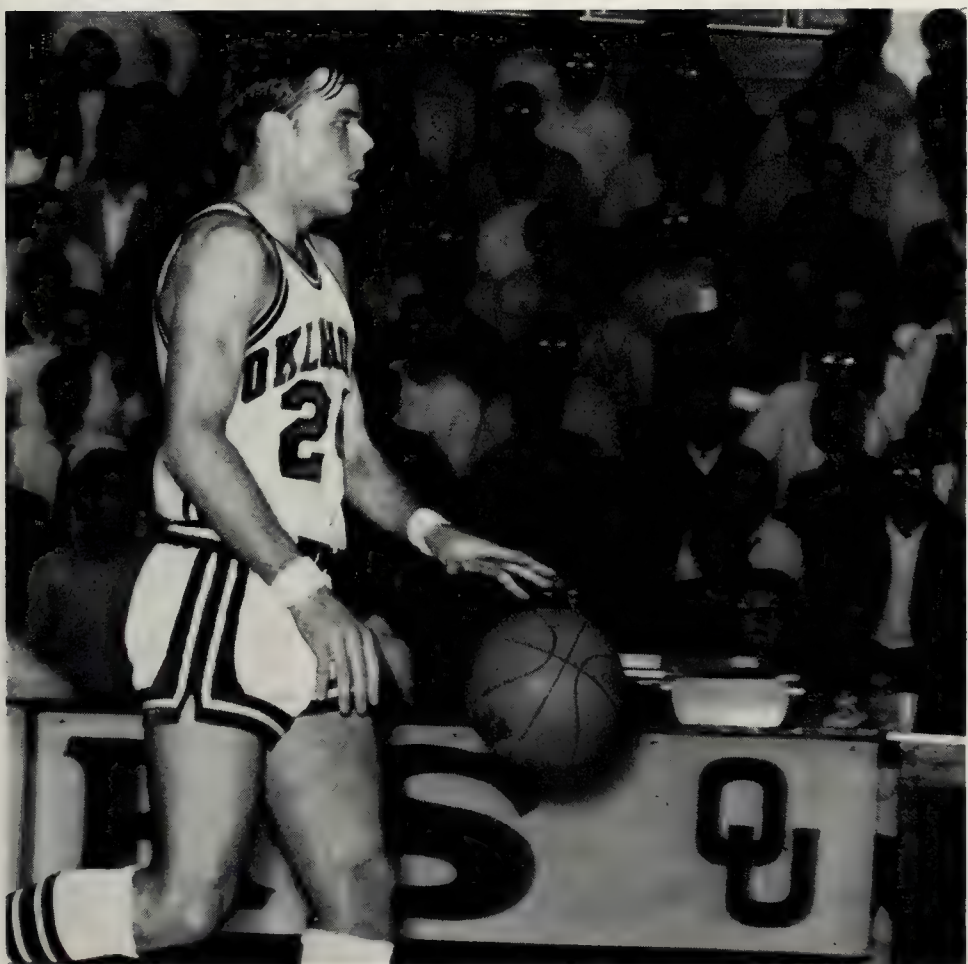

Attempting to pass with a Cowboy hung on him is Steve Owens.

Tension builds on the court as coaches John MacLeod and Dennis Price yell out instructions.

Playmaker Scott Martin brings the ball down court against K-St.

Basketballers Race To 19-9 Season

Clutch shooting and brilliant team play sparked the 1970 Sooner basketball team to a 19-9 record with a bid to the National Invitational Tournament in New York. Ridden off by New York fans as complete underdogs, OU upset Louisville in the first round and nearly got by Louisiana State in the quarter finals. Captain Garfield Heard ended the season as Big Eight's number two scorer and one of the top rebounders. The sophomoreish squad coached by John MacLeod also captured the Big Eight Pre-Season Tournament Championship and the Marshall Invitational Championship.

Sooners Dump High Ranking Foes

The surprising Sooners ripped Abilene Christian in the season opener 83-59, as they out rebounded the Wildcats 52 to 39. Texas Tech edged the Sooners at Texas after OU had fought back from a five point deficit to tie it up with 59 seconds left. A sparkling defense aided the Big Red in their conquering of Miami of Ohio, 71-57. A miraculous second half comeback in the first round of the Marshall Invitational Tournament led the Sooners to an 80-79 victory over Marshall. Scott Martin, sophomore squad, pumped in 25 points. Senior Garfield Heard scored a tournament record of 39 points as the Sooners dumped Xavier of Ohio, 101-89, for the championship.

BASKETBALL RECORD—Oklahoma 83, Abilene Christian 59; Oklahoma 101, Nevada Southern 94; Oklahoma 64, Texas Tech 66; Oklahoma 102, South Alabama 68; Oklahoma 71, Miami of Ohio 57; Oklahoma 80, Marshall 79; Oklahoma 101, Xavier of Ohio 89; Oklahoma 85, Arkansas 69; Oklahoma 68, Kansas 64 (OT); Oklahoma 72, Kansas State 67; Oklahoma 73, Colorado 72; Oklahoma 56, Kansas State 77; Oklahoma 52, Missouri 48; Oklahoma 98, Washington of St. Louis 60; Oklahoma 78, Colorado 104; Oklahoma 60, Nebraska 70; Oklahoma 41, Kansas 78; Oklahoma 62, Oklahoma St. 57; Oklahoma 47, Missouri 55; Oklahoma 74, Iowa State 68; Oklahoma 84, Colorado 77; Oklahoma 75, Iowa St. 73; Oklahoma 66, Nebraska 79; Oklahoma 80, Kansas St. 73; Oklahoma 82, Kansas 77; Oklahoma 61, Oklahoma St. 77; Oklahoma 74, Louisville 73; Oklahoma 94, Louisiana St. 97; Won 19 Lost 9; Four-way tie for Third in Big Eight.

Heard Leads OU in Big 8 Tourney

Tabbed as the "Cinderella Sooners", OU knocked off three of the nation's toughest teams as they beat Kansas, Kansas State, and Colorado, to win the Big Eight Pre-Season Tournament. For the first time since 1943, the Sooners came away from the tournament with the championship trophy. Senior Garfield Heard was named the most outstanding player of the tournament. In the first round, 16th ranked Kansas fell to the Sooners, 68-64, in overtime. Kansas State was then overpowered by OU 72-67. The finals found the Big Red nipping Colorado, 73-72, as they took the lead early and never gave it up.

Oklahoma Fans 'Fill the Fieldhouse'

Starting out the Big Eight season in a bad way, Oklahoma was ambushed by Kansas State, 77-56, at Manhattan. Back at home, the Sooners overcame horrid field goal shooting to beat the Missouri Tigers, 52-43, in "Fill the Fieldhouse Night." Colorado knocked off the Sooners 104-78, in Boulder as OU was unable to repeat their Big 8 season tournament feat. In successive games, Kansas and Nebraska swept by the slumping Sooners 78-41 and 70-60. Rival Oklahoma State came to the OU fieldhouse with visions of an upset, but left Norman, the losers of a 62-57 game. Heard and Martin teamed up to rout the Cowpokes winning four out of their last six regular season games, the Sooners assured themselves of a high finish in the Big 8 Conference as they beat Iowa State twice, upset Kansas State, 80-73, and ripped Kansas 82-77.

'Pistol Pete' Shoots down OU at NIT

For the first time in Oklahoma University history the Big Red basketball team was accepted to play in the National Invitational Tournament. Garfield Heard ripped the nets for 34 points as the Sooners upset Missouri Valley Champion Louisville, 74-73 in the first round. The taller Cardinals were also out rebounded by Oklahoma, 46-43. Center John Yule calmly hit two free throws with seven seconds left to clutch the victory. Fighting back from an 18 point deficit, the fighting Oklahoma Sooners excited a capacity crowd of 19,500 in Madison Square Garden by closing the margin to two with 29 seconds left before finally bowing to LSU, 97-94. College player of the year, "Pistol Pete" Maravich scored 37 points in leading the Tigers over the underdog Sooners.

OU Third in Big Eight Conference

The youthful Sooner wrestlers sported four second place finishers in the Big Eight Tournament at Manhattan, Kansas, as the team placed third with 59 points behind victor Iowa State and Oklahoma State. Mike Cachero at 118, Tom Abercombie at 126, Mike Grant at 150, and heavyweight Bill Luttrell all took runner-up spots. Wrestling at 158, senior Dennis Brand upset Dave Martin of Iowa State, 3-2. Previous to the tournament Martin had a 21-0 dual record and finished second at the Nationals last year. The tournament was dominated by the three major teams as Oklahoma, Iowa State, and Oklahoma State were the only schools to place wrestlers in the finals.

11-6 Record Posted by Grapplers

Shouting encouragement from the side is wrestling coach Tommy Evans.

Surprising many fans with their "all-out effort", 1970 Sooner wrestlers overcame scholastic and personal problems to post an 11-6 season record. The Big Red grapplers opened the season with three impressive victories in the Kansas State Tournament. South Dakota State, Air Force, and Kansas State all fell by lop-sided scores. In the Lehigh Invitational Tournament, OU crowned five individual champs in winning the team trophy with 83 points. Medalists were Tom Abercrombie, Bill Speer, Mike Grant, Larry Laush, and Mike Brundage.

WRESTLING RECORD: Oklahoma 31, South Dakota State 2; Oklahoma 33, Air Force 2; Oklahoma 38, Kansas State 0; Oklahoma 26, Southern Illinois 8; Oklahoma 29, Maryland 5; Oklahoma 26, Navy 5; Oklahoma 7, Oklahoma State 27; Oklahoma 11, California Poly 27; Oklahoma 30, Missouri 5; Oklahoma 10, Iowa State 26; Oklahoma 22, Minnesota 12; Oklahoma 35, UCLA 3; Oklahoma 17, Northwestern 14; Oklahoma 6, Michigan State 28; Oklahoma 10, Oklahoma State 26; Oklahoma 26, Washington 6; Oklahoma 8, Iowa State 23; Third in Big Eight.

Sooners Fall Twice to Cowpokes

This year's Bedlam Series proved calmer than usual as Oklahoma State struck the Sooners twice. The first match in Norman found the Sooners on the losing end, 27-7, as they could only manage one win and two draws. They fared little better in the second as the Cowpokes won, 26-10. Bill Beakley again drew his opponent but both Mike Grant and Dennis Brand carved out victories.

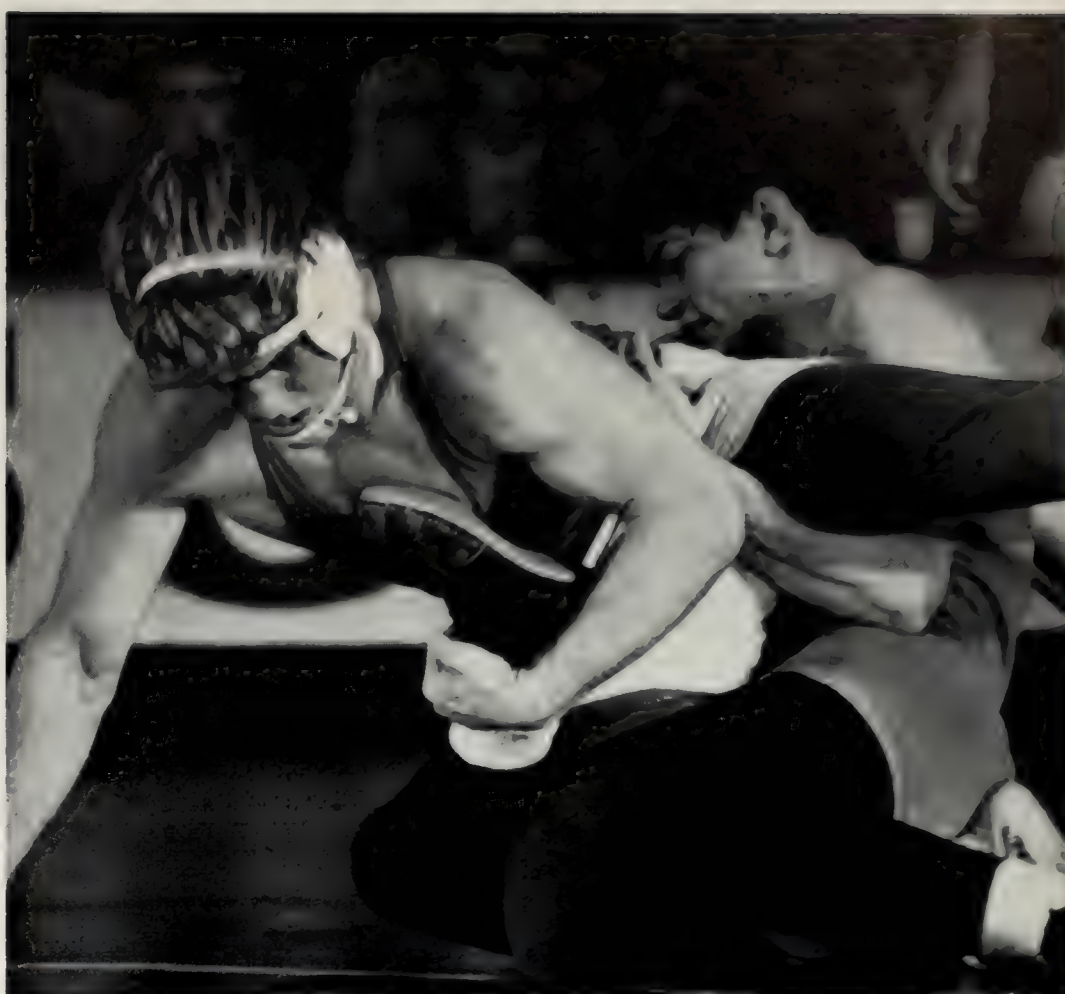

Big Eight champ Iowa State also swept two from the Sooners, 26-10, and 23-8. The latter match in Norman featured unbeaten Mike Grant of OU versus unbeaten Dan Gable of Iowa State. Gable, who had never lost a college match, decisioned Grant 9-4.

Coach Tommy Evans conditioned his squad for their tough schedule by having them run the Stadium and Field House bleachers.

Grant Retains NCAA Crown

Behind the superb wrestling of senior Mike Grant the Sooner grapplers posted a sixth place finish at the 40th NCAA Wrestling Tournament. Repeating last year's tourney feat, Grant took the championship title at 150. Reversing his opponent with 30 seconds left, Grant rode out the rest of the match for a 6-1 win. His victory gave OU an NCAA titlist for a record 17th consecutive year. Grant was later named as a participant in the East-West all-star match.

Other Big Red wrestlers placing in the tournament included 3rd place—Mike Cachero at 118, 5th place—Bill Beakley at 142, and 6th place—Tom Corbin at 177. The Sooner's 44 team points were only one short of fifth place finisher Iowa's 45.

Tracksters Paced by Cotner, Long

Leading the charge of the 1968 outdoor track team was junior Dennis Cotner, as he placed first in the 440 intermediate hurdles in every Invitational except the Big Eight and the Drake Relays. Disqualified as he dragged his foot over a hurdle at Drake, Cotner came in first but was not credited with the victory. This win together with the Texas and Kansas relay victories would have given him the Triple Crown. For the first time in four years, the Sooner tracksters were beaten by rival Oklahoma State, but Wayne Long still sped to a first place 21.6 timing in the 220.

Speedster Wayne Long, in setting two indoor records at Kansas State, hallmarked the 1968-69 Indoor Track team. Besides racing to a 6.0 clocking in the 60 yard dash and a 6.6 timing in the 60 yard low hurdles, Long anchored the Sooners 440 relay team.

OUTDOOR TRACK RECORD—Oklahoma 57½, Oklahoma State 87½; Oklahoma 93, Houston 50; INDOOR TRACK RECORD—Oklahoma 35, Kansas State 85; Oklahoma 81, Wichita State 40; Third in Big Eight.

Conditioned Runners Inexperienced

Starting the season with only three returning lettermen, the Sooner Harriers ran to a 1-2 dual meet record and came out on top in the Texas at Arlington and North Texas State tri-meet in Norman. Short on experience but long on effort, the runners lost to Oklahoma State and Arkansas in close matches and defeated Southern Methodist at Dallas. Freshman Roger Woolery finished high in every meet except the State Federation due to an injury. Junior team captain Craig Wise and freshman Dean Foote also finished well in all meets. Emphasizing conditioning, the team ran six miles each morning throughout the school year. For coach Gary Lower, who also doubles as assistant track mentor, it was his second year at the reigns of the cross country team.

Gasping for breath, Deane Foote is followed closely by teammates Butch Clifton and Craig Wise.

CROSS COUNTRY RECORD—Oklahoma 30, Arkansas 25; Oklahoma 27, Southern Methodist 28; Oklahoma 19, North Texas State 39, Texas at Arlington 68; Oklahoma 35, Oklahoma State 20.

Barrett and Mullins Go Unbeaten

Steadying his grip on the racket, Glen Mullins gets ready to serve.

Fueled by the undefeated play of Glen Mullins and Bruce Barrett, the Sooner Tennis team posted a 16-7 season record as they won their last six dual matches. The brilliant ten match winning streak of freshman Scott Martin helped lead Oklahoma to its fourth straight Big Eight Tennis crown at the tournament in Ames, Iowa. Glen Mullins and Gerry Perry captured the No. 1 doubles title while the No. 2 award went to Martin and Gail Bradshaw. Mullins also seized the No. 1 singles title from the defending champ, Cliff Price of OSU. Altogether the Sooners accumulated 21 points compared with runnerup Colorado's 8 points.

Entering the Rice Invitational Tournament, the Sooners finished in sixth place among an elite field of competitors, while they placed second in the OCU Invitational.

OU Fielding Best in Conference

In dropping their last conference game to Iowa State, Oklahoma also dropped their chance at the Big Eight crown, as the Baseballers finished 17-4 in the conference and 23-10 overall. Oklahoma State again took the title with a 17-3 conference record and the Sooners were a half game out of first place. Big Red also finished second in the Big Eight in hitting and pitching, while their fielding was the best in the conference. Outfielder Mike Swenton with a .327 average and second baseman Scott Harrington with a .315 were selected to the All Big Eight team. Enos Semore, in his third year as head coach, was high on the players' mental ability while stressing speed and long ball hitting.

Conditioned Mermen Break Records

Losing over half their seniorless squad due to injuries and grades, the OU mermen regrouped toward the end of the season to take a second place finish in the Big Eight Conference Meet at Ames, Iowa. Oklahoma took four first place medals with Mike Brut in the 1,650 yard freestyle, David Howell in the 100 backstroke, Phil Weiss in the 400 yard medley, and Larry Peters in the 100 fly. Peters' time of 51.5 set a new conference record.

The Sooners also placed second in the Big Eight relays as they set a new conference mark in the 200 yard medley relay with a time of 1:39.7. Working out at least three hours a day in the South Base pool the swimmers were led by coach Jay Markley, who trained and conditioned the team for the tough competition in the Big Eight Conference.

Beginning his leg of the medley relay is freshman Phil Weiss.

SWIMMING RECORD—Oklahoma 80, Arkansas 33; Oklahoma 59, Iowa St. 54; Oklahoma 32, Southern Illinois 72; Oklahoma 28, Kansas 84; Oklahoma 54, Missouri 59; Oklahoma 68, OSU 44; Oklahoma 46, Nebraska 58; Second in Big Eight.

Larry Peters counts the laps as

Rebuilding Gymnasts Slip to 4-6

Sparked by a fine group of promising freshmen and junior college transfers, the Sooner Gymnastics team kept their balance throughout the season to win four out of their last five dual matches.

In his fifth year as head coach, Russ Porterfield led the crew to a 4-6 season record. Conference power Iowa State slipped by the rebuilding Sooners in the season opener, 159.85 to 152.7. Though they didn't win an event OU showed good depth in keeping up with the Cyclones. Closing out the season in good form, the Gymnasts walloped Colorado and Wichita State by sweeping every event but one.

GYMNASTICS RECORD—Oklahoma 152.7, Iowa St. 159.85; Oklahoma 147.85, Northwestern St. College 151.30; Oklahoma 153.0, Louisiana St. U. 153.55; Oklahoma 152.20, Kansas U. 155.55; Oklahoma 153.55, Kansas St. 157.25; Oklahoma 151.15, Nebraska 139.10; Oklahoma 144.0, Memphis St. 136.0; Oklahoma 151.25, Southern Illinois U. 161.5; Oklahoma 152.45, Colorado 143.60; Oklahoma 152.85, Wichita St. 124.90.

Working out on the Still Rings is senior Jim Johannesen.

GYMNASTICS TEAM—Jack Milchanowski, Dick Rainer, Bob Medlin, Mike Caldwell, Jack Finch, Mike Torrez, Kevin Lindsey, Odess Lovin, Lyndell Busch, Ron Webb, Art Allen, Tommy Yuen, mond, Barry Wilson, Bill Tarwater, Bobby Cox, Wyman L... Andy Bass, George Rives.

Linksters Sparkle in Invitationals

Frequent fall scrimmages with the freshmen basketball squad kept the 1969 Golf team in shape, as they posted a 19-3 dual record. Practicing year round at the University Golf Course, the linksters made strong showings in several intercollegiate tournaments and finished second in the Big Eight Tournament. George Rives, in posting 13 wins, was selected to the All-American team as honorable mention, while teammate Skip Graham captured the Big Eight individual crown with a 54 hole total of 214. In his third year as mentor of the OU golf team, coach Ray Thrumond stressed active tournament play, as shown by the team's fine record in invitationals.

GOLF RECORD—Oklahoma 18, Oklahoma Baptist 0; Oklahoma 14½, McNeese St. 6½; Oklahoma 5½, McNeese St. 1½; Oklahoma 3½, North Texas St. 2½; Oklahoma 5, Southwest Louisiana 1; Oklahoma 6, Oklahoma State 9; Oklahoma 15, Southern Methodist 6; Oklahoma 14½, North Texas St. 6½; Oklahoma 9, Oklahoma City 6; Oklahoma 12, Wichita St. 3; Oklahoma 5, North Texas St. 10; Oklahoma 10, Tulsa 8; Oklahoma 2½, Oklahoma State 12½; Oklahoma 12, Oklahoma Baptist 3; Oklahoma 8½, Oklahoma State 6½; Oklahoma 11, Wichita St. 4; Oklahoma 9, Wichita St. 6; Oklahoma 9½, Tulsa 8½; Oklahoma 13½, Oklahoma City 1½; Oklahoma 11½, Iowa St. 3½; Oklahoma 10, Oklahoma State 5, Oklahoma 13, Nebraska 2; Second in Big Eight.

Intramurals Add Free Throw Contest

Bob Stevens finished his second year as Oklahoma's intramural program director this year.

Entries in every intramural event increased over last year, particularly in the All-College Basketball Marathon which was a new activity on campus last year. Any student enrolled in the University could participate in the tourney, and persons competing were not limited to playing on housing unit teams.

Added this year was the free throw contest, in which each contestant shot 50 free throws. Trophies were given for the most total number of throws made, for most consecutive number of throws made, and for the most free throws made in a row beginning with the first throw.

The department also established set times for play-offs this year. The change resulted in the quicker conclusion of tournaments.

John Barksdale demonstrates a great serve to show why he's a champion of men's singles in tennis.

Intramural director Bob Stevens explains officiating to student referees Terry Foster and Jerry Gray.

Two Legal Eagles successfully prevent an interception as they go on to win another, finishing the season undefeated.

Tim Patton looks on as teammate Richard Mize returns a shot while warming up for a doubles match in handball.

Ted Boyls, Acacia, slides safely into home base as Phi Psi Jim Walker tries for a put out.

Beta Theta Pi's, defending B-team champs, scrimmage the Sigma Chi's B-team in preparation for the volleyball tournament.

John Dosser controls this tip and his Johnson 9-12 teammates control the game, defeating Worcester House before losing to Setliff House in the finals 49-43.

WRA Offers Recreation to Women

Linda Gunning jumps for the ball, helping Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority win the basketball championship.

Women's Recreation Association is designed to offer recreation and competition for all University women. WRA sponsors an Intramural Program, Extramural Program, specialized clubs and coed softball, volleyball and bowling with the men's intramurals.

The Intramural Program includes team and individual sports. Through this program tournaments are held and open to all women's housing units, including Norman residents and the commuters.

The Extramural Program provides the opportunity to compete with other colleges and universities in the state. The sports included are volleyball, basketball, field hockey, track and field, and numerous individual sports. The WRA council held the 1969 Softball Sports Day with eight teams participating in the tournament.

Council Consists of Representatives

Linda Gunning and Fran Tomlin practice for a Fencing Club exhibition.

The WRA council consists of a representative from each housing unit, an intramural organizer from each housing unit, an organizer for the extramural sports and the officers. These women work together to present a program suitable to all women on campus.

Each year a trophy is awarded for the Women's Intramural Championship. A point system is used in determining the winner. The 1969 champion was Gamma Phi Beta sorority. They won the Speedball Tournament and placed high in other sports.

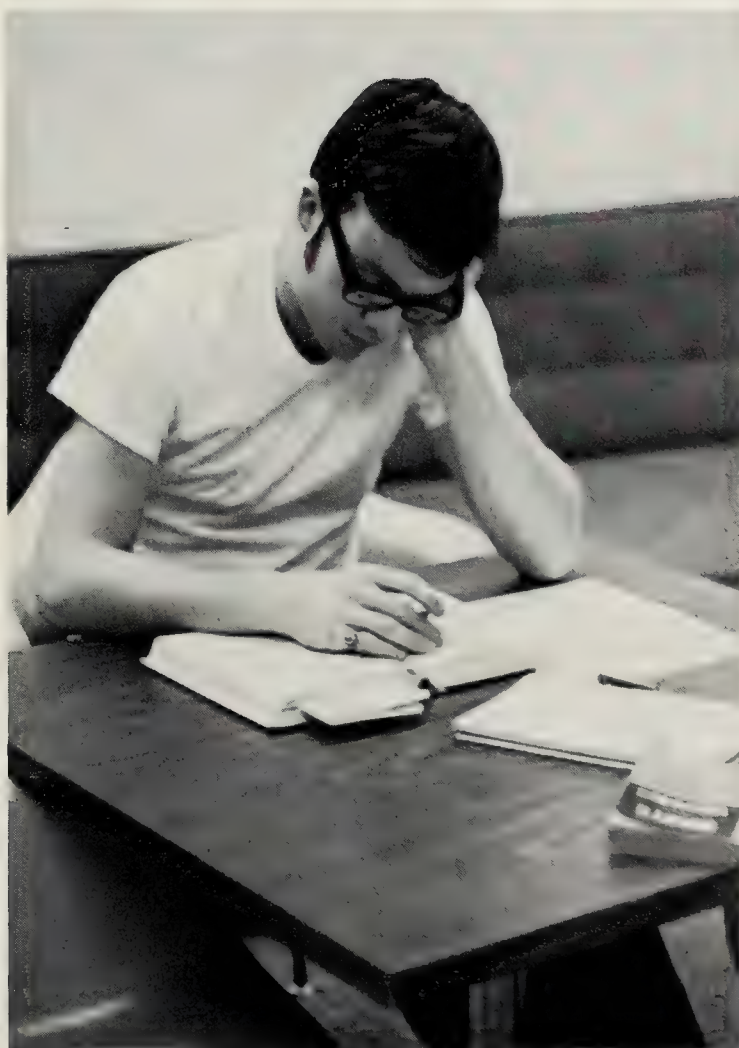

WRA also honors its outstanding participants by presenting the Ima James Reeves Award at the end of every year. This is given to the senior woman who has helped WRA the most in her college years through participation, cooperation and assistance in all activities. The 1969 recipient was Karen Vieth.

Cross Center, composed of four quads or a total of sixteen dorms, provides a cafeteria and snack bar for its men and women.

Couch Center South, center for postal employees, also houses adult men and women, while Walker Tower, formerly Couch North, houses men.

Wilson Center, with redecorated facilities, has a cafeteria and gymnasium for its residents, both men and women.

Adams Center, composed of three women's tower units and one men's unit, provides adjoining lounge and recreation areas.

Located on Wadsack Drive, south of campus, Kraettli provides 312 apartment units for both graduate students and married underclassmen.

New Cate, housing women, and Cate Center, housing three quads of women and one quad of men, have a cafeteria, snack bar, and lounge between the two rows of dorm buildings.

Campus Acquires New Apartments

In December, the University of Oklahoma Board of Regents acquired the 268 apartment units of Yorkshire Apartments, located at 2730 Chautauqua Street. The complex will be operated as a separate auxiliary enterprise, not as a part of regular university housing.

As a service to residents, the Yorkshire Shoppe has been opened in the complex where food and toiletries are sold to meet the expanding needs of the residents.

A bus service is now provided at the complex which will be expanded to serve those residents living in the west quadrangle. Plans also include bus rides to Bizzell Memorial Library in the evenings and rides to Norman shopping areas on Saturday mornings.

It is also the intention of the university to develop a portion of the land north and west of the complex into an intramural field to be used by the tenants.

Housing Staff Directs Operations

The new General Manager of the Housing Staff this year was the late Mr. Harry H. Hoghn. Assisted by Frank Thompson, Mr. Hoghn led a staff of 775 persons.

The Housing Staff this year worked closely with the Office of Residential Programs under David Burr, vice-president of the university in charge of the University Community, and Stephen M. Sutherland, director. Due to a complete reorganization, the Office of the Deans of Students was abolished, and the Office of Residential Programs took over many of the former office's activities and functions.

The late Mr. Hoghn and his staff directed general housing operations such as food service, accounting, maintenance, housekeeping, furniture, property, and apartments.

Mr. Harry H. Hoghn and Alice Hinkle get together to confer on housing cost estimates.

ADAMS CENTER

A lively group of Johnson 5, 6, 7 and 8 boys put away their books to debate on a current campus question.

Johnson 5-8 Carols in December

Johnson 5, 6, 7, and 8 participated in the fund-raising, campus-wide charity project this year, Campus Chest. The men co-sponsored a booth with McCasland coeds. During the frosty Christmas season, the men also caroled with other dorms.

After the Rupel J. Jones Theatre burned, Johnson 5 through 8 instigated a fire fund drive. The residents also helped build the Ad-

Mike Standan served as president during the weekly dorm meetings. Harvey McQuiston assisted as vice-president; Stephen Frazier was treasurer.

Johnson 10-12 Captures League Title

Intramural sports seemed to be the primary interest of the residents of Brown House, Johnson 10, 11, and 12. They were victorious at the intramural football tournament for university housing. The men also captured the league basketball honors, remaining undefeated in league play.

There was much emphasis, however, placed in other areas, such as academic studies and campus activities. Brown House maintained a 2.94 grade point average for the fall semester.

Brown House residents included Steve Hubbard, president of the Baptist Student Union and a member of ODK, and Fred Ferris, vice-president of the Petroleum and Geological Engineers Club.

Mike Hunt thinks there's nothing like a week-day "open house" as he enjoys female company in his dormitory room.

McCasland Opens Back-Rub Booth

Residents of McCasland 4 and 5 helped relax aching muscles during Campus Chest Week with a back-rubbing booth. With proceeds from the booth and a slave sale, the dorm contributed $95 to that campus-wide project.

The coeds also participated in table tennis and badminton during intramurals. Pam Thacker led the dorm to an undefeated season in volleyball.

Social events the dorm was involved in included a hayride with the men of Walker Tower and a dorm Christmas party.

Betty Johnson served as president of McCasland 4 and 5, and Betsy Miller was the dorm's resident advisor.

McCasland 2, 3 Collects Baskets For Needy

Seasonal projects headed the list of accomplishments and social events in McCasland 2 and 3 this year. In addition to collecting Thanksgiving and Christmas food baskets for needy families, the women of the dorm enjoyed a Christmas party staged by the house officers Nancy Nesbitt, president; Barbara McClelland, vice-president; and Kristine Benedict, secretary.

McCasland 2 and 3 held open house on Dads' Day and placed second in Homecoming float awards.

False Fire Alarms Plague McCasland 6, 7

Amid the dorm routine of studies, five false fire alarms, broken candy machines, and days without toilet tissue, residents of McCasland 6 and 7 managed to plan extra activities.

Led by dorm President Connie Aikman and Jennifer Stuart, parties were in the festive air.

McCasland 8, 9 Sponsors Coffee House

Complete with black lights, posters, and folk singers, the women of McCasland 8 and 9 sponsored a coffee house in the McCasland basement during Campus Chest. The residents also prepared packages of books to be sent to servicemen in Vietnam.

WRA representative Anne Walsh led the dorm to an active year of sports in the intramural program.

Officers elected to coordinate activities were Janice Waller, president; Debra Crum, vice-president; and Robin Rosenthal, treasurer.

Muldrow 2, 3, 4, 5 Hosts Christmas Party

In the Christmas tradition, coeds of Muldrow 2-5 joined men's dorm Johnson 5-8 in caroling at university administrators' homes. Plans for the Christmas Party were finalized by President Betty Bush.

Women of Muldrow 2-5 excelled in artistic projects this year. For their winning construction of a homecoming float, the women received second place among Adams Center contestants. Decorating their doors and lobbies for Dads' Day and Christmas brought Muldrow 2-5 women more acclaim.

SECOND ROW: Patty Edmonds, Marjorie Puckett, Sally Akers, Brenda Heavener, Vicki Weindruch, Jane Clarke, Tannah Howard.

Muldrow 9-12 Coeds Co-Sponsor Pony Ride

Campus Chest proved to be an exciting and rewarding time for the women of Muldrow 9-12. Joining other residents from Adams Center, the coeds sponsored a pony ride at the carnival which was a huge success with the children.

Christmas was also a busy time for Mul-drow. With all the parties, tree-decorating, caroling, and gift-exchanging, there was only enough time left for studying.

Drug Discussion Panel Held by Tarman 2, 3

As a part of freshman honors housing, residents of Tarman 2 and 3 sponsored a drug panel discussion this year. They invited a doctor, an ex-drug addict, and several students to discuss and answer questions about the effects of drugs.

The dorm was also involved in Feminine Focus Week, which included a series of lectures by successful women on the woman's place in today's world.

President Jackie Haws and Vice-president Dana Hooper aided in planning a hayride with the freshman boys' honor dorm. Debbie Tung and Dawn Anna served as resident advisors.

Tarman 4, 5 Cleans Duck Pond with Walker

Freshman honors women of Tarman 4 and 5 teamed with freshman honors boys of Walker Tower for a picnic and a well-spent afternoon cleaning the park grounds of the duck pond off Lindsay Street.

Dorm President Judy Mathews pooled the eager residents' talents for Campus Chest Week activities and set up a marriage booth. The women also entertained underprivileged children at the Campus Chest Carnival. The coeds were also active in intramural football, tennis, volleyball, and ping pong.

Tarman 6 and 7 Hosts Guest Speakers

Residents of Tarman 6 and 7 enjoyed participation in a variety of academic programs, which included guest speakers from the university to explain those academic programs available to freshmen.

The dorm raised money for Campus Chest and sponsored underprivileged children at the

Dads' Day was only one of the activities planned by officers Pat Wadsack, president; Donna Newby, vice-president; and Leslie Miller, secretary. Sherry Curtis was resident advisor.

Tarman 8-12 Homecoming Float Places 2nd

Second place honors for its homecoming float went to Tarman 8-12 this year. Other activities included the Christmas formal held in Couch Center, the Festival of Lights program and intramural football and softball.

Two outstanding residents were Dana

Weaver, member of the President's Honor Roll and the Medical Society, and Judy Luckowski, also listed on the President's Honor Roll, president of the Student Nursing Club, CWCC representative and recipient of an Alumni Development Scholarship.

Evans Sells Coke Dates at Booth

The residents of Evans House, an upper-class women's dorm, got off to an early start with campus events. For Campus Chest, residents decided that slave sales were becoming too common, so Evans women hit on the idea of selling "coke" dates to the highest bidder. Also for Campus Chest, the girls entertained twelve orphans at the Kids' Day Carnival.

Christmastime saw Evans residents preparing for dorm festivities, and plans were made to contribute gifts to Central State Hospital patients.

Evans was pleased to win third place in the dorm decoration contest. The girls were also proud to have Mary Bell in the semi-finals for SOONER Yearbook Beauty. Leading Evans this year was President Becky Philpott.

Davis Sets Up Judiciary Under Government

Upperclass dorm Davis House became self-governing this year. The residents adopted a constitution that provided for a house court to be led by the dorm president. A judiciary consisting of three floor representatives and two representatives at large was also a provision of the constitution.

Campus Chest Trophy Awarded Forbes

Forbes House was this year's recipient of the Campus Chest trophy given to the group raising the largest sum of money. The residents of Forbes collected $125 by selling caramel apples and by sponsoring a water dunking booth.

Forbes House is unique in that it is a para-medical dorm. All residents are majoring in some field of medicine, such as in nursing or pre-med.

Dorm activities included volunteer answering services for the Cerebral Palsy telethon at the Oklahoma City Civic Center and a Christmas semi-formal.

Sooner Spirit Slogans Donned Herrick

Herrick House did its share of boosting the Sooner Power of Big Red this year. Each week the front of the dorm was decorated with a slogan giving support and inspiration to the OU football team.

Herrick received second place in the Cate

Center door decoration contest during Christmas.

During National Black History Week, the women of Herrick sponsored films from the series "Of Black America." Three films were shown to interested spectators.

Holman Joins Brother Dorm in Activities

Holman House stressed compatibility among its residents this year. Jointly sponsoring a Campus Chest pizza booth, parties, and hayrides with their brother dorm Sanger House, the women became involved in campus events. A successful and popular activity was weekly sign painting, promoting Sooner spirit for football games.

Holman's motto, "to bring the girls together and allow each to establish her individuality," was its ultimate goal. Leading Holman this year was President Viva Ashcroft.

Discotheque Attracts Money for Charity

This year Hume House's activities were highlighted by Campus Chest. The women sold donuts in the morning, promoted a slave sale in the afternoon and entertained passers-by with a Las Vegas discotheque that evening. For a Thanksgiving project, Hume collected canned goods from each resident and donated them to needy families in the community.

The residents were also active in Cate Center intramurals, including touch football, volleyball, badminton, and table tennis. All these activities were led by President Beth Sherman.

Jordan Joins Crusade for Later Curfews

High on Jordan residents' list of accomplishments was the quest for more lenient freshman hours. The coeds of Jordan House conducted a survey throughout freshman dorms concerning this problem, thereby contributing to the over-all, campus-wide effort to relax freshman curfews.

The girls were also active in flag football, intramural volleyball and Campus Chest. One of Jordan's outstanding residents was its vice-president, Mary Lynne Oliver, who was in the cast of "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie."

Lawson House Women Tutor Students

Lawson House was a special tutoring dorm this year. Tutoring was available through the Office of Residential Programs for students who wanted or needed academic aid in their course work.

Lawson coeds co-sponsored a booth this year with brother dorm Oliver House. They raised money for Campus Chest Charity with such attractions as body-painting and selling soft drinks in a saloon-decorated lounge.

Outstanding residents included Edith Littlefield of the President's Leadership Class and Debbie Abbott, a candidate for the Ugly Man on Campus contest.

Kirk Coeds Lock and Check Own Rooms

Kirk's Koffee House was a unique and memorable booth for the women of Kirk House this year. The coffee house was Kirk's contribution to Dorm Day during the Campus Chest fund-raising campaign.

This year's residents set up an independent, self-governing system in which they locked and checked all rooms themselves. Initiated by dorm advisors Janis Bass and Nancy Olmstead, this procedure helped Kirk women to become better acquainted.

Phyllece Thomas, president of Kirk House, was Cate Center's candidate for the Beauty and the Beast Contest.

Intramural Squad Draws McCurtain Girls

A major project for McCurtain House this year was its tutoring program. This service provided help to women with academic problems from university paid tutors.

As active members of the Southwest Quad Squad, McCurtain participated in all intramural sports.

McCurtain's outstanding residents included Sally Mitchell, semi-finalist for AFROTC queen, and Sandy Farber, a Glenn Couch Scholar. Other activities the women participated in included Model UN, the OU Marching Band and Mortar Board.

BOTTOM ROW: Sandi Farber, Kendra Widner, Deborah Powell, Phyllis Wiggs, Sandra Warden, Beverly Gilmore, Mary Shoemaker, Carolyn Higgins, Janice Cherry. ## McSpadden Freshmen Begin Year Together

McSpadden House was the home of approximately 45 freshmen women this year. One of their big interests was intramural sports. The coed team placed in the volleyball championship under the direction of coach Cindy Dahlstrom.

Other activities included participation in Kids' Day and Dorm Night during Campus Chest. The residents also prepared for the center Christmas decorating contest. A Thanksgiving party and many room parties filled the social calendar.

McSpadden presidents were Phyllis Shadid and Ellen Belzer.

Film Series Highlighted at Oliver House

The Oliver House film series highlighted activities for the 1969-70 academic year. Produced by David Schanger, the series included such outstanding sports presentations as the 1956 OU championship football team, the Jets-Colts Superbowl game and the Mets World Series highlights.

Oliver House was also proud to boast that world famous lover and romantic Jerry Printz was among its members.

Pat Carr served as resident advisor for Oliver, a position new to university housing.

Parker Decorations Win Top Prize

Among the many activities participated in by Parker House were intramural sports. Led by athletic chairman Nick Dyer and Bob Turpin, the residents played football, basketball and softball.

At Christmas, Parker House was awarded first place in the Cate Center Door Decorating Contest. Parker won for outstanding design and presentation of its decorations.

During the second semester Joe Marlow was appointed a Conference on Religion chairman. He chose his committee and worked for the success of COR Week.

House officers were Charles Foushe, president; Dennis Marlin, vice-president; and Nick Dyer, intramural chairman.

Sager House Entertains Sister Dorm

The men of Sager House were involved in campus activities while maintaining commendable study habits. They placed in Campus Chest competition and were active in intramural sports.

Other activities included a hayride and two parties with Sister dorm Brooks House. The residents also participated in Sooner Scandals.

CROSS CENTER

Bass Entertains Orphaned Youths

A pretzel-eating contest was jointly sponsored by Bass House and Mills residents this year. The fund-raising Campus Chest booth was opened for Kids' Day. Contestants had to stuff down three pretzels in one minute to win. On a day especially for children, Bass entertained 39 orphans at the Campus Chest Carnival.

Alley Coeds Stage Late Walk-out

Residents of Alley House will long remember their contribution to Campus Chest during Dorm Day. The booth they constructed was both novel and entertaining. Called "Dare Me, You Pay, We Do" the women found their efforts rewarded by collecting a clear profit of $17.

Christmas was also a busy time for Alley House. The Christmas spirit was quite evident as the girls strung popcorn to decorate their tree and donated gifts to underprivileged children.

President Wendi Fofne helped organize dorm get-togethers such as the 11 o'clock walk-out which ended up at Shakey's for pizza.

Other officers of Alley leading the women through an active year were Vice-President Cynthia Barnes and Secretary Wylie Smith.

Naturally the one place on campus you would expect to find a clawing cat is in an alley.

Buchanan Lures Students to Marriage Booth

Women residents of freshman dorm Buchanan bounded with school spirit early in the year by their enthusiastic participation in Campus Chest. Luring wandering couples with their Marriage Booth, Buchanan women "married" students and took pictures of the event. The coeds also set up a Las Vegas casino.

To promote Christmas spirit, President Linda Goodstein helped organize a dorm party, and the women decorated a tree in the lounge. Exchanging names and presents brought the residents closer together.

Burton Fortune Teller Mystifies Orphans

"Slave for Sale" echoed through Cross Center as the women of Burton House raised money for Campus Chest. The residents also hosted a Halloween party for several of the community's orphans. The lounge was decorated with black lights, and a fortune teller added to the authentic atmosphere.

A picnic at Lake Thunderbird drew Burton women out of their rooms to the diverting greenness of the lake area. Indoor parties also highlighted the year as plans for a dorm Christmas party and an End-of-the-Year party were finalized by officers Jane Ziegle and Beth Goldstein.

Couch Residents Experience Coed Living

Couch South 4 was occupied by women honor students this year, while Couch South 3 housed adult women. The experience of coed living was enjoyed by the women as Couch South 2 housed adult men.

Residents of 3 and 4 were guests at a December party, capping the men's four-day holiday celebration. The game "Thumper" was played into the night.

Santa Makes Appearance at Ditmars House

Ditmars collected the most money in Cross Center for Campus Chest with their successful slave sale. The women earned $97 by selling resident slaves to work for buyers.

Santa Claus paid a visit to Ditmars this Christmas, but dorm President Barbara Marcuse was unexplainably absent. Furthermore, Santa's "HO HO" was strangely high-pitched.

A year-long feature of Ditmars was the awarding of prizes to residents for such achievements as the loudest laugh, and to the most deserving of all, the Fickle Finger of Fate Award.

Kelly Coeds Throw Psychedelic Dance Party

Freshmen women from Kelly House will long remember their psychedelic "dance party" given for the men of Smith House.

Donating time and money to various campus activities, the women hosted several children at the Kids' Day Carnival and on Halloween took orphans trick-or-treating throughout Cross Center. Kelly coeds also decorated their lounge and planned games for the children to play.

Kitchens Coeds Spook Orphans on Halloween

On Halloween, Kitchens residents entertained orphans in their "homemade" spook-house, complete with eerie cobwebs and dangling skeletons. From there, the women and their miniature escorts traveled to various dorm rooms trick-or-treating.

Kitchen House coeds boomed with Sooner

Outstanding residents were Cherie Kelley, Student Action and Inner City Tutoring Workshop member, and Marcia Schupbach, University Scholar.

McCain Introduces Coeducational Sports

Its residents active in intramural sports, McCain House was the first dorm to introduce coed sports to Cross Center. Among other activities was work on Campus Chest for Cross Center, a Halloween party for orphaned children and several other parties with other dorms.

The men of McCain boasted outstanding campus leaders working with the Model UN and in the President's Leadership Class.

Mills Men Sponsor Underprivileged Kids

Men of Mills House participated in a variety of activities during the year. Underprivileged children were sponsored at a Halloween party by Mills residents. The dorm entered a booth in the Campus Chest Carnival and invited several children to Kids' Day. The men also sponsored Indian high school students at their state-wide convention.

A drug seminar and a Hawaiian luau were among the social activities. The house took third place in residential housing football. Other intramurals included basketball, volleyball, softball, and track.

Naifeh House Men Select Resident Advisor

The men of Naifeh House had the privilege of being the second house in university housing to select their own resident advisor. There were eight candidates selected by the University, and one was chosen from among them.

With great sports enthusiasm and full attendance at all of their games, Naifeh residents placed second in basketball intramurals.

Prentice House OU's First Model Dorm

The first model dorm on the OU campus, Prentice House, hosted University President J. Herbert Hollomon at a special dinner. The model dorm program gave residents an opportunity to govern and discipline themselves.

Activities at Prentice included several parties, in the typical OU tradition, and a dunk-ing booth at Campus Chest.

Active in sports, the men of Prentice were champions of Cross Center in intramural football.

Mike Bowers served the dorm as resident advisor and president under the new program.

Vance Has Navy Exchange Student

Vance House, the Navy dorm in Cross Center, featured a Naval exchange student this year. Massood Javadi served in the Iranian Navy while living at home. He was interested in learning more about the American Navy and thus moved into Vance House at Cross.

A very sports-minded dorm, Vance House participated in all intramural sports this year. The men received the Cross Center hockey championship.

Serving the dorm as officers were Rick Riley, who presided over weekly meetings, and Mike Alridge, who was vice-president. Bob Long was athletic chairman.

Interested in expanding their education beyond the classroom, residents of Walker 3 East participated in various campus activities. They joined in the Experimental College, begun this year at OU, and initiated a discussion group within their own dorm. Topics of this discussion group, referred to as the Intensive Learning Community, included vandalism; the Jones Family Grandchildren, underground newspaper on campus; and an intensive learning experiment.

The men of 3 E also participated in Campus Chest activities, adopting 20 orphaned children on Kids' Day. The students took the children to the Campus Chest Carnival.

Officers of the dorm were Dave Johnson, chairman; Jim Bridgett, vice-chairman; and Edwin Berger, secretary-treasurer.

Walker 3 East intramural chairman Randy Blair discusses wrestling maneuvers with his opponent.

A group of Walker 5 East men sit in conference devising plans for their next spook attack on Walker 4 West.

Walker 5 East Creates Constitution

During the school year, the men of Walker 5 East were engaged in a variety of campus activities. In the fall, the dorm acquired the distinction of being the first freshman dorm to create a house constitution and have it approved.

Besides dorm government, intramural sports involved 5 East residents in their favorite sports. Football, basketball, golf, and wrestling received the greatest emphasis.

Dawson Lasseter was resident advisor of the dorm, and Jack Hillman was president. Other officers were Bob Yeatts, vice-president, and Marshall Brantmeier, secretary-treasurer.

BOTTOM ROW: Randy Nemitz, Pat Patterson, Jack Hillman, Rick Van Krevelen, Henry Kidd, Dawson Lasseter. ## 4 W Places in Walker Tower Intramurals

Service projects were prominent among the activities of Walker 4 West this year. During the Christmas season the dorm made a generous donation to several needy families in the Norman community.

The men also made an outstanding effort in intramurals, placing second in the Walker Tower competition.

Leading the dorm in their activities were officers Les Clary, president, and Bruce Urband, vice-president. Responsible for finances was Bruce Harroz.

Walker 5 W Becomes Active in Campus Life

The spirit and unity of Walker 5 West was demonstrated vividly this year when they won the Walker Center championship for intramural football. The residents displayed diversified interests and participated in many campus activities, including the Model UN.

Resident Advisor Bill Welk was assisted by dorm officers Skip Stephens, president; Bob Womble, vice-president; and Allen Neuman, secretary-treasurer. Organizing the 5 West team in intramural competition was Jim Ritter, athletic chairman.

8 E Houses Outstanding Students

The residents of Walker 8 East displayed a vital interest in current university matters and in the future of the university community this year. The residents led a series of discussions with various administrators, including Vice-President David Burr.

Both campus and dorm activities played important roles for 8 East men, as exhibited by the scholastic and campus activities of Charles Park, University Scholar, and John Harnes and F. T. Eyre, delegates to Model United Nations.

John Harris served as resident advisor both semesters. Dorm officers were Robert Lilburn, president; Bill Remmert, vice-president; and Stuart Perlow, who served as both secretary and treasurer.

8 W Conquers Rival 8 E in Football

Comparable to the Kansas City Chief's Super Bowl victory was that of Walker Tower 8 West's. In a game of Sooner football, 8 West won over arch rival 8 East shortly after the intramural season had ended. The final score of the game was 12-8.

The men of 8 West also sponsored a coffee house as their money making booth in the campus-wide, fund-raising project, Campus Chest. Other activities included a function in downtown Norman's Coronado Inn with the residents of a women's housing unit.

Dave Yelton led 8 West as president and held weekly dorm meetings. Bruce Hallos served as vice-president, and Ron Wilgins was secretary-treasurer. Ron Myers arranged social activities, functioning as social chairman.

Walker 7 West Boasts University Scholar

The men of Walker 7 West participated in athletics and the fund-raising campus project this year, Campus Chest, among other campus and dorm activities. The primary goal of the dorm was to participate in all intramurals.

Glenn Ford brought recognition to 7 West as a University Scholar.

The officers of 7 West conducted weekly organizational meetings. Glenn Ford served as president, and Doug Davis was vice-president. Jeff Cox was secretary-treasurer. Acting as resident advisor was Gary Baker.

Walker 9 W Mizel Wins Dart Competition

Walker 9 West men participated in a busy intramural sports schedule. Football, basketball, wrestling, and softball interested the men, but their biggest boast was the dart championship, won by Gary Mizel.

Nine West residents held two major parties, showed movies, and bought a color television for their lounge, later giving it as a wedding present to former resident advisor Ron Stites.

Walker 12 Hosts Aborigine, Tropi's

Walker 12 men invited an Australian Aborigine to be a guest at the dorm for a semester. Zulu Hippocrates arrived with a supply of raw lizards and literally camped out on the floor landing at the head of the stairs. Throughout the semester Walker men learned to take precautions as the whiz of boomerangs echoed down the halls. As a result, because of their interest, residents have circulated a petition requesting that boomerang hurling be included in OU intramural sports.

Outstanding residents in the dorm included three Tropi's from New Guinea, brought to America by their mother, Miss Ing Lynk. In all, the men of Walker 12 profited by this contact with people different from themselves.

Walker 11 Men Stress Studying, Intramurals

Walker 11 men, mostly upperclass, were busy this past year in both football and basketball intramurals. In another phase of dorm life, the residents applied themselves and their attitudes toward academic concerns and grades.

Larry Neidich and Patrick Cross, an honor mathematics major, were instrumental in writing the dorm's constitution. Richard Cullison, another outstanding resident, was a member of the Student Court and presided in the Nafissi trial. Patrick served as president of the dorm, and Richard aided as vice-president.

WILSON CENTER

Hester House Coeds Win Red Cross Trophy

Hester House coeds won a trophy this year for the largest number of donors from independent housing during the Red Cross Blood Drive. Residents of the dorm also gave a caroling party for orphans at Christmas and gave a food basket to a needy family in Noble.

Mina Izadi from Persia was the foreign student living in Hester. Maggie Melton led the dorm as president, aided by Carmen Negroni, vice-president; Marthenia Miller, secretary; and Liz Guild, treasurer. Martha Holmes, a senior majoring in piano, was resident advisor.

Council Plans Social Activities

Activities sponsored by the Wilson Center Presidents' Council, led by President Richard Hess, included a Dads' Day Reception; orphans' Christmas Party; a campus-wide dance, featuring the Fabulous Flippers; a week of social concern; and a special Residential Halls Week.

The Center was also visited by an array of well-known speakers which included Cecil Williams, NAACP leader; theologians Dr. Richard Rubenstein and Dr. Bundeen Gilkey; and State Representative Archibald Hill. The general attitude of the Council and Center was one of concern.

WILSON CENTER PRESIDENTS' COUNCIL: Diana Robb, Alfred Bell, Bob Martie, Rick Hess, Harold Andrews, Doc Kutner, Alvin Wakefield, Peter Catadano.

Boyd Recruits House Constitution

Boyd House residents were quite active in intramurals this year, particularly in the favorite Sooner sport—football.

Boyd's victory in intramural football over arch rival Worcester House prompted a victory party held shortly after the game. In basketball Boyd maintained an "A" and "B" team.

The men of Boyd held elections this year and recruited a house constitution, something new in dorm life at OU.

Boyd House participated in the campus-wide charity project, Campus Chest, and collaborated with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority to sponsor a booth.

Franklin International House has been on campus for over five years. During this time it has housed students from all over the world.

Persia, Peru, Taiwan and Turkey.

Under the supervision of Turner Blount, Director of International Student Affairs, Franklin House offers a warm and hospitable atmosphere of mixed cultures.

Lincoln Boasts Effective House Government

Lincoln House boasted a very complex, yet effective house government. Dorm president Alvin Wakefield headed the executive branch, while Steve Nyman directed the house judicial board. Eight representatives from different wings of Lincoln sat as a legislative body.

In the house resided both of Wilson Center's student congressmen, Terrence Smith and Bill Wray. Resident advisor Joe Brent Clark represented OU in Rhodes Scholarship competition.

Lincoln men excelled in intramurals, winning the Wilson Center football championship and achieving success in basketball and softball.

Robertson Men Become Campus Leaders

Robertson dorm housed several students outstanding on campus this year. Bob Sellman served as president of the Parachute Club, and Charles Davis presided over the Wheel-chair Club meetings. John Doesdurg was president of Pershing Rifles.

The men of Robertson sponsored a dance at the Twin Lakes Country Club and a keg party at Lake Thunderbird. The residents also hosted a hayride through Boomer Sooner Country.

Sequoyah Features Class-Integrated Housing

Sequoyah House also provided classroom space in its second floor lounge for English and history courses during both semesters. It was the only dorm to be used for this purpose.

Whitehand Men Sponsor Bicycle Marathon

Whitehand residents held a bicycle marathon during Residential Hall Week. Planning was directed by Glenn Radovich, who served as chairman of Whitehand's board of governors.

Whitehand men sponsored a Campus Chest booth and children on Kids' Day. A post-holiday party was held after Christmas vacation. Dorm residents also participated in intramural football, basketball, volleyball, and softball.

Outstanding Whitehand men included Joe Fallin, student congressman and chairman of the Judicial Committee; Bill Kennedy, center president; and Val PIPPS, MUN Delegation Chairman.

Worcester Wins Wilson Center Basketball

The major activity of Worcester this year was the painting of the hall walls. The enthusiasm even spread to include the floors.

In February the Worcester basketball team won the Wilson Center championship for the second straight year.

Ma's House Holds Warm History

If memorable moments were worth but a penny apiece, "Ma" Richter would be rich indeed. In 1948 she and her late husband operated the first "football house" on Jenkins Street with housing and meals for the Sooners until the team moved to Jefferson House in 1956.

Now located at 215 E. Boyd, former home of David Ross Boyd, OU's first president, Mrs. Richter provides a warm atmosphere for 25 students who call her place "home."

This past semester nine foreign countries were represented among her brood, including Argentina, Venezuela, Panama, India, Persia, the Republic of China, Taiwan, Norway and Cuba.

Ma's House, once home of OU's first president, David Ross Boyd, is located at 215 East Boyd.

Jefferson House Boasts Athletes

Jefferson House, home of Sooner athletes, boasted outstanding residents in the world of OU sports and in the larger university community.

Scott Harrington, president of Jefferson House, also served as social chairman of the Varsity O-Club, was a member of President Hollomon's Advisory Committee, was selected to the Big Eight and all-district baseball teams the past two years, and was captain of the baseball team for the second straight year. Dennis Cotner, captain of the track team, was also Big Eight champion in the 440 indoor and was second in the NCAA meet in the 440 indoor. Phil Weiss was the 200-yard and 400-yard medley Big Eight Champion.

George Rives, a senior in finance, served Jefferson as counselor.

Washington Basketball Players Excel

Washington House residents were members of the varsity sports teams, most of them in football and basketball. The athletic dormitory was composed of men on athletic scholarships, and all the residents were outstanding in sports.

Washington House was led this year by its president, Scott Harrington. Edd McNeil, a junior in the College of Law, was its counselor, aided by Dan Jordan and Gary Thompson. The dorm's Student Congress representative was Bruce Stensrud, outstanding senior in the College of Business Administration, member of Pe-et, ODK, Gamma Gamma, Who's Who, and a SOONER Yearbook Man of Distinction.

The Varsity O-Club Banquet was the main social event of the season. Another special accomplishment of basketball residents was the OU basketball team's participation in the NIT in New York.

For the third consecutive year the Alpha Chi Omegas won the annual Campus Chest Beauty and the Beast contest. This year, teamed with Beta Theta Pi, over $1,400 was raised for the campus-wide charity drive.

Joining in the Christmas spirit Lambda Chi's and Alpha Chi's sponsored a party for orphans. At the party, held at the Lambda Chi House, refreshments were served and Santa Claus aided in presenting gifts. Prior to the party each Alpha Chi had gone shopping with a Lambda Chi to buy a gift for the orphan they were jointly sponsoring.

A E Phi's Celebrate New House

The Alpha Epsilon Phi's goldfish booth placed first in the fund-raising Campus Chest Carnival. Tossing a ping-pong ball into goldfish bowls stumped students and children at the annual function for orphans.

This year the Alpha Epsilon Phi's moved into a new house on Elm Street. Highlighting the dedication was a luncheon hosting prominent speakers and guests with the University.

The AEPhi's headed their social calendar

Leslie Raskin was one of twelve calendar girls for the AEPhi's while Barb Goldberg was AEPhi Sweetheart. Betty Jo Feinstein was Sammie Sweetheart and Beth Freedman was Sweetheart for Sigma Nu. Anne Seigel was a Homecoming Queen finalist and Nancy Gottlieb was Junior Panhellenic President.

Alpha Gamma Delta forfeited their entry in the homecoming float contest and used money saved to donate to Cleft Palate Research. Sorority members financed a new wing to their old house giving them a new living room, two floors for extra bedrooms and more room for their housemother.

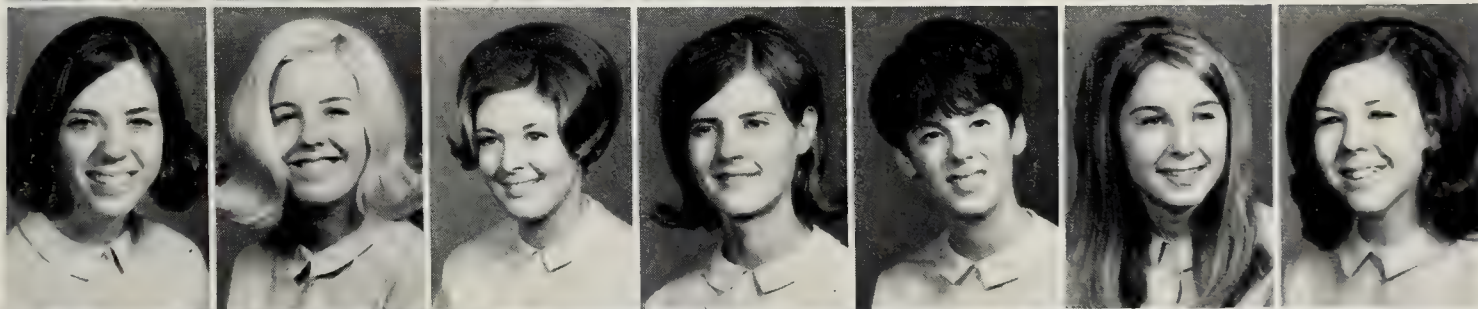

The Alpha Gam's boosted Sooner spirit this fall by hosting teas after football games. Their Mountain Party in the fall and their annual Christmas Formal further highlighted Alpha Gam's year.

Active on campus were Carolyn York, senior class treasurer; Sally McCravey, member of Orchesis and LaNita Harms, member of the Oklahoma Daily staff. Liz McCarthy headed organizations for the 1970 SOONER and Wendy Hilty was a member of Tassels and on the Daily staff. Linda White was a runner up for Miss Oklahoma City.

This year Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority sold slaves to raise funds for their national project Job Corps. Job Corps consists of rehabilitation work for lower class girls, ages 16-22, and helps train them to take jobs.

The sorority, comprised of members from OU, OCU and OSU, has been on the OU campus since 1962, but this was their first year to affiliate with Panhellenic.

In the spring AKA members had a Valentines Formal followed by a retreat held in Stillwater for all members as well as prospective members from all over the state.

Outstanding AKA members included President Gwen Carey, Secretary Beth Wilson and Pledge Trainer Sandra Rouce, all in the Afro-American Student Union. Brenda Jones was chosen Sphinx Queen for Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

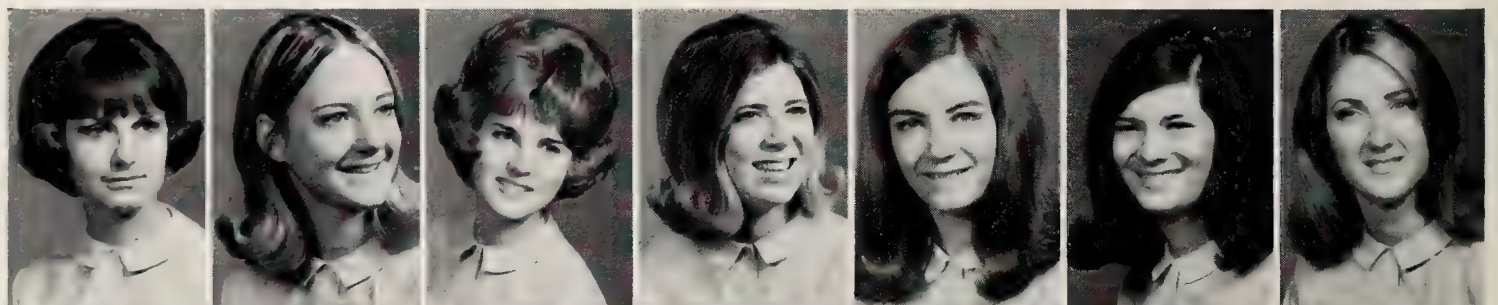

Pamela Cash, Gwendolyn Carey, Rosita Long, Sandra Rouce, and Doris Jackson huddle together to make plans for their spring party.

This year the biggest philanthropic project for the Alpha Phi's was collecting money for the Heart Fund. This annual project is done by all Alpha Phi's throughout the country. The members also gave a Christmas Party for orphaned and underprivileged children in the Norman community.

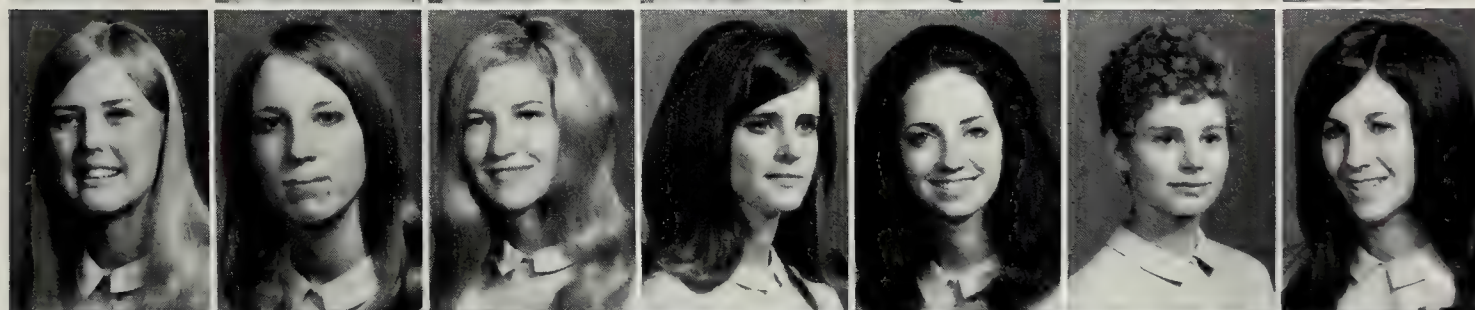

Alpha Phi's celebrated midsemester with a Mid-Term Smash October 31. Other highlights on the Alpha Phi's social calendar were their annual Christmas Formal, their Big-Sis-

Lil'-Sis Christmas party and their annual Mexican Phi-esta in the spring.

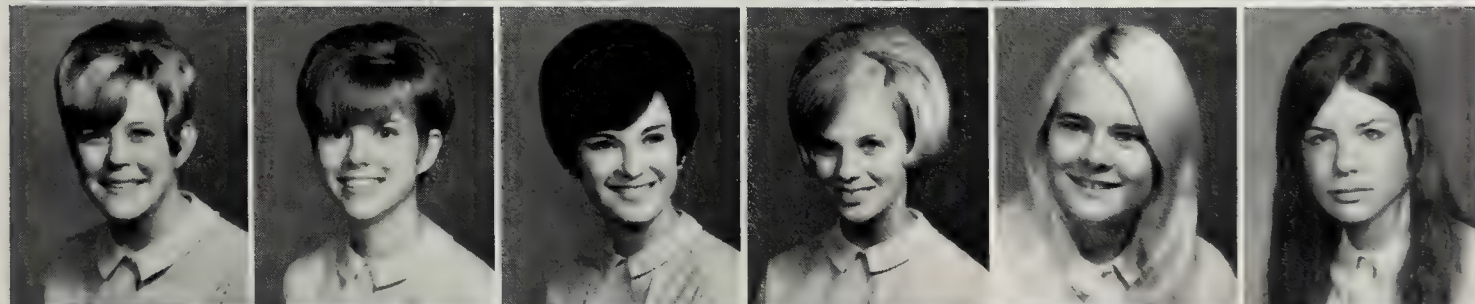

Outstanding Alpha Phi's were Chris Zeigner, who was active in Alpha Lambda Delta, Tassels and Alpha Epsilon Delta; Barbara Strom who participated in Alpha Lambda Delta and served as secretary of Union Activities; Gail Stagner who was active in Alpha Lambda Delta, and Marsha Gibbs, finalist for Pershing Rifles Queen.

Chi O's Boast Homecoming Contest

The Chi Omegas and ATO's boasted first place in the homecoming decorations contest. The sorority also entered an act in Sooner Scandals and participated in the University sing. As every year, the ChiO's opened a booth to raise money during Campus Chest.

This fall the ChiO's sponsored a Halloween Hayride while the winter was highlighted with a December Ski Party. The Ski Party included lunch and exchange of gifts and a dance that evening. A spring barn dance prepared ChiO's and their escorts for that last plunge at finals.

ChiO's included in their philanthropic projects a Halloween Party for the needy children of Norman given with the ZBT's. Before the party, they took the children to a football game. The Chi Omega's also gave a Christmas Party for orphans with Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

ChiO's had members in CWENs and Tassels.

Tri Delts Emphasize Scholarship

Tri Delts held a Spaghetti Dinner this fall to raise money for the Delta Delta Delta Scholarship. The award is given each year to an outstanding OU coed. Also in recognition of high grades Delta Delta Delta honored their sisters who excelled in scholarship by having a Scholarship Dinner once each semester.

In keeping with the philanthropic idea of sororities, the Tri Delts made Thanksgiving baskets for needy families. They also gave a group of orphans a Christmas Party with Delta Tau Delta Fraternity and donated money to the Campus Chest Charity project.

DGs Aid Blind by Selling Trees

This fall the DGs contributed to the Halloween of Cerebral Palsy children by giving a party for them with Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity. Other parties for the DGs included their annual Christmas Formal and their Pinafore Party in the spring.

In December Delta Gamma held their annual Christmas Tree Drive, raising money for a contribution to the National Conservation and Aid the Blind Project. Over $600 was raised. The pledges also initiated a philanthropic project which involved 15 hours of weekly readings to blind students. The DGs also placed second in the fund-raising Campus Chest Carnival.

Contributing to DGs' success on campus were Homecoming Queen Lindy Gans and Lynda Johnson, Miss OU. Teresa Pitts was one of the Top Ten Freshmen Women and Peg McMullen was active with Mortar Board and was chosen BWOC.

Delta Sigs Continue Second Year

During their second year on campus, Delta Sigma Thetas, led by President Deborah Elliott, sponsored a Christmas Toy Party, brightening the holidays for underprivileged children. They were also active in Negro History and Black Heritage Week, new functions at OU.

Again the Delta Sigma Thetas expanded their annual Delta Sigma Theta Five Point Program. This program, designed to assist in eradicating educational, social and economic inequities, covered the five areas of job opportunities, library services, mental health, international understanding and community service. Delta Sigs active on campus were Otherine Graham, chapter treasurer, member of Alpha Lambda Delta, and Nancy Lou Cannon, member of University Orchestra. Both women were active in the Afro-American Student Union.

Fund-raising for Campus Chest and volunteer work at the Cerebral Palsy Center led Gamma Phi Beta's Service projects this year. The Gamma Phi's also entertained underprivileged children by playing Santa Claus at a December Party. In the summer Nancy Kilpatrick worked at the Gamma Phi Camp for the Underprivileged in Vancouver.

A Mother Goose Costume Party was a new attraction for the Gamma Phi's this fall. The Wednesday before Dallas weekend they also held a red and white dinner for the OU football team to generate Sooner spirit for the Texas-OU game. Other parties were their annual Christmas Formal and in the spring, a Legacy Weekend Western Party, barbecue and hayride.

Summer plans for the Gamma Phi's include remodeling their house, inside and out. Last summer they added a rock garden and a flag pole to their landscape.

Thetas Hold Parties, Host Orphans

Kappa Alpha Thetas partied this year at their Big-Sis-Little-Sis Party. Flustered pledges searched high and low for their parallel in pajamas in a sorority hide and seek. Theta pledges tried to amend their actions during their indescribable Walk-Out with a Halloween Party for members. Thetas also hosted such parties as their traditional "Pansy Pile" with the Tri Delts in Oklahoma City and their annual Halloween affair. At the November party the Chi Omega and Theta seniors

"phantomed" the high spots of Norman.

KD's Excell Scholastically, Tutor

This year the Kappa Deltas centered their attentions on unfortunate children. The sorority sponsored a retarded child from Pauls Valley and tutored underprivileged children in the community. The KDs also sold Christmas seals, earning money for crippled children. Several members spent part of the summer as counselors for the Greek Week Summer Camp.

Among KD social activities were the Fall Astrology Party, Winter Christmas Party and Spring Hawaiian Luau.

Several KDs were outstanding scholastically. Cindy Burner, KD President, and Karen Campbell, KD Treasurer, were members of Tassels, University Scholars and on the President's Honor Roll. Maria Bustillo was also on the President's Honor Roll, and Marles Long was a member of Tassels and CWENS. Elaine Green served as secretary for Alpha Lambda Delta.

This year Kappa Kappa Gamma sponsored a National Centennial Fund which supported rehabilitation scholarships across the country. They continued through the winter with their annual Christmas Desserts, entertaining faculty, housemothers, presidents and social chairmen.

Kappas' social activities for the year included their annual Kappa Bar-B-Que, picnic and dance given this year on Halloween. Also, in the fall, they gave an Owl-o-ween party with the Chi O's. In May, the Kappas had their annual Monmouth duo, a party with the Pi Phi's.

Pi Phi's Help Norman Community

This year the Pi Beta Phi's expanded their involvement outside the University community. They tutored Norman grade school children and sponsored a Camp Fire Girls' troop. On campus the Pi Phi's raised money for the annual Campus Chest charity and hosted a Halloween and a Christmas Party for orphaned youths.

Other Pi Phi activities included the Pledge-Member party, a barn dance and barbeque; the Beaux and Arrows Christmas Formal; the Monmouth Duo with the Kappas and a pre-Dallas party for the south-end Greek houses. The Pi Phi's also entered an act in Sooner Scandals along with the Delta Tau Deltas.

Pi Phi's boasted members active in Angel Flight, the freshman and varsity cheerleading squads and Top Ten Freshmen Women. Anne Regier was Finalist for AFROTC Colonel and Michel Bernhardt was runner-up for Miss OU.

SDT's Play Santa In December

This year the Sigma Delta Taus, led by President Fran Wittenberg, collected money throughout their house for the United Fund Charity and hosted a picnic for children at the Cerebral Palsy Center. In December the SDT's and the ZBT's sponsored their annual Christmas Party for the Community's underprivileged youths. Pledges from both houses collected presents from local merchants a full week before the party. The party included a luncheon, skit and presentation of gifts.

The SDT's held their annual Western Party at Frontier City this year. Another big event at the house was the Spring Formal. Collaborating with the Phi Delts, the SDT's entered an act in Sooner Scandals.

Outstanding members included Carole Browning, finalist for Pershing Rifles Queen; Nancy Bogard, Finalist for Ruf Nek Queen; and JoAnn Fendler semi-finalist for AFROTC Queen.

The SDT's added oriental flavor to their fall rush by putting on Chinese skits and serving Chinese food.

Panhellenic Makes Changes in Rush

One of the drastic changes Panhellenic made this year was in their summer rush program. Rush as conducted by individual sororities was eliminated in favor of a Panhellenic Rush Tour consisting of four women from each sorority.

Panhellenic's projects included sponsorship of a 4.0 award given to those members and pledges achieving a 4.0 grade average, participation in Quality Earth Week and rally for Higher Education, funding of the 4.0 Dr. Dorothy Truex Scholarship, and sponsoring the Greek Camp for Underprivileged Children.

The council is composed of the president and a representative from each sorority on the campus. President of this year's council was Sherry Jones. Sherry was assisted by Suzanne Gilbert, Vice-President, Nancy Griggs, Secretary, and Elaine Green, Treasurer.

Junior Panhellenic Undertakes Projects

Junior Panhellenic, consisting of pledge class presidents and representatives from each sorority, undertook several money-making projects to raise funds for the Greek Camp for Underprivileged Children. These projects included Rent-A-Pledge, selling cookbooks, and selling carnations for Valentine's Day.

Led by President Nancy Gottlieb, they planned with the Fraternity Pledge Council for Greek Work Day at Central State Hospital. Pledges from all houses were kept busy an entire Saturday morning doing beneficial jobs. A reception honoring the Freshman Football Team for their fine record was held in the fall and a tea honoring new initiates was in the spring.

Other officers were Blake Kennedy, Michelle Ashlock, LeMoine Otjen, and Rebecca Powell.

Salinger Speaker For Greek Week

Pierre Salinger, former Presidential press chief, spoke at the Greek Week banquet, highlighting the week. Greeks sponsored several worthy projects in conjunction with Greek Week, including the annual sponsorship of the Greek Camp for orphans, projects as a part of Earth Quality Week, and efforts to coordinate Greek Alumni as a part of the week.

Other events included a state-wide seminar, Greek Games on the South Oval and the annual tug-of-war at the Duck Pond, the annual Powderpuff football game between sorority "jocks", a luncheon for housemothers, Fraternity and Sorority Exchange Dinners, and a special Sunday Church Service for Greeks.

Co-chairmen for the event were Rob Stites, Dallas senior and Cindy Burner, Norman junior with Mike Mullally and Judy Smith serving as advisors.

Greek Revue Profits Aid Theatre Fund

Greek Revue was a vital part of this year's Greek Week. Chris Thompson served as director of this year's show with the profits of the performance being donated to the Rupel J. Jones' Theatre Fund.

Greek Revue again toured military bases in Oklahoma during Spring Break as it has done for the past two years. Volunteer student talent from many of the Greek houses formed the base for the show. In the past the Greek Week Revue has been used as a benefit show for IFC-Panhellenic Summer Camp for underprivileged children.

The Greek Week Revue has performed at Ft. Sill, Altus Air Force Base, and Sheppard Air Force Base for servicemen. Greek Revue was first produced on OU campus in the spring of 1968 and has been an annual success each year.

IFPC Sets Up Two New Goals

The Interfraternity Pledge Council set up two goals this year. These were to build the membership of the Council and to unify the pledge class at OU. The Council met these goals through Greek Work Day and other Greek functions.

The Council participated in pledge football, basketball and softball. They also honored the freshmen football players and gave blood during the campus drive, further contributing to the September goals.

This year's leaders were Pat Emery, president, and Rocky Rockett, secretary. William Clark served as 1970 treasurer.

Mike Mullally, assistant director of residential programs for fraternities, and Bill Johnstone, graduate assistant, served as advisors to the Council.

IFC Ends Fall Fraternity Rush Week

The Interfraternity Council broke tradition and voted to end the annual fall rush week for fraternities. The former rush week is replaced with an open rush system and affects the 1970 fall semester. The main function of the IFC is to regulate pledging, rushing, social and intramural activities among the 24 fraternities.

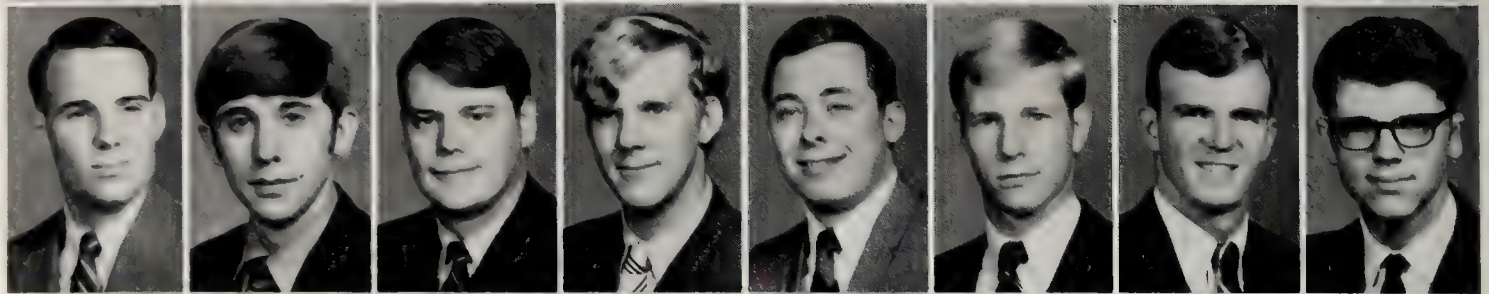

Under the leadership of president Wayne Gary, the IFC sponsored a Greek Week Exchange, the Greek Revue, and a summer camp for underprivileged children. Membership in the IFC consists of the officers, each fraternity's chapter president and one other representative.

Acacia Has Fiftieth Anniversary

Acacia Fraternity successfully completed its fiftieth year at OU making various improvements on the house and taking an active part in service, social and athletic activities. In the annual Blood Drive Acacia had almost 100% participation. In scholarship over one-half of the members earned above 3.0 for the first semester's work.

Social events for the year have included the Christmas Formal, Night on the Nile Party, a Fiftieth Anniversary party and a Province Retreat for Acacia chapters at OU, OSU, Central State and Arkansas. Outstanding men in the OU chapter have been Jim Manzelmann who was All-Greek in football and on the Navy ROTC team, and Pat Connor who was with Army ROTC football team, a member of Sigma Tau and a Distinguished Military Student. With the addition of a new TV room and other improvements, Acacia has enjoyed a profitable year.

Alpha's Aid in Black Heritage Week

During the year the Alpha Phi Alpha's participated in the activities of Black Heritage Week which included the naming of Miss Black OU and the sponsoring of a talk by basketball star Bill Russell.

In order to help black orphans in Oklahoma City, members had tentatively made plans for establishing an annual Christmas and Thanksgiving party. Activities that sparked the social life of the Alpha's were "Alpha on the Move", a party given by the OU chapter for Alphas over the state and a party for the campus that was held in the Student Union to introduce Alpha Phi Alpha on campus.

Officers for the year were Delbert DeWitty, President; Jafus Cavil, Vice-President; Julius McElroy and Glenn Hawkins were Secretaries; Roy Moses, social chairman; and Linton James, dean of pledges. John Coleman served as advisor to the fraternity.

Parties Highlight Alpha Sig Year

The Alpha Sigma Phi's held many parties this year. The year got off to a rolling start with a "Weekend in Juarez" party and ended with a "Bayou Bounce" in the spring. Between the two activities came an Orphan's Christmas Party, a Mad Hatters Ball and a Pajama Party. The highlight event of the year was the naming of Sara Short as the 1969 Talisman Rose Queen at the Talisman Rose Formal in March.

Two outstanding Alpha Sig members were Gil Haas and Doug Munro. Gil, who served as president of Alpha Sig, was a member of Gamma Gamma and a recipient of the John Roberts Award for excellence. Doug was head drum major of the "Pride of Oklahoma," a recipient of the Lottinville Award and an Outstanding Freshman. Both were members of Phi Eta Sigma. Other officers included Bob Moore, Bill Shipley, Steve Rogers, and Dennis Thies.

This was the 55th year for the famous Old South Ball as Kappa Alpha celebrated the oldest annual party on campus. The Sharecroppers Ball, the Plantation Ball and the World War III Party added to their list of social events this year.

OU's chapter of Kappa Alpha hosted the Southern Heritage Week at the Oklahoma City Cowboy Hall of Fame.

KA members netted many individual honors this year. Four men made the Dean's Honor Roll and three participated in the Model UN. Ed Rhoades received the John Gavin Memorial Scholarship and the KA pledge class ended the year with the highest grade average on campus.

Serving Kappa Alpha as officers were President Jim Reeder, Vice-President Mory Harsh, Secretary Tom Potts, Treasurer Bill Collins and Social Chairman Jim Vaughan. Mrs. F. D. Moore finished her eighth year as KA housemother.

Phi Kap House Given New Look

A complete remodeling of the Phi Kappa Sigma house was undertaken last summer. Paneling and carpeting was put in all rooms and halls with new furniture for the downstairs area.

The Phi Kap's were hosts to many parties this year—the Haunted House Party in November, the Christmas Party in December and the Black Gold Formal in April. The Sorority A Go-Go, OU's largest all campus dance, awarded a prize to the best dancer. Debi Lund of Chi Omega was this year's winner.

Besides being active socially the Phi Kap's were also grade conscious. Their pledge class marked second on campus while the entire membership was fourth.

Also the Phi Kap's were interested in service activities by giving a party for Cerebral Palsied children and a Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Sammies Win Football Trophy

Celebrating their semi-centennial year, the Sigma Alpha Mu's made a first in the history of OU's chapter. The sounds of victory echoed through the Sammy house as they rallied to their first intramural football victory.

"Bounce for Beats" the annual national charity drive was sponsored by the Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity. They hosted a star-studded basketball game with noted personalities from all over the country as the players.

In November the Sammies filled their house with fog and had a Misty Pajama Party. Other social events included the annual Desert Weekend, a Heaven-Hell party with the DU's, and the Hot Nuts Rush Weekend in the spring.

Teaming up with the Alpha Epsilon Phi's, the Sammies constructed a prize winning float in the Homecoming Float competition.

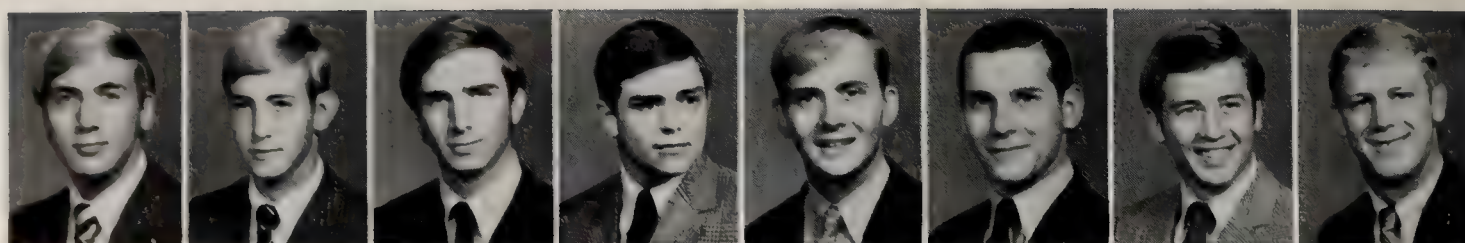

Kenneth Kaplan, Mark Schwartz, Barry Brody, and Steve Richman served as Sammie officers.

Sigma Chi's Restore Playground

Sigma Chi, this year, found their usual activities of parties and more parties overshadowed by their involvement in the restoration of a playground for the community's orphaned children.

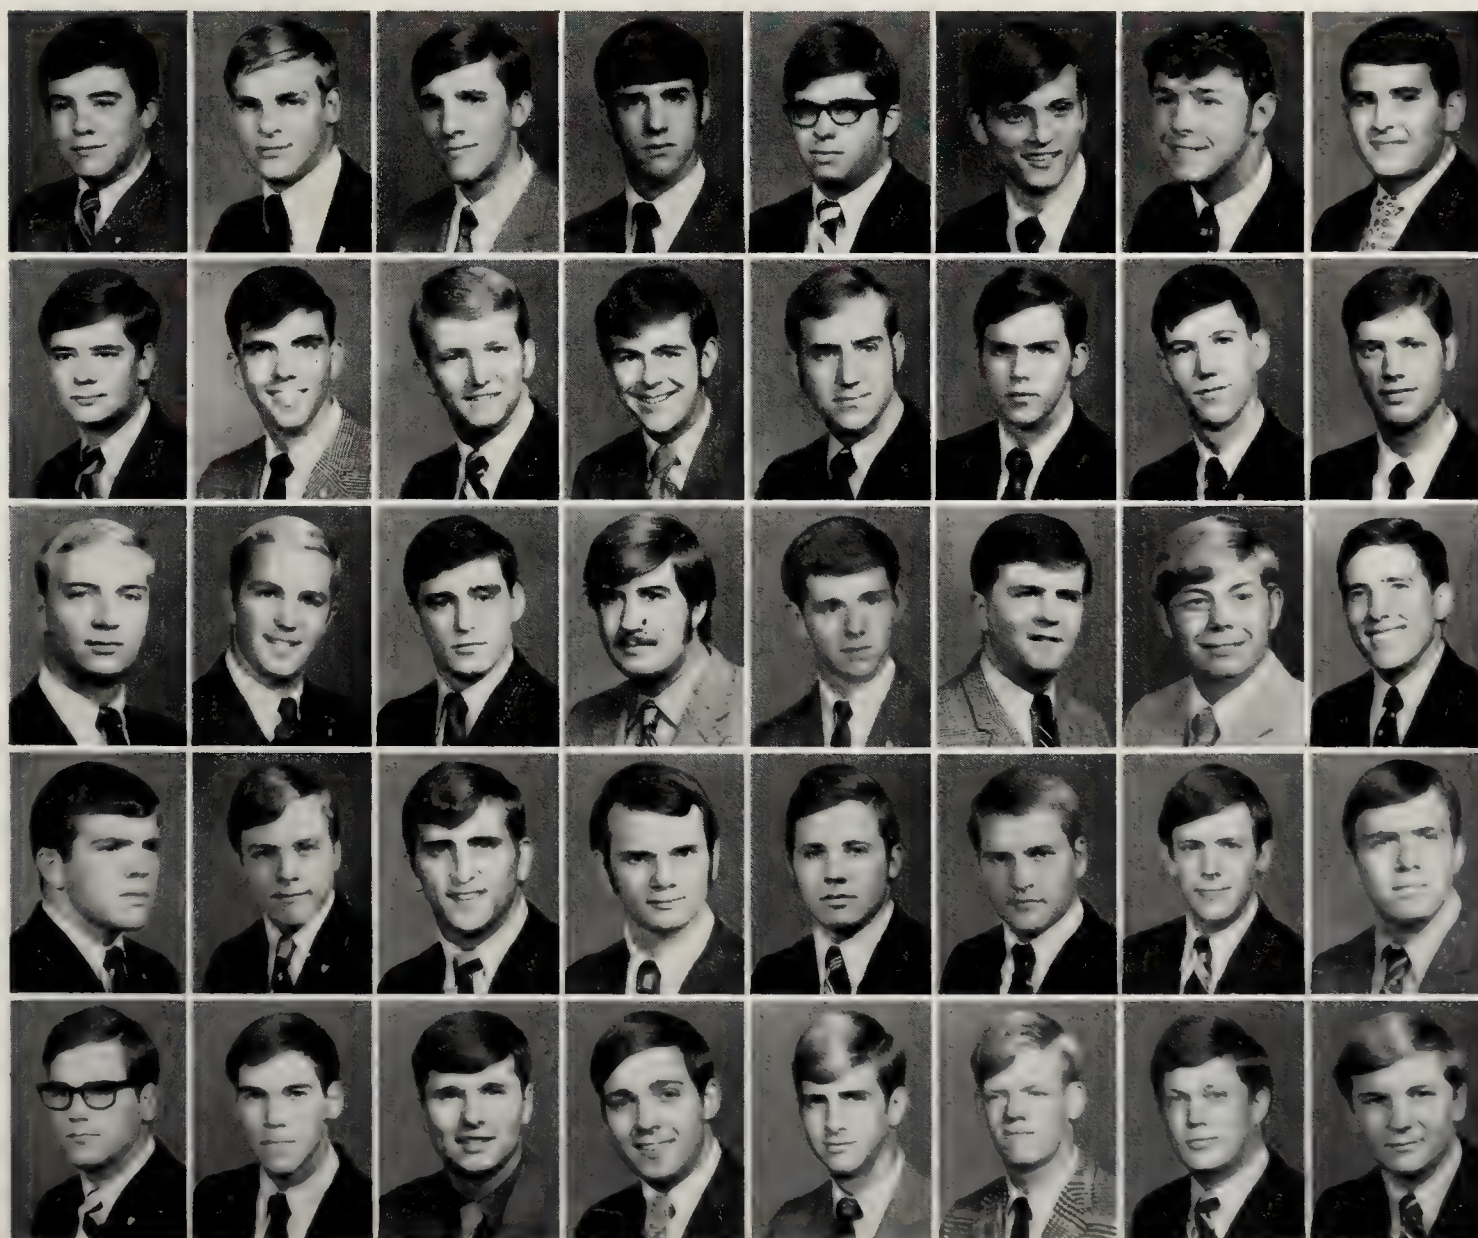

The members also played Santa to young orphans with a special Christmas Party.

Padding collided as the Sigma Chis won first place honors in Class A football and led in team spirit, winning more team championships than all other competitors.

Ruffles and pink lace joined athletics in the fraternity's annual Derby Day as the girls raced and relayed toward the championship trophy.

Sigma Chi Mark Houston was chosen outstanding Senior Man and Sooner Man of Distinction, and Chris Thompson was director of Greek Revue.

Sigma Nu's Complete Renovation

Renovation in chapter room and dormitory area combine to create a whole new look at the Sigma Nu house. Besides the interior decorating, there are plans for future expansion and central air-conditioning in the dormitory area.

The Annual Border Dance was in its 55th year. The party is among the oldest at OU and features rodeo type competition events for the sororities. Other parties included the Hobo Party, Christmas Formal and White Rose Formal at which the Sweetheart of the Year was crowned.

The Sigma Nu's are also very active on campus. The men hosted a courtesy rush for a new fraternity colonizing at OU this year. Other activities ranged from Campus Chest to Intramurals. They had four men on the varsity football team and five men on the varsity basketball team.

Sigma Nu officers include Larry Wiles, Gerry Westby, Steve Turney and Barry Davis.

Sig Eps Donate to Heart Fund

In cooperation with Alpha Phi sorority, the Sig Eps raised money in a heart fund drive this year and donated to the Oklahoma Heart Association.

Heading the social calendar for the Sig Eps were the Feast of Bacchus and the Indian Summer Party. The Girl of the Golden Heart Formal crowned the chapter sweetheart.

The Sig Eps will begin their 24th year at OU in the fall of 1970 in a new house. A peek at the plans shows a new way in fraternity living.

Outstanding Sig Eps were Pat Carr, general assembly President of Model UN and a member of Pe-et. Tom Zongker was membership chairman on Interfraternity Council and in Beta Phi Delta, national honorary and service fraternity. Tom Wisehart served as chapter President and Chip Douglas was Vice-President.

ZBT's Complete First Year

Fired by an affiliation with Zeta Beta Tau national fraternity the new Delta Gamma chapter completed a record year on the OU campus. After the formal chartering banquet in November the ZBT's launched plans for their new house.

The members also filled the year by sponsoring a Christmas party for underprivileged children in the old house and by holding a spring house weekend in April.

Heading the list of active members was Bob Watel, Zeta Beta Tau president. Michael Hollander served as front page editor of the campus newspaper, carnival chairman for Campus Chest and executive advisor for Sooner Scandals. ZBT officers included Vice-President Mike Tapick, Secretary Scott Hurowitz and Treasurer Jamie Lewis. In charge of social activities were M. M. Silvers and Al Greenblatt.

PLC Freshmen Attend Seminars

The President's Leadership Class is composed each year of approximately sixty students from high schools over the state.

As PLC freshmen these students guide visiting parents and students on campus tours, serve as hosts for university functions, and visit high schools to assist other students in planning their educational careers.

Members of the Leadership Class attend weekly seminars during their first semester at OU. Leading the discussions are university President J. Herbert Hollomon and other administrative members, internationally recognized professors, and students who hold top offices on campus. Each speaker describes his concept of leadership and encourages class members to take an active part in campus life and assume responsible roles in civic and state affairs after he leaves college.

OU Engineers Busy on Campus

With an impressive representation of ten engineers in fifty Student Congressmen, the Engineers' Club has obviously become more visible and more vocal on campus during the past year.

Being strong traditionalists, the Engineers' Club dates its annual dance and banquet in Engineering Week back to the early 1900's.

The highlight of the speaker agenda was one of the directors of the Manned Space Flight Program.

On campus, the engineers participated in Campus Chest, the Annual Engineering Open House, and in technical papers' contests.

Seven New LKOT Members Chosen

LKOT, The Loyal Knights of Old Trusty, was formed in 1920 as a secret engineering order. In the fifty years of its existence, the stated purpose of The Loyal Knights of Old Trusty has been to create harmony in engineering activities and to bring about the successful and appropriate celebration of St. Patrick's Day.

Membership in The Loyal Knights of Old Trusty is secret, with the members being revealed at a "Fire Out" of their last Engineer's Week celebration before graduation.

Membership in the order is the highest honor an engineering student can receive, and it has been stated by Brandon H. Griffith, sponsor, and by LKOT #42 that the coveted membership is an honor greater than that of an engineering degree, except that the one is required.

A pensive mood settles over the Model United Nations delegates as they listen intently to the speaker at the podium.

MUN Attendance Record Breaking

Established at OU in 1959, the Model United Nations weekend has come to be regarded as a fervent educational experience in the workings of the UN.

The model encompasses all the aspects of the national United Nations as it works in New York City. Any individual or group can apply for a delegation.

Model UN convenes in the Forum Building of OCCE in February of each year. Major stands on resolutions are taken which usually coincide with similar debates held in the United Nations General Assembly.

The Secretary-General this year was Larry Huffman, who presided over the sessions and directed the entire floor proceedings. Dr. Rufus Hall, professor of political science, served as faculty sponsor.

Larry Huffman served as Secretary General of the 1970 MUN.

UOSA Strengthens Student Power

Guided by Student President Ladd Greeno, Congress Chairmen Jack Edens, Dave Wanser, and Carl Edwards, and Superior Court Chief Justice David Butler, the University of Oklahoma Student Association, its constitution ratified in spring, 1969, was occupied by the goal of institutionalizing student power.

Acting to serve and protect university citizens, the UOSA began programs without precedent on campus. The Student Grocery Store, the Student Consumer Bureau and various investigative agencies and committees of the UOSA laid the groundwork for the protection of the student as a consumer. The Model Dorms Program aided selected housing units in establishing programs to enhance the quality of residential life by determining their own life-styles.

Through the Student Activities Board, the UOSA assumed the responsibilities of the activities on campus. An extensive system of Student Courts began student enforcement of student regulations. The court system ranged from Housing Unit Courts to the General and Superior Courts. The Traffic Courts heard appeals for traffic and parking tickets. The UOSA was represented before the court by the Office of the Student Attorney General, while a student charged was aided in his defense by one of the Public Defenders.

The Student Congress, composed of 50 members elected from housing districts, provided an outlet for the expression of student opinion and aided in formulating policies and programs of the UOSA. Accomplishments of the Congress included the creation of an Academic Appeals Board to hear cases of discrepancies in grading. Through its committee structure the Congress conducted surveys of student opinions on which to base legislation.

Accounting Club Hosts Speakers

With hopes of bringing about a closer relationship among those who have chosen accounting as their major area, the Accounting Club was founded at OU in 1931.

Yearly, the Accounting Club brings to the OU campus well known accountants from around the country. In October, W. S. Martin and Orlando Lockhart from Atlantic Richfield in Dallas, spoke on "Future Approaches to Petroleum Accounting."

The Accounting Club Annual Banquet is held at the close of the spring semester when keys are awarded to those Accounting Club members who have shown outstanding academic achievement.

Membership is open to any student in the College of Business Administration who is primarily interested in accounting.

Pre-Med Society Hosts Lecturers

Alpha Epsilon Delta, national honorary pre-medical society, enhances the knowledge of the undergraduate by sponsoring visits to medical centers and hospitals, lectures by noted educators and researchers, and films having to do with special interests in the medical field.

Alpha Epsilon Delta stresses and encourages the scholastic, inquisitive and communicative aspects of the undergraduate medical student's life. Members frequently spoke to and visited with practicing physicians, medical staff members, and medical faculty.

An affiliate society, the OU pre-med society allows those who cannot meet the strenuous national requirements to participate in Alpha Epsilon Delta functions to use the society to aid them in their scholastic efforts.

The monthly publication of the organization is the "Sooner Syringe".

APO Works for Various Causes

Alpha Phi Omega, male service fraternity, sponsored the annual Ugly Man on Campus contest. Other projects included the Red Cross Clothes Drive, serving as Student Congress and Homecoming election officials, painting the Student Congress mailbox, and participating in the annual OU Red Cross Blood Drive.

Alpha Phi Omega also sponsored a Western Party, a Brotherhood Brawl, and other activities.

Founded at Easton, Pennsylvania in 1925, Alpha Phi Omega currently has 513 chapters across the nation.

Baptist Students Offer Time, Effort

Baptist Student Union members contributed their efforts this year to the Cerebral Palsy Center on Tuesday nights and to the Exchange Avenue Baptist Mission Center in Oklahoma City on Friday nights.

Fourteen Bible study groups met weekly in the 1970 spring semester to consider practical topics helpful in the Christian experience. Small groups made weekend retreats to a ranch area available for activities in a removed setting.

A new face at the BSU was that of Wayne Wright, assistant director to Max Barnett. Margaret Shelton, former assistant, took a directorship in Seattle, Washington.

Noonday services at 12:30 to 12:55 p.m. Monday through Friday and Vespers at 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Thursdays formed the basis for group activities.

Campus Chest Has Carnival

The Campus Chest Executive Committee directs the fall campaign for charity fund-raising. A two-day, outdoor carnival culminated this year's activities for Campus Chest Week. It borrowed five fun-rides from an Oklahoma City park and had individual booths which consisted of stunts, games, and concessions in order to raise money.

A highlight of the drive was Kids Day with around 700 disadvantaged children being brought to the carnival where students met and sponsored them, complete with entertainment and goodies, for the entire afternoon.

The Faculty Auction was another event during the week's activities, with a sale of unusual faculty talents and odd items going to the highest bidder. The week was climaxed with the annual Beauty and the Beast Dance.

The 1969 chairman was Jim Sharrock; faculty sponsor was Anona Adair.

Theologians Speak During COR Week

Talks by Dr. Richard Rubenstein, Gabriel Longo, and Dr. Landon Gilkey highlighted Conference on Religion Week activities in February. Other popular events were discussions at various housing units, book displays, and film and folk singing festivals. A reception, planned by Gaia Thomas, was held for each speaker during the evening of his talk.

The aim of this year's theme, "Religion as involvement," was to make students reevaluate their religious beliefs and to provide them with information concerning the role of the church in dealing with contemporary problems.

Under Robert Stites, who served as chairman of COR Week, and faculty sponsor Dr. Thomas Boyd, Conference on Religion plans next year to expand its activities from one week a year to one week each semester.

CWENS members Belinda Burton, Lisa Kimrey, Mary Bertalan, and Pam Vennerberg make plans for the freshman 3.0 tea.

CWENS Has Second Busy Year

CWENS, a service honorary for sophomore women, became an affiliate of Pipers in the spring of 1969. CWENS strives to promote scholarship, leadership, and social awareness among freshman women.

Members of the organization are chosen on the basis of scholastic achievement and outstanding leadership qualities.

A tea and fashion show, held during the fall Howdy Week tapping and initiation, welcomed out-of-state freshman women to the university. Members also participated in a retreat held in the fall, sold pom-poms during football season, entered a booth in Campus Chest, and sponsored a CWENS leadership lab. Their 3.0 Tea was held in the spring to rush prospective members.

Led by Miss Anona Adair, sponsor, and Pam Henry, president, the group met twice during each month of the school year.

Dad's Day Sparks Autumn Weekend

"Wanted All Dads" was the theme of the 1969 Dad's Day. To welcome the dads, the Dad's Day Executive Committee, headed by Mark Hammons, chairman, sponsored a variety of entertainment and activities.

Highlighting the events were two new activities. The Dad's Day Revue, "Those Were the Days, or Will the Real Carmen Miranda Please Stand Up," was produced by sixty OU students. The second event, a "Pops" Festival, presented individual acts and was MC'd by Chuck Cissel.

OU alumni sponsored a pre-game luncheon, and various fraternity, sorority, and housing units also planned welcome dinners for the incoming dads.

Delta Sigma Pi Stages Seminar

Delta Sigma Pi, the professional business fraternity, staged a Young Presidents' Seminar during the first semester and toured the Lone Star Brewery and Western Electric Company. The group also distributed copies of the Business Today magazine to members of the College of Business.

The year's speakers included John Leftwich, a stockbroker for Bache Company, and a representative from John Roberts, Inc. Leftwich discussed the importance of knowing the market that your company serves.

Presiding at the weekly meetings was Mike Mallonee. Delta Sigma Pi was first founded at NYU in 1907. The OU chapter is now one of 150 in the nation.

Students Plan Investment Club

OU's Finance Club began functioning in 1953, a year after the club's founding at the University of Illinois. Its principal aim is to further knowledge of finance among students on campus.

Two speakers were slated for the fall and spring. They were Gail Grotts of the OU Employment Services and Harold Borlen of Merrel, Lynch, Pierce, Ferner and Smith.

In keeping with the increased specialization of business, the Finance Club will soon offer a separate investment club for its members.

Presiding at meetings was Walter Keating; Diane Rouse was secretary.

Advertising Society Attends Convention

Gamma Alpha Chi goals this year were to further professionalism in advertising and bridge the gap between the classroom and the business world. Gamma Alpha Chi is the national advertising fraternity.

Under the guidance of Mary Helen Montgomery, national executive director and faculty sponsor at OU, the club's members were able to complete a busy schedule of local projects as well as to attend the national convention at St. Louis and the regional conference at Hot Springs.

Current activities of the organization included selling oil company credit cards, planning layout and advertising in the Panhellenic Rush booklet and sponsoring Advertising Week.

Club Membership Based on Service

Gamma Gamma is a campus honorary organization for residents of Greek housing. Qualifications for membership include service to the university community, service to the Greek community and devotion to the individual house.

Members of the honorary are nominated by the respective fraternity and sorority houses.

New members are then selected by the past members from those nominated. Membership is limited to two per cent of the Greek system.

Sorority Serves Campus Community

Gamma Sigma Sigma service sorority has promoted service to the student body and to the community from the time of its founding on this campus in the spring of 1966. In the more than 150 chapters throughout the nation, the only qualification for membership is the desire and the willingness to do service to help others.

Annual activities continued this year were the orphans picnic, selling mums for Homecoming, and ushering at MUN. An awards banquet was held in the spring. Other projects included making puppets for a puppet show given to children in the Norman vicinity, a cancer drive, and a clothing collection for children in Vietnam.

Students Prepare For Homecoming

Homecoming is an annual fun activity for OU students, alumni and faculty. Henry Meyer, this year's chairman, says the only qualification for membership is "The ability to read, write and do a bit of arithmetic."

Held mid-football season this year's activities were on October 18. "Under the Big Red Top" was the theme with Dixieland music providing the entertainment in the South Oval. An alumni luncheon was held in the Union Ballroom and a Bar-B-Que fed those in the oval before the clash between the Sooners and Colorado Buffaloes. Lindy Gans was crowned Homecoming Queen at the game, and in the evening a pop rock and roll band played for the well-attended Homecoming Dance.

Helping Homecoming chairman with the arrangements were Patricia Heironymus, Karen Marriott and Harvey Row. Miss Anona Adair was sponsor for the organization.

Students Welcomed To Howdy Week

Howdy Week for 1969 stressed the concept of participation and had as its theme "1969—The Year of Involvement." In keeping with that idea, a series of new events were offered to welcome new students to the university. These events included a Religious Emphasis Day, a Black Emphasis Day, and speeches by such prominent Oklahomans as Jim Jones, Don Grieve, David Hall, and E. Melvin Porter.

The more traditional activities were also very successful. Large crowds attended the Activities Round-Up, a free dance with "The Boxtops" recording group, and a student film festival.

Working on this year's Howdy Week were Mark Hammons, chairman; Karen Ostroot, Kathy Ward, and Karen Campbell, vice-chairmen; Karen Goldman, art chairman; and Kevin Peters, treasurer.

Zodiac Signs Describe Love

Lambda Omicron is the astrological inquest organization.

VIRGO—Love is not always around for you, as you need a little practice in cultivating a clearly romantic view of things.

PISCES—Love to you is poetry and music, all in one.

CAPRICORN—Love is self-honesty and exciting discoveries.

LEO—Love is like a creative art to you, something to be molded to your satisfaction.

SAGITTARIUS—Love is taken lightly by you.

AQUARIUS—Love is like the sun to you; it keeps you warm.

VIRGO—Love and I exist as we are—that is enough.

Mortar Board Has Information Center

Mortar Board's Owl and Triangle Chapter organized an information center on graduate schools which is available for all students.

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary organization, taps new members in the spring of each year. To qualify for membership, a senior woman must show scholarship, leadership and service on the OU campus. Members must also have a 3.0 or better grade average.

Each year Mortar Board selects ten top freshmen women who have excelled in scholarship and activities the preceding year. This past year nine women were chosen on the basis of these qualities and announced at the Mortar Board Walk-Out in the fall.

The organization attended a Mortar Board section meeting at Tulsa in the fall. Janice Cherry was president, and Gail Groom served as secretary.

ODK Salutes Men Scholars

Omicron Delta Kappa national honor society for senior and junior men, helped bring faculty and students closer together by holding discussions with administrative officials concerning current campus problems and issues.

Not operating on a rigid program of activity from month to month, ODK gears its schedule toward helping young men who show academic promise as well as having distinguished themselves in various phases of campus activities and services. The organization also gives scholarships to freshman men annually as one of its projects.

Fall initiates were honored at a January dinner, and a second initiation was held in the spring for second semester selections. Officers were Jim Sharrock as president; Bruce Stensrud, vice-president; Ralph Guild, secretary; and recordkeeper, Carl Edwards.

Pe-et Members Name Top Ten Men

Pe-et, senior men's honorary, was founded in 1910. The purpose of the organization is to honor those senior men who have excelled in scholarship, leadership and general service to the university community.

The main activity of the group is the naming of the Top Ten Freshmen Men at the Pe-et Pow Wow. This event is held each year during the fall semester. Also a joint annual meeting with Missouri University's Mystic Seven, that campus' men's honorary, was held this year at the MU-OU football game.

The year's officers were Steve Edwards, who presided over the meetings, and Pat Carr, who assisted as vice-president. Bruce Stensrud served the organization as secretary, and Carl Edwards was this year's Pe-et treasurer.

SAM Publications

Attendance at a seminar of management was one of the many activities of the Society for the Advancement of Management. The group also sponsored the monthly publication The Sooner SAM.

This year members traveled to various companies in the state for their field trips, including the Sequoyah Carpet Mills, Tinker Field, Lin-Tempo-Vaught Aerospace Industries and the General Motors assembly plant in Oklahoma City.

A December Christmas party and a picnic in the spring were the social functions of the group, in addition to the regularly scheduled meetings. Two meetings were held each month, and business men were invited as guest speakers. Two such speakers were Matt Starovich, Sr. of Kerr-McGee and Dr. Clement Le-Pak of Western Electric.

Pharmacy Group Hosts Students

Sooner Pharmaceutical Association, the student affiliate with the American Pharmaceutical Association and the Oklahoma Pharmaceutical Association, held its annual Career Day to entertain state high school students on campus. The Career Day was held in March. The highlight of the career examining day was the luncheon sponsored by the OU club.

Senior students in pharmacy were honored by the Pharmacy Day in May when awards were given to outstanding students.

The Association publishes Sooner Antidote, a newspaper spotlighting happenings among pharmacists.

Ray Pearson was president, and assisting him was vice-president Ann Bonham. Handling the finances was Jim Huffine.

Lobby Sponsors Capitol Meeting

The Student Lobby for Higher Education is the organization of college students interested in improving Oklahoma higher education. Active Lobby chapters exist at ten state colleges, representing thousands of students. The Lobby works with the state legislature and interested citizens on behalf of higher education. It has a Speaker's Bureau, Legislative Relations Committee and Public Relations Committee.

This year the Lobby sponsored a mass meeting of the friends of higher education at the state capitol to make support of higher education a major issue of the 1970 political campaigns. The Lobby also supported a substantial increase in the financing of higher education, lowering of the voting age, protection of academic freedom and student rights, and reform of Oklahoma's tax structure.

Tassels Support Sophomore Sponsors

Tassels, the only organization by that name, is a scholastic and activity honorary for junior women at OU. Members must have at least a 3.0 grade average and must show outstanding leadership ability.

Tassels also supports the organization known as Sophomore Sponsors. These are sophomore women who go into the dormitories and counsel freshmen, helping them to become involved in university activities. Through the help given by the Sophomore Sponsors, freshmen are also aided in learning how to develop the necessary study habits to earn better grades.

Tassels participated in campus activities and rendered service to campus affairs whenever possible. Karen Vinyard, president, led the group, aided by Tamsen Murray, vice-president; Marilyn Gafford, treasurer; and Carol Stortz, who served Tassels as secretary.

Scholars Make Up Tau Beta Pi Group

Tau Beta Pi seeks to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their alma mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates in engineering. To be a member of Tau Beta Pi a student must be in the top eighth of his class if a junior, or in the top fifth of his class if a senior.

This year Tau Beta Pi members served as guides for Engineering Open House and erected a new monument near the Engineering Center in conjunction with Sigma Tau.

This year's president was Kit Wagner, and George Payne was secretary. The Tau Beta Pi chapter was established at OU in 1926.

Wazuri African Arts Featured by Union

Afro-American Student Union launched another active year with the opening of its Cultural Center, Wazuri. The Wazuri featured African and Afro-American arts.

The main activity of the year was Black Heritage Week, February 2-9. The theme of the week was, "What Happens to a Dream Deferred," and was dedicated to Martin Luther King. Cultural events of the week included a concert by poet Gylan Kain of Harlem, filmstrips on the Black Panthers and Africa, and a concert by gospel singer James Cleveland.

Students Sell Campaign to Campus Manual

Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity, worked on advertising sales for the Panhellenic Rush Manual and for Founders Day and also held its annual Advertising Recognition Week Program. This year's projects included the campus-wide promotional campaign for Standard Oil Company.

Founded in 1913 at the University of Missouri, membership in Alpha Delta Sigma is open to all students with an interest in advertising and who maintain at least a "C" average.

Engineers Highlight Industrial Speakers

American Institute of Chemical Engineers featured industrial speakers at each of its monthly meetings this year. The club's object was to aid in the development of the members through association with business and professional people.

Participation of the club in the spring's Engineers' Open House was to relate the public with the chemical engineer's role in the modern world. Fall and spring picnics provided extra fellowship for members and their dates. The organization was led by Ron Smith, president, and Dr. C. F. Colver, faculty advisor.

Engineer Students Host AIIE Conference

The American Institute of Industrial Engineers, the engineering technical society, spent the first semester preparing for the 1970 Region IX AIIE Conference which they hosted. This regional meeting represented 13 universities across the country. The AIIE was also host to the Senior Awards Banquet for engineering majors.

Meeting monthly in the Student Union, the AIIE was presided over by John A. Kenney. Don Mouhin represented the organization on the St. Pat's Council.

AIIE always participates in the Engineering Open House Exhibit held annually.

ASCE Receives Honor from National Chapter

This student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers received a Certificate of Commendation from the national chapter during the year. This commendation honors the club as one of the outstanding chapters in the nation.

This year the student chapter participated in the Engineering Open House and made field trips to nearby construction sites. They were also hosts for the Mid-Continent Conference of the Society of Civil Engineers.

OU founded its student chapter in 1912. The national organization boasts 145 chapters.

Open House Heads ASME's Activities

Focal point for the planning of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was the Engineering Open House on March 13.

A professional and technical society, ASME fosters professional growth in mechanical engineering. The organization plays host to speakers prominent in engineering and shows films at its bi-monthly meetings.

Annual activities include the spring picnic in April of each year and the joint society smoker in November.

Wood Carver-Painter Offers Club Pointers

Baha'i Club of the University of Oklahoma traded pointers with Gary Hillaire, the well-known wood carver and painter from Washington State in its special fall meeting. A new film released by Stanford University called "The New Wind" concerning the Bahai's from all over the world was another learning experience for the organization.

The organization also worked with other Baha'i Clubs around the state—at OSU and Tulsa University.

Monthly Meetings Focus on Major Field

Eta Epsilon is a professional society interested in increasing interest in home economics and its various related fields.

Open to undergraduates, meetings were held each month. This year the club attempted to feature the varied careers available to home economics majors. A particular field was emphasized at each meeting with guest speakers contributing their professional knowledge.

Club Centers on Professional Standards

Eta Kappa Nu is the electrical engineering honor society. This year the organization worked toward improving the professional standards and the courses of instruction offered in this area of study.

Faculty-student luncheons provided members with opportunities to communicate with instructors about how to attain these goals.

Banquets were held in the fall and spring, and the outstanding electrical engineering student was named by President Kenneth Strout. David Smith was vice-president, and Dr. David Todd was faculty sponsor.

Gamma Delta's Project Aids in Orient

A project initiated this year by Gamma Delta was the Service Workday to support the "House of Hope" in Tokyo, Japan. The project was a joint effort of many groups in the world.

Guest speakers this year were Fred A. Shellenbarger, who spoke on "History of Church Architecture" and Preston Trimble who discussed "Problems of Drug Addiction."

Gamma Delta is the International Association for Lutheran Students, although Lutheran Church Membership is not mandatory for membership.

IEEE Spurs Interest with Guest Speakers

The Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers was enlightened by two well-known speakers. On September 24, Dr. W. F. Cronenwelt spoke on "The Effects of Disturbing Radio and Radar Communication by Exploding a Nuclear Device in the Van Allen Belt." In October, Bill Craig from IBM in Endicott, New York spoke on "The Development and Advancement of IBM from 1890 to the Present."

Annual events included projects built for Open House and special projects. Winning the Bindex Award at the last Engineering Open House, IEEE entered its IDIAC computer which took over a year to design and build.

Kappa Epsilon Holds Special Programs

Kappa Epsilon, an organization for women students in pharmacy, held special programs in concurrence with National Pharmacy Week and National Poison Prevention Week. The group was host to a luncheon on Career Day and on Pharmacy Day. Other highlights of the year included a drug abuse and poison prevention education program for children.

As one of several projects, Kappa Epsilon conducted research on cancer in women and entertained Dr. Bottomley, head of cancer research at OU, who discussed the topic.

Band Societies Confer Honors on Celebrities

Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary band fraternity and sorority, respectively, centered their activities around a goal of promoting the existence and welfare of university bands. Awarding Dionne Warwick and Woody Herman honorary memberships was one of the highlights of the year.

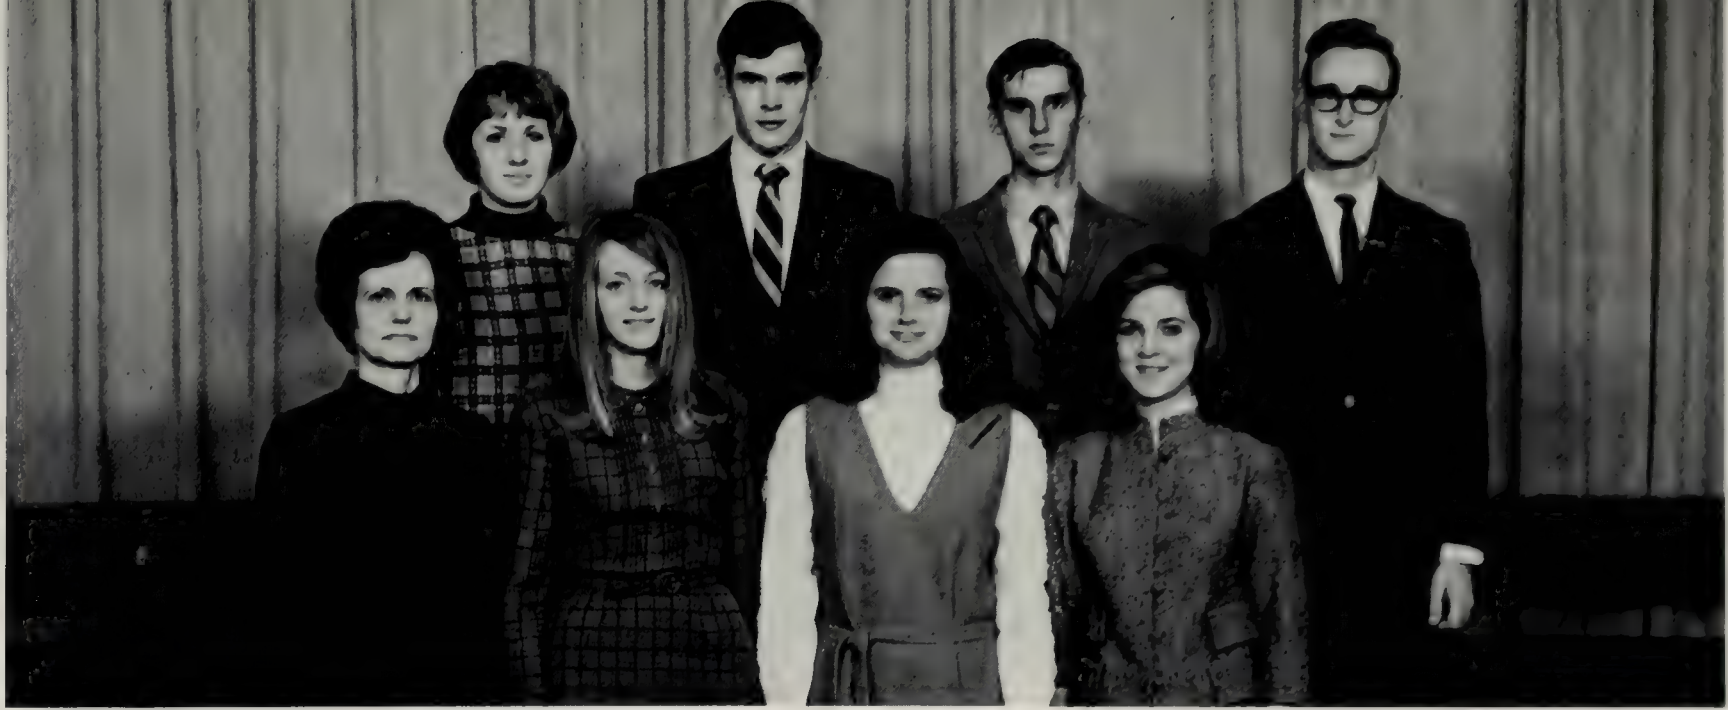

In the fall, several "get acquainted" picnics and a reception honoring seniors of the varsity football squad were co-sponsored by the organizations. During spring semester the honoraries assisted Dr. Gene A. Braught, sponsor, with the band convention.

Lambda Tau Sponsors Colorful Displays

Lambda Tau, honor society of medical technologists, sponsored frequent colorful displays in the botany-microbiology building this year. This group also entered a booth into competition in the annual Science Day.

Lambda Tau works to develop a spirit of co-operation and unity among students entertaining in the fields of medical laboratory technology. To accomplish this end the organization visits laboratories in Oklahoma City and sponsors speakers prominent in medical technology.

First organized at OU in 1948, Lambda Tau requires a grade point average of 2.5 for membership.

Marketing Club Unites Student, Businessman

Marketing Club this year continued to develop interest within the academic community in marketing and related fields. Promoting professional contact between the student and the businessman, the group sponsored a talk on "Management Problems in the Retail Environment" by Foley's of Houston and heard Dr. Marion Phillips, professor of marketing, speak on "The Graduate Program."

Led by Tom Overa, president, and James Kenderdine, sponsor, the group promoted Texaco credit cards and held their annual picnic.

Music Club Highlights Musicale, Speakers

Mu Phi Epsilon, founded at OU in 1922, strives to advance the appreciation of music throughout the country.

All members must have at least a 3.0 and must be enrolled in at least 12 hours of current classwork.

The organization sponsors a musicale

OU Arab Club Holds Contest, Banquet

Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Saud, expert on Libya's Supreme Court, in auditing, spoke on "Economic Development of the Arab World" during the monthly meeting of the Arab Students.

The Organization of Arab Students is currently studying the implementation of Arabic classes in the University curriculum. The classes will be open to all students wishing to attend.

Annual activities of the Arab Club include the Shishkebab picnic in October and the nominating and election of Miss Scheherazade. The banquet is held each year in April.

Student Nurses Hear Military Personnel

The OU Student Nurses Association highlighted their November meeting with talks on nursing services in the military from the Army, Navy and Air Force personnel.

Annual activities included the capping of sophomore nursing students, working at the Red Cross Blood Drive and giving Christmas cards and candy to raise money to finance attendance to the national convention in Miami, Florida.

Open to membership to any nursing major, the Student Nurses Association participated in a Christmas formal given by students at the OU School of Nursing.

The organization was started on the OU campus in 1963.

Professionals Panel Discussion Board

The Petroleum and Geological Engineers' Club, a technical organization, was founded at the University of Oklahoma. This year the primary purpose of the group was to get to know the people in the field and to see their attitudes and accomplishments. Visiting professors and industrial personnel were guest speakers.

The club members were also student members of the Society of Petroleum Engineers, the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers. A student panel discussion with men in the oil industry, Engineers' Open House, and monthly meetings kept the group active this year.

PLM Travels to Hear Land Specialists

The Petroleum Land Management Club was founded at OU in 1958. This year's activities have centered around visits to the Texas organization and land sale as well as to the Ardmore Association of Petroleum Landmen.

Members must be at least a sophomore with a 2.0 grade point average.

Classifying itself as academic-professional, the Petroleum Land Management Club was presided over by Joe Van Auken. Vice-president was Gerald Caldwell; treasurer, Bob J. Justice; and secretary, Wayne Moses.

Phi Delta Chi Has Speakers on Drug Abuse

Phi Delta Chi is a national professional pharmacy fraternity devoted to all aspects of the field of pharmacy and to promoting high professional and ethical standards.

The OP Chapter of Phi Delta Chi, meeting twice monthly, invited guest speakers to discuss drugs and drug abuse problems. This continuing drug program started one year ago. Since that time the group has presented free programs to groups all over the state.

Phi Delta Chi's welcomed interested pharmacy students with a minimum 2.0 grade average.

Physical Therapy Club Visits Institutes

Attempting to acquaint students interested in physical therapy with professional aspects of the field, the OU Physical Therapy Club visited the Cerebral Palsy Center in Norman and the OU Medical Center in Oklahoma City.

As part of the program, speakers involved in professional physical therapy work were honored as guest lecturers, and films were shown. One film was of the rehabilitation process of a traffic accident victim.

Gail Westfall, Carol Scott and Shari Deener served this year as officers.

Pi Epsilon Tau Honors Petroleum Engineers

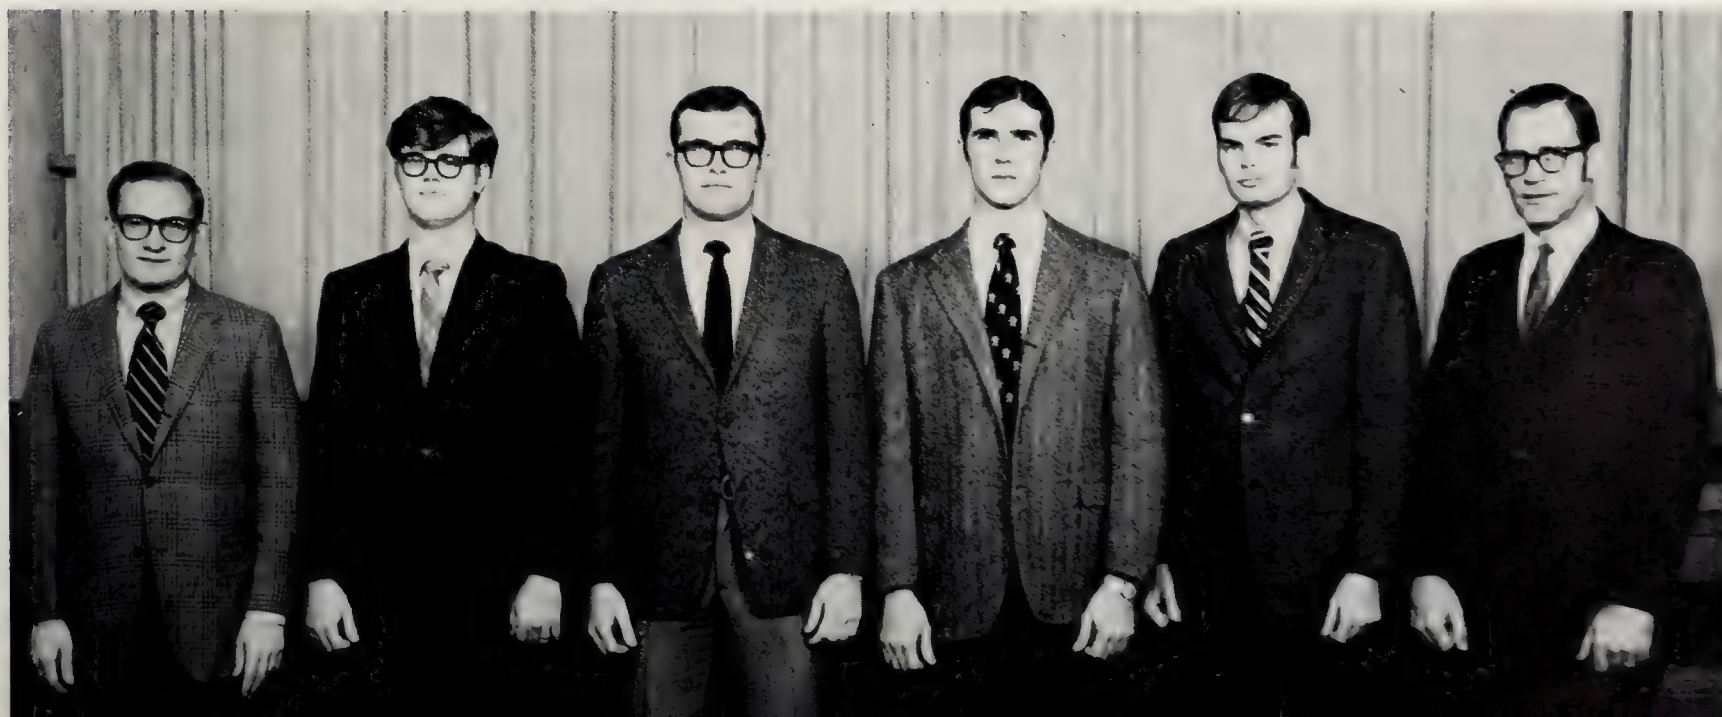

Pi Epsilon Tau, petroleum engineering honorary, was founded on the OU campus in 1947. The organization was created to promote a closer bond between its members and the petroleum industry.

Membership in Pi Epsilon Tau is taken from the top twenty-five percent of the junior class and from the top thirty-three percent of the senior class. A 3.0 grade average is also necessary.

Pi Omega Members Work in Four Centers

Pi Omega service organization was formed to promote friendship and service among university women. It welcomes any woman enrolled in good standing at OU who desires to give aid to the campus and community.

The group meets twice a month and works in four main areas of service: the OU Infirmary, the Cerebral Palsy Center, Central State Hospital, and at a rest home, where a member is required to spend ten hours of service during the semester. Led by Kathy Ward, president, Pi Omega members also gave a May Day Party for children at the Sooner Nursery.

Pi Tau Sigma Gives Conversion Factors

Members of Pi Tau Sigma, honorary professional mechanical engineering fraternity, have printed a booklet of 700 conversion factors for engineers this year. These booklets were presented to all freshman students entering the College of Engineering.

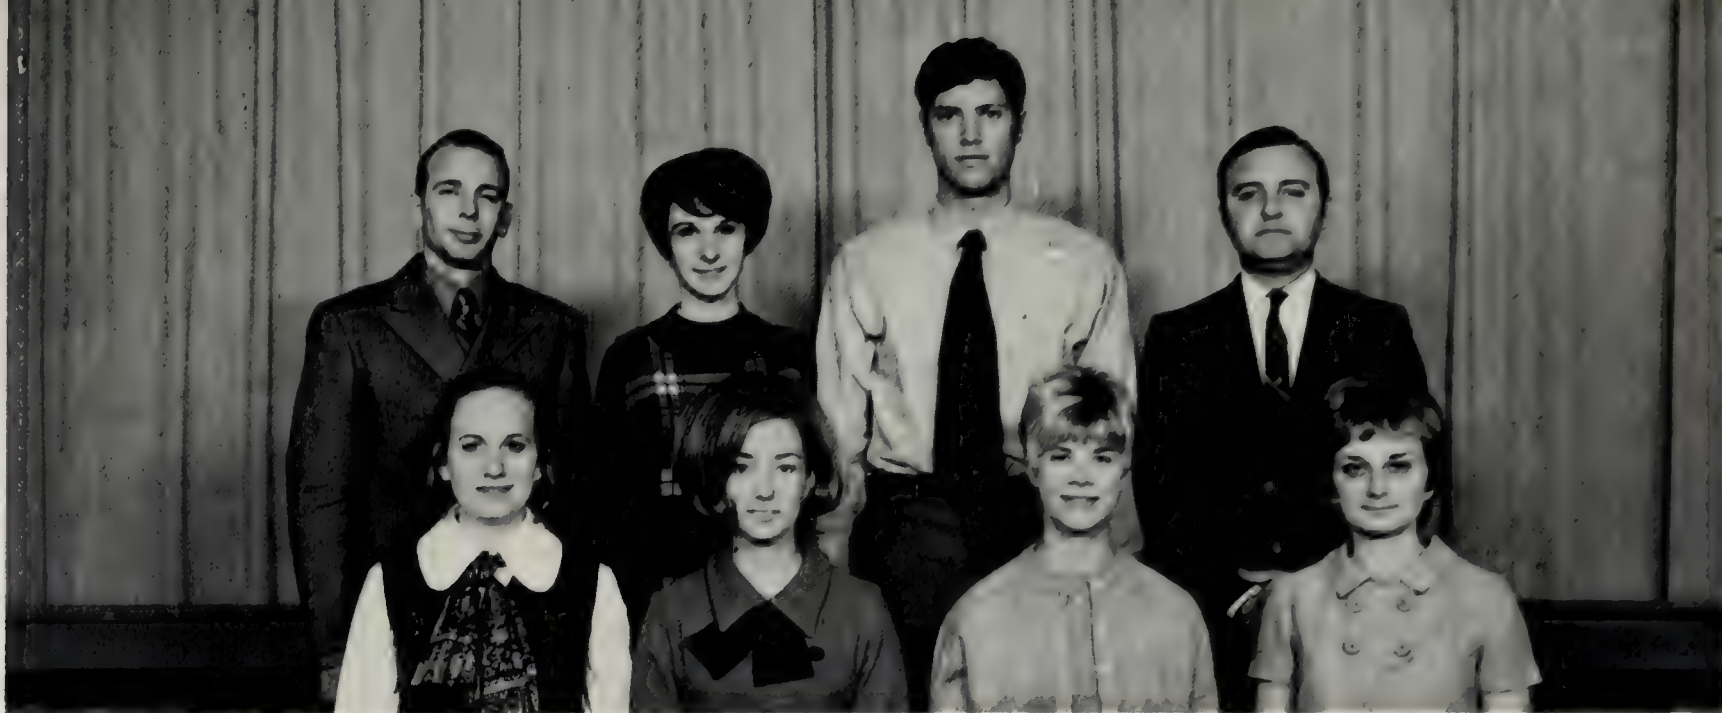

Other activities of the organization included the presentation of a mechanical engineering handbook to the outstanding sophomore engineering student, four faculty-student lunches and the spring banquet. The president of the organization was Edwin Parsons.

SECOND ROW: James E. Kimbrell, LaNita Harmes, John Frank Sherman, Robert N. Earley.

Public Relations Work to Enlarge Study

The Public Relations Student Society of America was organized in the spring of 1969. The main requirement for members is presenting a "B" average or better in public relations courses.

The purpose of PRSSA is to bring a closer relationship between the professionals of Oklahoma and OU public relations students.

Future projects include working toward the enlargement of public relations curriculum, creating a public relations library for the OU School of Journalism and supplying it with current manuals, pamphlets and books pertaining to the field.

This year Jim Kimbrell was the president; Logan Brown kept secretarial records.

Rho Chi Gives Awards to Pharmacy Students

Rho Chi, Gamma Chapter, is the pharmacy honor society. The rigid requirements for membership included completion of 112 hours of the pharmacy curriculum, a 3.0 grade average and membership in the upper 20% of the class.

ing pharmacy students at the Pharmacy Awards Banquet held in the spring.

Founded in 1922 at the University of Michigan, the OU Rho Chi organization has 69 members.

Speech Society Explores Education Research

Sigma Alpha Eta, professional speech therapy organization, sponsored speakers dealing with public school therapists, graduate school preparations, and research work in cerebral palsy.

The main activity for the year was the statewide open house for the speech clinic in February. Also, Sigma Alpha Eta annually sponsors a spring social honoring seniors.

The organization functions with the aim of encouraging professional growth by providing learning experiences not offered in the formal course structure.

Calene Green presided at meetings, and Connie Partlow was secretary.

Earth Sciences Main Interest of SGE

Sigma Gamma Epsilon is a college honorary society encouraging scholarly research and scientific advancement among students with interests in the earth sciences. As such, the society brings to the campus a number of distinguished lecturers to present the results of their research.

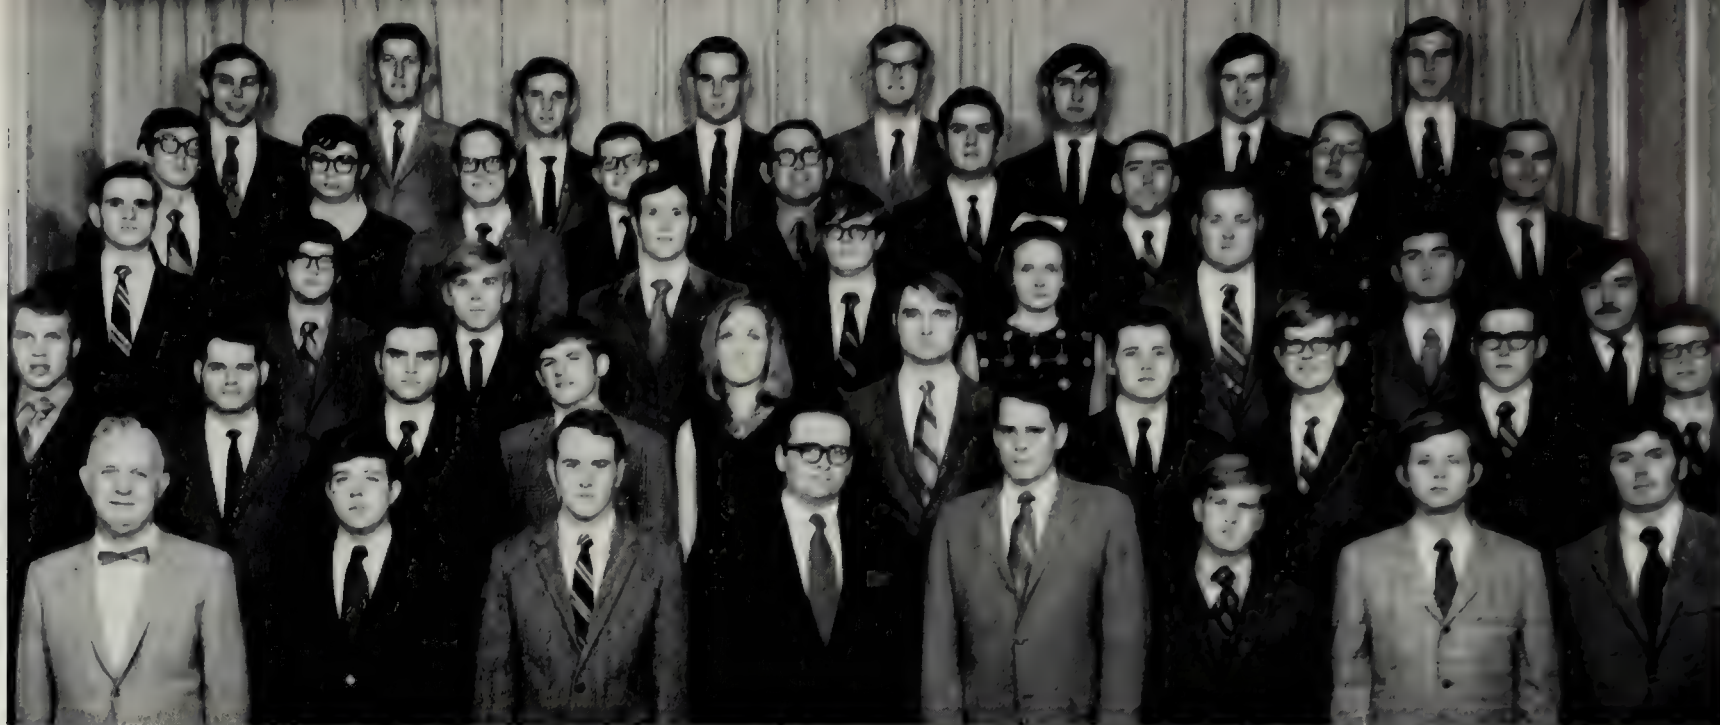

In addition, members of the society are encouraged to write articles on their work for the Compass, a small bulletin published by the society. The society co-sponsors with the geology department a colloquium where students can gain experience presenting results of their research and ideas.

Sigma Tau Constructs Water Fountain

The oldest engineering honorary on campus, Sigma Tau, worked this year toward the construction of a water fountain planned for the area between the engineering buildings. Other activities of the club included guiding visitors through the campus during Engineers'

Open House in the spring.

Sigma Tau promotes unity among the engineering students through recognition of scholarship and high ideals. Qualifications for membership include ranking in the upper one-third of the junior or senior engineering class.

Theta Sigma Phi Hosts Woman Editor

Theta Sigma Phi, professional society for women in journalism, sponsored its 37th annual Matrix Table Banquet in April with the assistance of the Oklahoma City women's professional group.

Meetings were held twice each month, and speakers included Joan Gilmore, women's ed-

Army ROTC: Where Leaders Are

Army ROTC cadets receive leadership training which is not duplicated in any other college course. They learn through classroom work and practical experience on the drill field to organize and lead others. In this way, they acquire qualities of self-discipline, physical stamina and bearing which contribute to success in any career.

Thirty-eight cadets have attended the university during the past year on two- and four-year Army ROTC Scholarships. Each recipient of such a scholarship receives $50 per month, and the Army pays all tuition and book costs for the duration of the scholarship.

Cadet Major Rick Baldrige gains practical experience in the application of military law through participation in a moot court martial.

Leadership Development Course cadets discover it isn't easy as it looks as they prepare for more of the same at summer camp.

Second Lieutenant James F. Gregory and wife, Kathy, cut the cake honoring newly commissioned Army Lieutenants at a reception following commissioning exercises.

Colonel Leroy C. Land, Professor of Military Science

Colonel Leroy Land Assumes Command

Colonel Leroy C. Land assumed command of the University of Oklahoma Army ROTC Group in July 1969. He returned to the United States after four years of Service in Germany and Vietnam.

He and his staff are responsible for training cadets for positions of leadership and responsibility, not only in the military, but in civilian fields as well.

For the past fifty-one years, the Army ROTC has been a part of the tradition and training at the University of Oklahoma.

Officers: LTC Charles Bell, LTC Armando Carrillo, LTC Moyer D. Harris, LTC Robert F. Zeidner, MAJ Thomas E. Cullins, MAJ Forrest Hearn, MAJ James M. Larens, MAJ Edward McDonald, MAJ Doyle D. Taylor, MAJ James K. Woodward, CPT John A. Helmlinger.

Enlisted men: SGM George C. McCombs, MSG Gerard E. Wynkoop, SFC Denver L. Claytor, SFC Harvey E. Pickett, SSG Bobby L. Hartless, SSG Jimmy K. Howard, SSG William R. Pedersen, SSG Willie E. Putman, Jr.

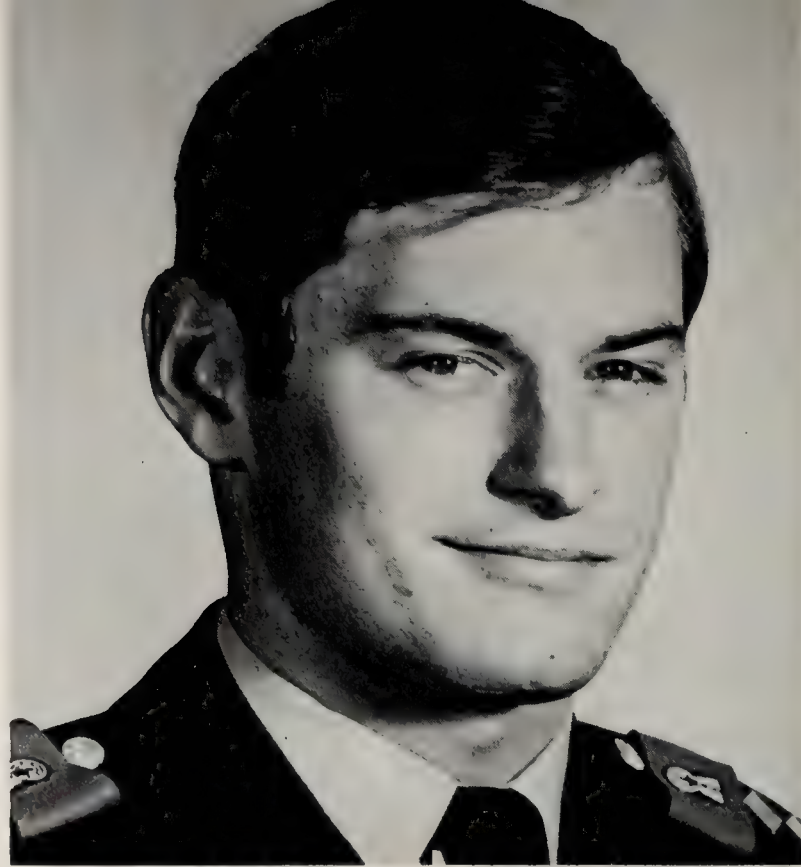

Office staff: Mrs. Elaine Collins, Mrs. Sue Farris, Mrs. Joann Reynolds, Mrs. Betty Ross, Mrs. Cathy Sublett.

Cadet Col. Larry R. Birden, first semester commander

Cadet Col. Jody Lippmann, second semester commander

The Making of an Officer: 1970

The cadet officers who hold the highest positions in the Army ROTC Brigade are selected on the basis of academic and military science grades, military aptitude and leadership ability. These cadets, under the guidance of the Commandant of Cadets, are responsible

As Brigade officers, they are given an opportunity to put into practice the leadership training and executive ability they have received during the course and at summer camp.

Annual Army Ball Held in February

The tradition and pageantry of the Military Ball was highlighted by the coronation of Miss Alida Zwaan as the 1970 Army ROTC Honorary Cadet Colonel. Five finalists were selected by the advanced corps cadets from nominees representing 25 womens' housing units. The Honorary Cadet Colonel was then selected by a vote of the entire Cadet Brigade.

With the honor of their rank Miss Zwaan and her four Lieutenant Colonels also accept certain responsibilities concerning the Army ROTC program at the University of Oklahoma. These responsibilities, which extend throughout their reign of one year, include acting as official hostesses for the Army ROTC, attending weekly drill and representing the Cadet Corps on campus.

Navy ROTC

Offers Instruction

Captain William L. McGonagle was welcomed aboard this year as the new commanding officer of Naval ROTC, as it continued its mission of providing trained and motivated officers for careers in the Navy and Marine Corps.

Midshipmen this year received instruction in naval orientation, history, weapons, leadership, navigation, engineering and traditional military justice. Those electing to pursue a commission in the Marine Corps followed a special course of study in amphibious warfare. Flight-oriented midshipmen gained flying experience and a private pilot's license through the flight indoctrination program.

CAPERs Visits Armed Forces

With a principle aim of providing greater knowledge of the Armed Forces, the Coed Affiliates of Pershing Rifles toured Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri; Fort Sill, Oklahoma and the Little Fall National Convention at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Founded in 1965 at the University of Oklahoma, CAPERs is a military oriented drill team with 24 companies throughout the United States.

AFROTC Named Outstanding Unit

In October, the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps received the Air University's Outstanding Unit Award. The award, which is the highest honor that can be given to an AFROTC detachment, was presented this year to only three other detachments in the nation.

The citation accompanying the award reflects the pursuit of the detachment to select, train, motivate, and commission career oriented second lieutenants capable of accepting command and leadership responsibility.

Colonel Theodore M. Raley is commander of AFROTC.

Noncommissioned officers assisting the detachment are Tech. Sgt. Harry Brown, Tech. Sgt. James Estes, Tech. Sgt. Joseph Baker.

Air Force ROTC Develops Leaders

Air Force ROTC develops leaders through a concentrated program of academics, leadership training and drill. Freshman and sophomore men study world military systems while the junior and senior years are dedicated to the employment of group dynamics techniques in team seminars and briefings. The studies are directed toward current world events and their military implication, space exploration and the role of air power.

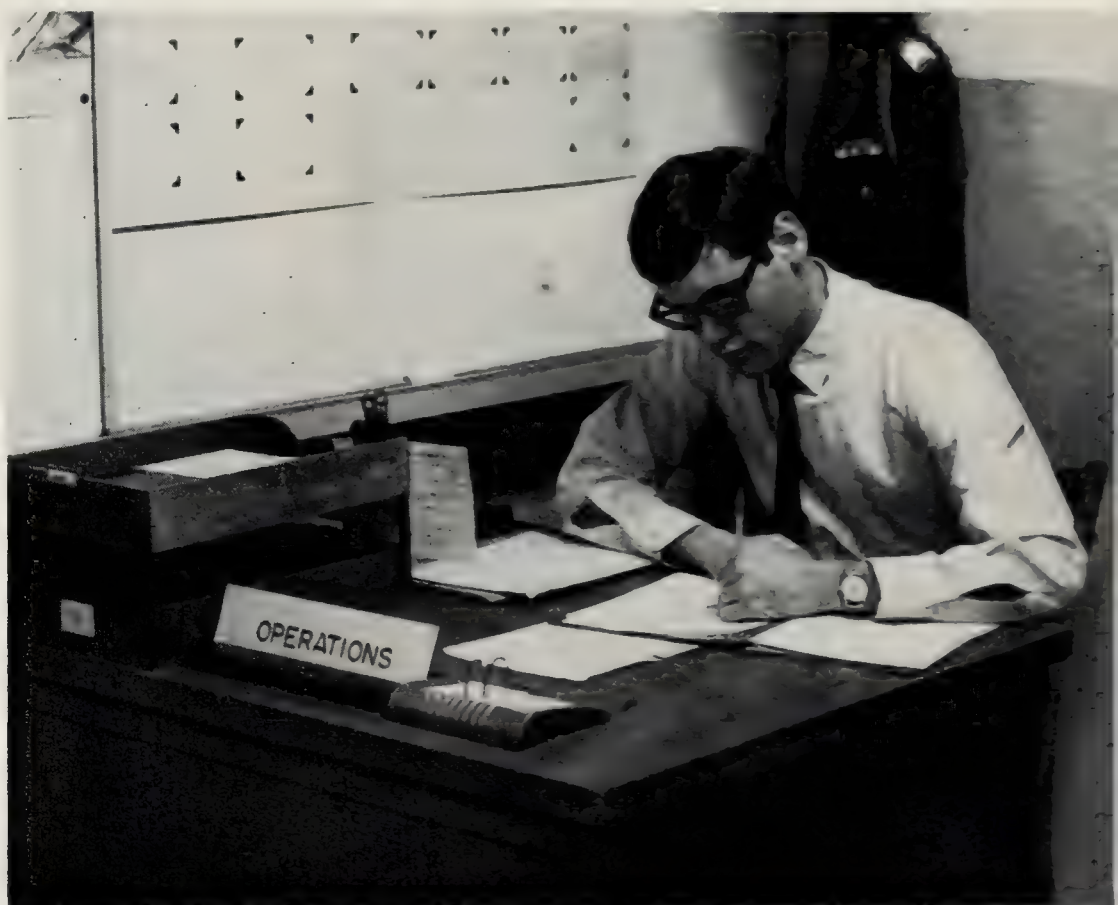

Drill is designed to build self-confidence and discipline, to serve as a learning situation which teaches each man to work as part of a larger unit. A four-week summer camp, designated Field Training Unit, also offers intensive instruction in Air Force doctrine and organization. Free base visitations are also available to AFROTC cadets who wish to visit aerospace installations at Air Force bases across the nation.

Pam Gau Receives 1970 Cadet Title

The 18th annual Air Force ROTC Ball was highlighted this year by the announcement of Pamela Sue Gau as Honorary Cadet Colonel. Miss Gau, who was chosen by a popular vote of the entire Cadet Wing, served as official hostess at all AFROTC functions, and she represented the Cadet Corps at university-sponsored activities. As Honorary Cadet Colonel, Pam was also required to attend all pass and reviews and several weekly drills.

Also announced at the Ball were the Honorary Cadet Lieutenant Colonels. Assisting Miss Gau with her duties were Valerie Dunn, Teresa Wofford, and Marjorie Ratcliff.

Angel Flight Commander Diane Darrough conducts a meeting for girls active in the service organization.

Angel Flight Aids OU Blood Drive

Besides drilling in parades and helping with the annual OU Red Cross Blood Drive, Angel Flight completed its project of sending ditty bags to soldiers in Southeast Asia.

This year Angel Flight combined with Arnold Air Society for several activities. Other events included the initiation banquet and the pledge banquet. The weekly meetings featured AFROTC films and Air Force films.

Founded at the University of Omaha in 1966, Angel Flight now has over 100 chapters in the nation.

Presiding at meetings this year was Susie Will. The group drills at parades and at numerous other events around the campus.

Society Functions To Honor, Serve

The Arnold Air Society is the Air Force ROTC honor society and service organization. It was established to develop potential Air Force officers and to create a more efficient relationship within Air Force ROTC.

Last November the society played "big brother" to several orphans at Oklahoma City's Blazers' hockey games. The children were from areas around the community.

Other service projects included the selling of programs at both football and basketball games, the publishing of a cadet guide and the sponsorship of a model airplane contest in Norman. In this capacity, AAS serves the AFROTC program, the university and the public.

The society's motto reads: "The warrior who cultivates his mind, polishes his arms."

Medicine & Nursing

JAMES L. DENNIS, M.D.
Oklahoma University School of Medicine, 1940

Vice-President for Medical Center Affairs

James L. Dennis, M.D., chief administrative officer of the University of Oklahoma Medical Center and Dean of the School of Medicine since 1964, this year asked to be relieved of the deanship in order to "function more effectively for the good of the entire center" in his position as Vice-President for Medical Center Affairs.

Dr. Dennis' proposal for a reorganization of the administrative structure attests to the growth of the Medical Center to the point that there are now 5 professional schools (the Schools of Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing, Health and Health Related Professions) in addition to the OU Graduate Division in the Medical Sciences and the teaching hospitals and clinics.

A medical educator of national prominence, Dr. Dennis is a member of the National Advisory Commission on Health Facilities; a consultant to the U.S. Public Health Service Division of Health Manpower; and an official examiner of the American Board of Pediatrics.

WILLIAM E. BROWN, D.D.S.
Dean of the School of Dentistry
D.D.S. University of Michigan, 1945
M.S. University of Michigan, 1947

New School Of Dentistry

Detailed planning for the new School of Dentistry at the Medical Center of the University of Oklahoma began July, 1969 when William E. Brown, D.D.S., arrived on the scene from the University of Michigan. A School of Dentistry had been discussed for the State of Oklahoma for the past 18 years, but it was only with the passage of the 1968 bond issue for higher education that the school could become a reality. Following the establishment of the program needs, development of the curriculum began. Special features of this curriculum will include an early orientation to community service and interpersonal relations, an understanding in depth of the prevention of dental diseases, patient contact during the first year, correlation seminars to relate the basic and clinical sciences in a meaningful way, extra-mural experiences in communities throughout the state, and an honors program for senior students.

It is planned to admit the first class of dental students in 1972. Temporary facilities will be used to house 24 students in the first class while at the same time permanent facilities will be under construction to permit the eventual admission of 72 students. These facilities will include an addition to the new Medical Education Building, space in the planned Faculty Facilities for the basic science dental faculty, and a clinical-laboratory-classroom building located in close proximity to the ambulatory wing of the hospital. Flexibility and adaptability to change will be one of the major foci in planning for the facilities.

Aesculapian Awards

The highest honor which can be bestowed upon a faculty member by the student body is the Aesculapian Award, which is given for devotion to and excellence in teaching. Annually, the senior and sophomore classes select two members of the faculty, from the clinical and preclinical years respectively, to receive the award.

All of the nominees and the awardees are honored at the Annual Aesculapian Banquet and Dance sponsored by the Student Council. Through such endeavors, the students express their appreciation for the dedication of their faculty to the education of physicians.

"Education is a flowing and continuous process requiring involvement and participation. Are you aware that this will be a solo journey, sans teacher guidance, most of your adult life?"

Generally, the student of Medicine is dedicated, intelligent and motivated, and his goal has clinical innovations. It is basic that those implementing educational programs should respect and utilize these personal qualities and goals in the design of their programs.

Medical School, unlike Graduate School, is not an indepth experience in a body of knowledge to which the student has had previous acquaintanceship. Thus, requirements of a broad based character and 'the word of the establishment' are parts of the scene."

A. LAURENCE DEE, M.D.
Professor and Chairman
Department of Pathology

"Select the material which is most important to know and understand, present it in a well-organized manner, stimulate student participation, if possible, and insist that students master the subject in more than average fashion. Challenge behavior and knowledge that are rote and are accepted without thought or understanding. Repeat, for emphasis, that which is fundamental and that which observation of actual practice indicates is most poorly retained or understood. Encourage the synthesis of new ideas and behavior from prior knowledge and skills. Insist upon excellence and condemn anything less. Expect the respect of the students and work constantly to deserve it."

These are some of the behaviors which were apparent in the teachers from whom I learned the most. For this reason, they have become principles which I consider important for effective teaching. I have the old-fashioned belief that successful accomplishment may be its own best reward. As a means of presenting a base of information, I believe lectures are valuable. I hate to see them disappear. Informal discussion serves better to complement and supplement lectures than to replace them. In pursuit of these principles, I have been dogmatic and often have been the Devil's Advocate. I fear that at times I have been harsh and demanding, but never, I hope, disinterested."

JAMES A. MERRILL, M.D.
Professor and Head
Department of Gynecology and Obstetrics

School Of Nursing

The School of Nursing, as an integral unit of the University, accepts the University's responsibility in providing higher educational opportunities to students of the State of Oklahoma. The School of Nursing has as its primary purpose the preparation of graduates for professional nursing to contribute essential services to the community health agencies.

The completion of the work for the Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing usually requires four academic years and one summer session. Two years are spent on the Norman campus in general education courses and two years and one summer session are spent on the Medical Center campus in upper division nursing major courses. Students receive their clinical experience in the Hospitals of the University of Oklahoma, Veterans Administration Hospital, Mercy Hospital, Oklahoma City County Health Department and Visiting Nurse Association and Cleveland County Health Department, as well as many other community agencies which are utilized for observational purposes.

Alpha Omega Alpha

This year five outstanding students were selected from the third year class to serve as members in Alpha Omega Alpha, the National Honor Medical Society. The major criteria for choosing these students are: 1) High scholastic achievement fused with 2) Open-mindedness, individuality, originality and promise of intellectual growth; 3) Moral character involving unselfishness, reliability, honesty and appreciation of obligation.

The chapter was established on May 1, 1953 and currently Richard A. Marshall, M.D., Professor of Medicine, is serving as the faculty counselor.

Nursing Council And Delta Alpha

Delta Alpha is the honor society of the University of Oklahoma School of Nursing. The purposes and aims of this society include:

- 1.) recognition of achievement of scholarship of excellent quality.
- 2.) recognition of leadership potential.
- 3.) fostering professional standards.
- 4.) strengthening commitment to the ideals and purposes of the nursing profession.
- 5.) encouraging and supporting research and creative work in nursing.

The Student Council, the executive body for the School of Nursing, is composed of the student body officers, class presidents, Sigma representatives and a faculty advisor.

The Student Council has its function to improve student-faculty relations and provide social and recreational activities for the student body.

The proceeds from a lightbulb sale went for the annual Christmas party and renting the YWCA weekly for recreational activities.

Seniors Nursing Students

The graduating Seniors of 1970 represent the largest class in the history of the OU School of Nursing. Numbering 55, this unprecedented quantity does not diminish the quality of our performance. This past year distinguished itself as one in which unity was achieved without a loss of individualism.

Our senior Delta Alpha members advanced their honorary society into national recognition; a bold new approach revitalized our school paper; student-faculty relationships provided impetus for curriculum change. We have graduated into a new decade, and we along with the decade, contribute hope to the future.

Junior Nursing Students

The Junior Class can be described as a reflection of the times striving to gain new goals for the future. Despite the burdened hours of work and study, many of the students were motivated to participate in the various nursing organizations, to help with numerous projects; and to serve on faculty committees.

Perhaps in every junior's mind there lurked confusion and discontent yet they went on hoping to communicate and give stability to those for whom they cared. The consequence of our learning and the influence of those who have taught us have evoked the unified feeling that "what lies behind us and what lies before us in time are tiny matters compared to the greatest distance we have yet to cover—that which lies within us."

"Good, the next best thing."

Physical Therapy Students

The Class of 1970, outstanding in its own right, is the largest graduating class in the history of the School of Physical Therapy. We are comprised of a group of true individuals, however the common class objective is to become competent Physical Therapists by the time graduation rolls around.

The long days in lecture and lab often seem much shorter than they actually are because of the casual, yet conscientious atmosphere in which classes are conducted. Having experienced sore muscles, sunburns and bruises while practicing procedures later used on patients, we soon learn to appreciate accuracy in treatment application.

During the year we all came to recognize the importance of hard work and practice (and sometimes of a good party) in becoming competent Physical Therapists.

TOP ROW: Mark E. Acker, Maude L. Ackerman, Carolyn Sue Brady, Diana Davis, Claudia Dixon. SECOND ROW: Jan Francis, Susie Granoff, Shirley Ann Harris, Susan Henry, Phyllis Jones. THIRD ROW: Martha Kendall, Bonnie Kent, Linda Mecham, Merilee Mooney, Nancy Myers. FOURTH ROW: Trijenna Nelson, Helen Pratt, Leslee Randel, June Silva, Candy Sneed, Bill Southworth. BOTTOM ROW: Dennis Spillane, Linda Stowell, Rose Mary Thomas, Susan Vest, Delores Williams, Mary Worthen.

A form of therapeutic exercise, Progressive Resistive Exercise (PRE) is a valuable method used in regaining lost strength. The N-K Table and Dumbbell exercises are 2 commonly used forms of PRE.

Medical Technology Students

Doyle Williams, Langston.

As we look back over our year of training in Medical Technology we can see all the good and bad times, the fun and the work. And work we did. The new Coulter S in hematology lab helps the work load but some of us will remember the weeks when everything was run in duplicate so the new "machine" could be calibrated.

Many hours were also spent making ceramics to raise money for our annual trip to the National Convention. This year it is in Detroit, Michigan and we are all looking forward to it.

Our formal training will end in August followed by the National Registry examination.

Paula Casey, Central State; Ann Kniffen, OCLA.

Elizabeth (Cissy) Davis, OSU.

Barbara Wilson, Central State; Sarah Pollard, Miles College.

Carol Estes, OU; Lois Nail, Northeastern.

The Dietetic Interns

The dietetic interns were involved in many different aspects of diet therapy and institutional management. Besides their work experience at University Hospital and Children's Memorial Hospital, they are affiliated at the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation, Central State Mental Hospital at Norman, and V. A. Hospital.

The year proved to be a busy but interesting one, with new ideas and new experiences presented.

Student Council

The Student Council of the School of Medicine is the elected government of the student body. Members include the four class presidents, two representatives from each class and the President of the student body. In addition, a faculty member serves as Advisor to the Council.

The purposes of the Student Council are to foster the ideals and traditions of the medical profession, promote the interests of the School of Medicine, coordinate activities within the student body and to promote cooperation and understanding between faculty and students.

With the institution of the Academic Council, the Student Council has been given new responsibilities. It is charged with the selection of student representatives to serve on the committees and sub-committees of the Academic Council. This is an important obligation to both faculty and students. The Council is trustee of the Honor System and establishes guidelines and procedures for it. In addition, the Council sponsors the Aesculapian Awards annual banquet and dance, the Gridiron and the student-faculty smokers.

Student American Medical Assoc.

This past year the Oklahoma SAMA Chapter has been doubly honored by being selected the Outstanding Chapter in Region VI and by serving as an example of what the ideal SAMA Chapter should be in the booklet SAMA 69-70, which was distributed to all medical schools across the country. Oklahoma was also selected as one of the five sites for the 1971 Regional Medical Education Conferences to serve primarily the midwestern U.S. SAMA chapters. The highlight this past fall was our annual SAMA-OSMA banquet and dance with guest speaker, Ed Martin, a fourth year medical student at Kansas who is the National President of SAMA. SAMA's most controversial and most successful projects this past year were the Sex Education and Drug Abuse programs established through the Community Health Committee, the SAMA Program Series, and our SAMA newsletter, the SAMA Menstrual.

SAMA EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE: Bill Downham, Treasurer; Doug Smith, Vice-President; Peggy Wisdom, Secretary; Joe Fagan, President.

As a gesture of good will and in recognition of the rivalry between Kansas and Oklahoma we made Ed an Honorary OKIE.

New Standards In Medical Education

The stark contrast shown by the illustrations tells the story of what happened to Medical Education in Oklahoma on January 5, 1970 when students attended their first classes in the new Basic Sciences Education Building. It is a story which is being followed with great interest by medical educators all over America.

The concept of a multidisciplinary facility for physician education is not a new one—it was first suggested by Chauncey Leake about 40 years ago. Although a few other such facilities have been built during the past few years, the Oklahoma model is unique in several respects. Ours is a building which is not wedded to a particular curriculum format; it is flexible enough to accommodate the continuing evaluation and modification of the medical curriculum which we intend to do.

State bird.

Hawk Commander—A Tough Bird From Aero Commander

It was born out on Route 66 in rugged flat lands, once settled by a group of pioneers, who called the place Bethany.

Bethany is the headquarters of Aero Commander, which turns out the Hawk Commanders®, and Shrike Commanders™. The twin-engine tough birds. They've flown Oklahoman's workmanship and Oklahoma ruggedness all over the world. Maybe you would like to get in (or grow in) the field of engineering and aerodynamics. And, if you'd sooner stay a Sooner as you are doing it, we can give you that chance. Just write Aero Commander, General Aviation Divisions North American Rockwell, 5001 North Rockwell Avenue, Bethany, Oklahoma 73008.

A good way to take off—without leaving home.

SERVICE STATIONS

...for people

...on the *move!

This state's future lies in the hands of the graduates of The University of Oklahoma. Tomorrow's leaders promise change, promise growth and promise an ever active environment for Oklahoma.

Change, growth, activity . . . whatever you will call it, it's really people . . . on the move. Demanding people who have things to accomplish, worlds to move, and people in a rush to get things done.

In the future, as in the past, Champlin Petroleum Company will proudly supply gasolines and other fine petroleum products for a growing state. That's what Champlin is all about: unexcelled service and products for all the people of Oklahoma.

Champlin Service Stations . . . for people on the move!

At Kerr-McGee... ENERGY Is Our Business

Born in the oil fields of Oklahoma, Kerr-McGee has grown steadily through the years and is now internationally recognized for its success in finding and producing natural resources, including the four basic sources of energy — oil, gas, uranium and coal.

Kerr-McGee's world-wide operations are directed from headquarters in Oklahoma City. Throughout the state, Kerr-McGee employs more than 1,900 Oklahomans. We are proud of our Oklahoma heritage.

THESE FORMER OU STUDENTS FOUND A CAREER AT PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

why they feel they chose wisely*

"No need to become antiquated technically... seminars and short courses provide access to latest technology, making professional performance possible"—Burgett. "There's real challenge in swift-paced technical change"—Nistetter. "You sharpen your own skills while helping provide an essential public service"—Howard.
